WITH THE REAUTHORIZATION OF THE VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN ACT (VAWA) IN 2013, LTBB ENHANCES DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, VICTIM RIGHTS ACT, STALKING AND PERSONAL PROTECTION ORDERS STATUTES

Submitted by the Human Services Department

The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) was enacted in 1994 and reauthorized in 2013 to include special criminal domestic violence jurisdiction for tribes. Historically, tribal courts were not able to prosecute non-tribal perpetrators of domestic violence. VAWA of 2013 changed this.

With the passing of the reauthorized VAWA of 2013, a tribal task force was formed, consisting of Human Services, Victim Support Services, Tribal Court, the Health Clinic, Prosecutor's Office, Legal Department and Tribal Council.

Domestic Violence, Victim Rights Act, Stalking and Personal Protection Orders statutes were revised to strengthen our criminal justice system and provide safety to tribal citizens. Provisions of VAWA were added to existing statutes to comply with the rights to defendants and due process. One of these rights includes a fair cross section of the community for a jury pool. The Department of Human Services through the Victim Support Services Program and Tribal Court have been providing training to government staff and casino employees. These staff will comprise the jury "VAWA Signing" continued on page 24.

LTBB Interim Chairperson Regina Gasco-Bentley signs newly revised Domestic Violence, Victim Rights Act and Personal Protection Orders statutes into law on March 6, 2015. Gasco-Bentley is surrounded by members of the LTBB Human Services Department, the LTBB Victim Support Services, the LTBB Tribal Court, the LTBB Health Department, the LTBB Prosecutor's Office, the LTBB Legal Department, the LTBB Law Enforcement Department, the LTBB Tribal Council, the LTBB Child Welfare Commission and the LTBB Executive Office. ## LITTLE TRAVERSE BAY BANDS OF ODAWA INDIANS TO BEGIN PROSECUTION OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CASES UNDER THE VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN ACT OF 2013

Submitted by Gregory G. Justis, Domestic Violence Coordinator in the LTBB Tribal Court

The Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians (LTBB) has become the first tribe in Michigan – and amongst the first in the nation – to adopt the Violence Against Women Act of 2013 (VAWA), allowing the tribe to exercise criminal jurisdiction over crimes of domestic and dating violence regardless of the perpetrator's Indian or non-Indian status.

"Domestic violence is not traditional," said Gregory Justis, Attorney and Domestic Violence Coordinator for the LTBB Tribal Court. "The Tribe's ability to address domestic and dating abuse committed against its own citizens, regardless of the offender's status, is tremendously important for both survivors and the community. By adopting VAWA, the government has empowered the Tribal Court to ensure that survivors are protected and that offenders are held accountable."

Research shows that American Indian women residing on Indian reservations suffer domestic violence at a far higher rate than women of other ethnicities and locations.

Roughly one in five Native American women will experience domestic violence, and one quarter of the cases, violence involving a spouse are committed by a non-Indian perpetrator. Historically, prosecution of these cases has been challenging due to the complex jurisdiction of tribal, state and federal authorities as well as court precedent.

VAWA expands the jurisdiction of tribal authorities to allow prosecution of non-Indian offenders who commit acts of domestic violence against Indian victims or who violate protection orders when the protected person is an Indian. Offenders can be prosecuted under the new law if they have a connection to the tribe such as living or working in LTBB's Indian country or being involved in a relationship with a member of LTBB or a non-member Indian residing in LTBB's Indian country. To exercise this jurisdiction, the tribe must guarantee certain rights to defendants similar to those provided by the United States Constitution such as the right to an attorney and effective assistance of counsel as well as the availability of trial by juries which include non-Indians.

LTBB Appellate Court Vacates LTBB Tribal Court's Dismissal of Recall Election Challenge and Remands the Case Back to the LTBB Tribal Court

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

On March 6, 2015, the LTBB Appellate Court heard evidence in Case No. A-025-1214 Fred Kiogima v LTBB Election Board.

On December 1, 2014, former LTBB Tribal Chairperson Fred Kiogima and former LTBB Vice Chairperson Deb DeLeon filed a complaint and election challenge (Case No. C-205-1214) against the LTBB Election Board in LTBB Tribal Court following the November 17, 2014 recall election, which removed them from office and placed them on paid leave of absence pending the certification of the recall

LTBB Pro Tempore Judge Patrick Shannon dismissed the case in his ruling dated December 14, 2014. He wrote, "After considering Defendants' Motion to Dismiss and Plantiffs' Response, and reviewing any applicable case law, the Court notes that the LTBB Appellate Court has issued an opinion interpreting the language at issue that is controlling in this matter. Specifically, in Harrington v. LTBB Election Bd., No. A-019-1011 (LTBB Ct. App. 2012), the Appellate

Being Odawa is all about Freedom

The freedom to be a part of a people, who with integrity and pride, still have and speak our language. The freedom in common with all other Odawak the customs, culture and spirituality of our ancestors. The freedom we have today we will bring to the future through unity, education, justice, communication and planning. We will reach out to the next seven generations by holding to cultural values of Wisdom, Love, Respect, Bravery, Honesty, Humility and Truth. We will utilize our tribal assets to provide the necessary tools to become successful, hard-working community members who proudly represent our culture. With these values we will move the tribe forward.

JUDICIAL BRANCH

THANKS TO MR. GEORGE LEWIS FOR HIS LONG-TIME SERVICE TO WAABSHKI MIIGWAN DRUG COURT AND WELCOME TO NEW DEFENSE Attorney Mr. Matthew Lesky

Submitted by the LTBB Tribal Court

Mr. George Lewis has been a valued member of the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team for the past five years. During this time, Mr. Lewis has been a very effective and capable defense attorney and team member. Some examples of Mr. Lewis' tireless advocacy for his clients and commitment to the team include providing outstanding representation and going beyond the call of duty to help clients on their road to sobriety. In short, Mr. Lewis has been an invaluable member of the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team. We hope he continues to volunteer by joining us for team meetings as his retirement permits.

When Mr. Lewis gave his six months' notice of retirement from the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team in mid-2014, the Court knew it had big shoes to fill. As a part of the search for Mr. Lewis' replacement, the Court Administrator looked for attorneys in Charlevoix, MI, and Petoskey, MI, to fill Mr. Lewis' position. Due to the fact the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court was asking attorneys to volunteer up to 156 hours per year of their time, the Court Administrator was unable to secure an attorney willing to fill Mr. Lewis' position.

Thankfully, Mr. Matthew Lesky has a strong commitment to the health and well-being of our community. Although he decided not to reapply for the position of LTBB Tribal Prosecutor, he still wanted to participate on the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court. Therein, he agreed to fill Mr. Lewis' position of defense attorney on the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team, an offer the Court was happy to accept.

Mr. Lesky is a natural fit to serve as defense attorney on the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team. Throughout his service as Tribal Prosecutor, Mr. Lesky provided invaluable service beyond what was asked of him to assist clients seeking to improve their lives and community. Mr. Lesky, thus, brings with him critical institutional knowledge of the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court's inner-workings and on sobriety issues in general, both things which will serve him well as the Court's defense attorney.

Apart from bringing crucial institutional knowledge and a passion for assisting clients with him to his new role as Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court defense attorney, Mr. Lesky's renewed service to the Team will help the Court realize much-needed savings. Indeed, with full knowledge of the financial difficulties faced by the LTBB Government, Mr. Lesky agreed to donate up to 156 hours of his time for Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court team meetings while only billing the Court for direct client assistance, which represents a 50% savings for the Court on the position! In an effort to save more money, the Court is looking for grants to fully fund the position in the future. Until then, we are grateful for Mr. Lesky's dedication to serve people suffering from substance abuse in our community.

The Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court Team and Court are eternally thankful for Mr. Lewis' many years of service. We are all equally excited to welcome Mr. Lesky as defense attorney in a move which saves the Court and the LTBB Government money while retaining someone with crucial institutional knowledge of the Waabshki Miigwan Drug Court and a commitment to serving the LTBB Community.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

From the Executive Office

As we end the winter months, it is nice to hear the birds chirping and see all the people gathering sap and making syrup. Big plans are on the horizon for spring and summer, our Archives and Records expansion will commence. After seeing the concept renderings of our future facilities, I'm confident our reinvestment in our community will be a success. We have expanded the Youth Services Department, and it is now operating a full afterschool program for youth ages six and up. We have a homework lab and are moving ahead on programming for summer as the department expands to offer a full day program. Our Tribal Council was successful in passing a Domestic Violence Statute and Victims' Rights statute for our tribe. A task force was formed to incorporate the changes into tribal law. We now have the ability to prosecute non-Natives for abuse which occurs on tribal lands. I can't express how much I appreciate serving each and every one of you. My heart goes out to each of you and your families with blessings of good health.

EPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

TAX AGREEMENT INFORMATION

By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce Assis-

The Department of Commerce (DOC) would like to remind the tribal membership about a few items pertaining to the Tax Agreement.

First of all, I cannot express enough how important it is to keep your address updated.

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is to officially change your address with the Enrollment Department. This must be done in writing and as soon as possible.

The DOC cannot and will not change the estimated beginning date (EBD) (which is always the first in any given month) of a member's tax exempt status (see example below).

It is YOUR responsibility to update your address on file with the Enrollment Department. This date will affect how many months you will be able to file the Annual Resident Tribal Member Sales Tax Credit (Tribal Form 4013). It is to your benefit to be able to file for the maximum number of months for this credit.

tkeshick@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov

In addition, being an RTM will allow you to purchase large items such as vehicles, boats, motorcycles and off the road vehicles tax exempt.

There is a form that needs to be filled out called a "Request for TCE" (Tribal Certificate of Exemption), which is available in my office. Once this form is completely filled out, I will then issue the RTM the actual Tribal Certificate of Exemption (Tribal Form 3998).

If you plan on purchasing any of these items, please contact me FIRST, and I will be happy to get you the form via e-mail or fax. I am also able to fax the TCEs to the dealership you are doing busi-

Being an RTM will also allow you to be tax exempt on utility bills such as phone, cable, gas, propane, electricity, satellite and cellular service. If you have not filled out a Utility Provider Survey, please contact the DOC, and I will be happy to get one to you.

Also, another important thing to remember is if you do move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA), your RTM status does NOT take effect until the first day of the following month.

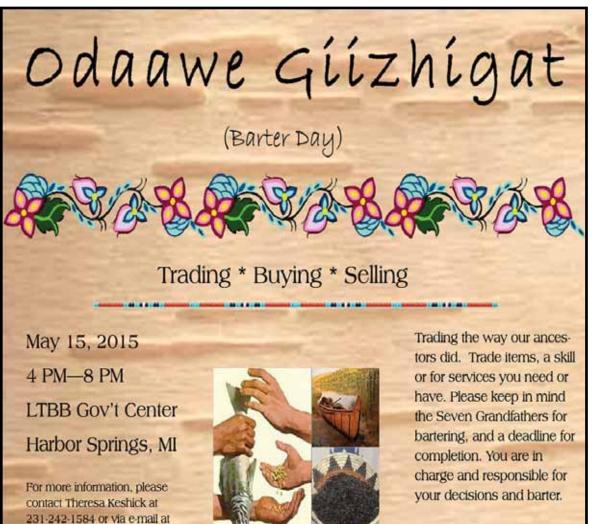

Example: I move to Petoskey, MI, (inside the TAA) on September 5, 2010. My RTM (EBD) status begins October 1, 2010. All updates are sent to the State of Michigan as close to the end of the month as possible.

The LTBB Tax Agreement is viewable on the State of Michigan's website at:

http://tinyurl.com/ ltbbtaxagr

If you have any other questions pertaining to the Tax Agreement, I can reached at my office at 231-242-1584 or via e-mail at tkeshick@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

Hosted by the LTBB Department of Commerce

Resident Tribal Members are exempted from the following Michigan tax-

- 1. Sales Tax (currently 6% of retail price) via Form 4013
- 2. Use Tax (currently 6% of purchase price)
- 3. Income Tax (4.35% of Adjusted Gross Income) 4. Michigan Business Tax (currently 4.95%)
- 5. *Motor Fuel Tax (currently, 36.5 cents per gallon unleaded and 32.6
- cents per gallon on diesel) 6. *Tobacco Product Tax (currently $2 per pack of cigarettes)

  - * All LTBB Tribal Members are entitled to the exemption on fuel and *The Motor Fuel and Tobacco Product Tax exemption is available at Biindigen (tribal convenience store) located at 2169 U.S. 31 North in Petoskey, MI. *The Motor Fuel Tax exemption is also available at the BP station on the south side of Petoskey, MI, near the Big Boy restaurant.

Please note: Exemption for tobacco and fuel is for LTBB Tribal Members' sole consumption ONLY!

IMPORTANT REMINDER: TRIBAL MEMBERS ARE NOT ALLOWED TO USE THEIR TRIBAL ID SWIPE CARDS FOR PURCHASES OF NON-MEMBERS NOR ARE THEY ALLOWED TO LEND THEIR CARDS OUT TO ANYONE.

The current limit on tobacco purchases is four cartons per week per tribal citizen age 18 and over. The same applies to all other tobacco products (OTP) packaged in similar fashion.

ATTENTION ALL RESIDENT TRIBAL MEMBERS (RTMs)

If you are planning to purchase a vehicle, ORV or plan on doing any home improvements to your principal place of residence, YOU NEED TO CONTACT ME FIRST before making the actual purchase(s). You must fill out the "Request for TCE" form located on the LTBB website or by contacting my office. I will then issue you a "Tribal Certificate of Exemption" for such purchases. The tribe no longer uses the Refund Method, as indicated in the monthly newsletter, as of January 1, 2008. If you've already made a purchase, there is no recourse! If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. Thank you. - Theresa Keshick at 231-242-1584.

TAX AGREEMENT REMINDER

When moving into the LTBB Tax Agreement Area, in order to become a Resident Tribal Member, you must change your address in writing at the Enrollment Department located in the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI. Your RTM status will take effect on the first day of the following month in which you moved.

Family Language Game Night

Submitted by the Gijigowi Language Department

Aanii kina gwaya (hello everybody)! Family Language Game Night on March 10, 2015 was a success!

The Language Department tried a different venue this time and held the event at the Wasnodeke Community Center for a change of atmosphere in a different part of the community. It worked out fairly well, but with two game stations going on at the same time, it was a bit wild and loud in the small space.

group prayer in Anishinaabemowin. We then split into two groups of beginners and intermediate language learners. Each language instructor, Gwen, Carla and Netawn designed games for both groups, and the groups rotated to each game station. Carla's game was a physical game, which required quick thinking about animal terms. Gwen's game was technology-based using numbers, colors and nouns. Netawn's game was an old school Pictionary game with singular and plural nouns.

Everybody had a blast, and some said it was the best

The Language Department creates the games based on the most effective ways to learn a second language.

Don't miss out next time; all levels of language learners are highly encouraged to attend, including beginners. Watch the Odawa Trails for upcoming activities, classes or

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Living Awake: Self-Care Ideas

Editor's note: The following article has been adapted by Ann T. Holland LPC-S, NCC, National Certified Counselor for Anishnaabe Life Services.

I would love to hear from you and know which of these ideas works well for you.

You may contact me at 231-242-1640.

Self-care is easily overlooked, and much needed.

Here are some suggestions.

Miigwetch and much gratitude for allowing me to serve you!

Annie

There is not one solution; the solution is many strategies working together.

Accept and/or ask for help from friends and family. Make a list of how people can help.

Laugh. Comedies, comedians, friends and children can all make us laugh.

Exercise: Walk, hike, run, dance, play soccer, swim, play basketball, play tennis, lift weights, hula hoop, ping pong, ski, snowshoe, do yoga, do Thai Chi, bowl, play baseball, bike and snowboard; these are all healthy activities. Also, bringing along a little child will just increase the joy!

Sleep, nap and rest.

Diet and nutrition: Drink water and eat healthy soul food that makes you feel good. Not instant gratification food, but long-term food.

Mindfulness and being in the present moment: Guided meditation, meditation class, restorative yoga, candles, drawing, painting, playing with children, books, music and aromatherapy are some ideas to try.

Honor your Spiritual Self: Go to church, pray, get in nature, meditate and volunteer.

Use helping professionals: Counselors, psychologists, psychiatrists, massage therapists, acupuncture and support groups.

Personal Care: Haircuts, bath, exfoliate, lotion, date with self, nail care, novels and magazines

Home Care: Deep clean, sort through items and only keep what is useful or special, and sage and make your home a peaceful sacred environment.

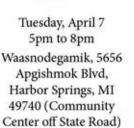

Creative outlet: Concerts, play instruments, sing, listen to music, dance, watch dance, make videos, paint, draw, sew, knit, craft, build and work with wood.

Nature: Forests, beach, fields, garden, house plants, rock walls, mountains, rivers, valleys, oceans, green houses, deserts and canyons.

Find animals: Horseback riding, farm animals, humane society, pond animals and pets.

Adventure: Drive away, take a vacation, go on a retreat, camping, sky diving, bungee jumping and rock climbing.

Leaders Across Michigan Convene to Improve Native American Health

Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan, Inc.

Editor's note: The following is an Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan press release.

Traverse City, MI – On January 6 and 7, 2015, the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan (ITCM) held a meeting with leaders from six federally-recognized tribes and the American Indian Health and Family Services Agency in Detroit, MI, to discuss plans to improve the health of Native Americans across Michigan.

The meeting served as an initial kick-off for REACH-Journey to Wellness, an initiative to prevent long-term diseases like diabetes, high blood pressure and heart disease by encouraging exercise and healthy eating as well as lowering commercial tobacco use among Native Americans in Michigan.

In October 2014, ITCM was awarded three years of funding for REACH- Journey to Wellness by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services as part of their Racial and Ethnic Approaches to Community Health (REACH) initiative.

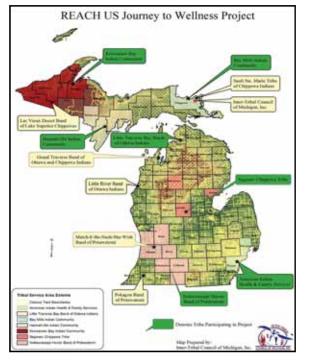

"Native Americans in Michigan suffer from some of the highest rates of obesity and chronic illnesses—like heart disease and diabetes—and also have disproportionately high rates of commercial tobacco use. By focusing on chronic disease prevention, REACH- Journey to Wellness has the power to positively change the health and quality of life of Native Americans in Michigan," said Noel Pingatore, ITCM Principal Investigator.

The following tribes and one agency will be leading local REACH- Journey to Wellness initiatives: The Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe, the Nottawaseppi Band of Huron Potawatomi, the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community, the Hannahville Indian Community, the Bay Mills Indian Community and the American Indian Health and Family Services Agency in Detroit, MI. Over the next three years, they will work together with their local communities to affect change—from passing commercial tobacco-free policies to enhancing worksite wellness programs and establishing local farmer's markets—which will have a long-lasting positive impact and drive down the chronic disease rates among Native Americans.

"With leaders and key tribal health staff from tribal communities traveling from all around the state in the middle of winter to attend, this meeting was a truly special occasion. We were thrilled to see so many valued tribal health staff come to the table to address the health needs of Native Americans in Michigan through their participation in REACH -Journey to Wellness," said Cathy Edgerly, ITCM Project Manager.

The Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan, Inc. is a 501©(3) non-profit corporation duly organized under a State Charter filed April 16, 1968. It represents 11 of the 12 federally recognized tribes in Michigan: Bay Mills Indian Community, Hannahville Indian Community, Keweenaw Bay Indian Community, Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe, Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians, Lac Vieux Desert Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians, Match-E-Be-Nash-She-Wish (Gun Lake Tribe), Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians and the Nottawaseppi Band of Huron Potawatomi.

Did you know...

3 in 10 teen girls in the U.S. will get pregnant at least once before the age of 20?

During 2011, there were almost 11,000 teen births in Michigan between the ages of 15-19, and 112 births to girls under the age of 12! That means our kids are having kids too soon! Most teens must raise their child alone and with little income. These statistics are present despite the  $\frac{1}{2}$  credit requirement for sex education in the schools.

The most recent high school surveys have reported at least 47% of students have had sex.

Unfortunately, 1 in 3 adolescents in the U.S. will be the victim of physical, sexual, emotional or verbal abuse from a dating partner. This is higher than any other type of youth violence.

What can we do in our community to change these statistics?

Our tribal Health Department offers education and mentoring on healthy relationships, proud choices, self-esteem and the prevention of teen pregnancy, HIV and STD's. There is also a lesson on the importance of continuing education and applying for college.

PARENTS: We encourage you to discuss this opportunity with your kids and to consider an appointment. We have many ways in which they can learn this material either on an individual basis, with a few close friends or in small groups. The setting in which the learning takes place can be creative and combined with traditional teachings.

Enrollment has incentives!! Please inquire by calling tribal health: Trista Paone at 231-838-5761 or Cathy Gibson at 231-242-1601. Ask about the Tribal Personal Responsibility Education Program or TPREP!

LTBB HEALTH DIRECTOR AND LTBB SAFETY DIRECTOR ATTEND Homeland Security Training

Submitted by the Health Department

As part of our Emergency Response Team, LTBB Health Director Sharon Sierzputowski and LTBB Safety Director Susan Gasco recently completed training offered by the Center for Domestic Preparedness (CDP) in Anniston, AL.

The CDP is operated by the United States Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency and is the federally-chartered Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) training facility in the signed to give federal, state, tribal and local officials' information on how to best use and manage the Strategic National Stockpile in response to a terrorist attack, natural disaster or technological accident.

This training greatly reinforces our need to stay prepared in the event of any incident which can affect our lives and the safety and health of our tribal nation.

The CDP develops and delivers advanced training for emergency response providers, emergency managers and other government officials from state, local and tribal governments. The CDP offers more than 40 training courses focusing on incident management, mass casualty response and emergency response to a catastrophic natural disaster or terrorist act. Training at the CDP campus is federally funded at no cost to state, local and tribal emergency response professionals or their agency.

Resident training at the CDP includes healthcare and public health courses at the Noble Training Facility, the nation's only hospital dedicated to training healthcare professionals in disaster preparedness and re-

A number of resident training courses culminate at the CDP's Chemical, Ordnance, Biological and Radiological (COBRA) Training Facility. The CORBA is the nation's only facility featuring civilian training exercises in a true toxic environment using chemical agents. The advanced hands-on training enables responders to effectively prevent, respond to and recover from real-world incidents involving acts of terrorism and other hazardous materials.

Responders participating in CDP training gain critical skills and confidence to respond effectively to local incidents or potential WMD events.

Information about CDP training programs can be found at http://cdp.dhs.gov. Visit the "News & Media" tab at the top of the site to download images, share CDP training articles and find out what others are saying about CDP training. For more information about the CDP, contact the CDP External Affairs Office at 256-847-2212/2316 or e-mail pao@cdpemail.dhs.gov.

Maajtaag Mnobmaadzid (Maj-tog Minowb-maude-zid) means "A Start of a Healthy Life."

We are working towards providing services and information that will keep our infants, women and families in the best of health. There are no income guidelines to determine eligibility. We hope our services will reach any woman who will be bringing an Anishinaabe baby into this world. Our program is designed to provide services needed to both mom and newborn up to the age of two years.

Maajtaag Mnobmaadzid is designed to complement, not replace prenatal, postpartum and pediatric medical care. In addition to providing support and education during pregnancy, there is also a focus on helping women become and stay healthy before and between pregnancies. We affirm the sacred role of women in the community as givers of life and promote understanding of the importance of family well-being and the health of women throughout the lifespan.

For more information on Maajtaag Mnobmaadzid, please call: Mina Mskiki Gumik ~ Tina Shawano at 231-242-1614, Teen Pregnancy Prevention and Assistance at 231-242-1721.

GI-GIKINOMAAGE-MIN: DEFEND OUR HISTORY, UNLOCK YOUR SPIRIT

Submitted by Belinda Bardwell, LTBB Tribal Citizen

"Gi-gikinomaage-min: Defend Our History, Unlock Your Spirit" is a project that ultimately will seek to interview American Indian elders to collect their experiences about living in Grand Rapids, MI, during the federal relocation period. The project is currently in its planning phase. We are seeking guidance from community members willing to share their stories and help shape the direction this project ultimately takes. This program is funded in part by the Michigan Humanities Council, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities, and grew out of conversations among the Grand Valley State University (GVSU) Native American Advisory Board and Kutsche Office of Local History.

Levi Rickert, a member of the GVSU Native American Advisory Board and Editor of Native News Online, offered his opinion on the importance of the project. "It is time for American Indians to tell our own stories," said Rickert. "Whether happy or sad, this project will provide a rare opportunity for our Native community to tell their stories of what it was like to live in the urban setting of Grand Rapids and still maintain our identities as American Indians. This project will allow our Native community members to leave behind their own personal histories for their offspring to enjoy for generations to come."

This belief was echoed by Steve Naganashe Perry, a member of the GVSU Native American Advisory Board and GVSU lecturer. "As a university lecturer of Contemporary Native American issues, I find it important to see projects that record history by those who lived it, not those who chose to create it," said Perry. "This project will enable the majority/dominant culture to have a glimpse of what really happened in the urban areas regarding Indian relocation act, and other U.S. government Indian policies."

While still in the early stages, the project kicked off on November 13, 2014 with a community dialogue held at the Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi Northern Health Center in Grand Rapids, MI. The event was an official introduction and explanation of the project to the urban Native community. More than 70 people attended, representing many different tribes from across Michigan. The greater Grand Rapids, MI, area is also home to many distant tribes within the United States.

Belinda Bardwell, Project Coordinator and a member of the GVSU Native American Advisory Board, shared the hopes of the project and those involved. "It is a group effort leading this project, and our intent is to serve the urban Native population and to create something that they can own and have pride in. We have hard working Native individuals all working towards this same goal," said Bardwell. "To use Paulo Freire, 'Change must come from within.' This is what we have here concerning the work group. We have all different backgrounds, education and personal experiences all working on this project with the intent to serve the community with the support of the university."

We hope to hear from community members. If you would be willing to share your experiences, have suggestions about community elders whose stories we should record, would like to offer guidance or suggestions about the project, get involved as an interviewer or just have questions, please contact us.

THE MIGIZII RIDERS MOTORCYCLE CLUB

Aanii all. It will soon be time to get out the iron ponies, and log some serious miles of smiles.

Come join us! The Migizii Riders would like to send out an invitation to any interested individuals to participate in our motorcycle club.

The mission of the Migizii Riders will be to promote and encourage safe riding, camaraderie and goodwill within our own tribe and other nations. We welcome all makes and models of modern day iron horses, and membership from all walks of life. We embrace our language, culture and traditions, always valuing the Creator, respecting Mother Earth and maintaining the pride of our ancestors. The road we ride is paved with the seven grandfather teachings, and our eyes on the seven generation vision. Freedom is the heartbeat of our circle.

The vision of Migizii Riders will be to promote a healthy livelihood for the Native nations of Turtle Island and all cultures. Anishinaabe values will guide us forward to a good and safe life.

You must meet the following criteria for membership: A desire to have fun, enjoy life and pursue miles of smiles; acceptance and promotion of mission and vision; maintain open-mindedness and acceptance of all cultures; maintain respect and love for creation; a commitment to be a positive community role model and to promote positive changes within your community; and zero tolerance for alcohol, drugs or any mood altering substances while on all rides. All walks of life accepted. All makes and models of iron horses accepted.

Starting in May 2015 and weather permitting, every Wednesday at 5:30 p.m., we will meet at Biindigen Gas Station and Convenience Store in Petoskey, MI, to do a group ride. You do not have to be a member to ride; if you want to ride, just show up. Everyone is welcome.

If you wish to become an active participant in the Migizii Riders or need additional information, please e-mail any questions to denemyb@charter. net or call Bill Denemy at 231-330-8987 or call Tony Davis at 231-268-1199.

We maintain an e-mail group with our members, so anyone at any time can shoot out an e-mail to the group suggesting rides or other information sharing. If you want to be part of this e-mail group, contact Bill with your information, and he will update the e-mail group.

Live Free. Ride Hard. Stay Safe.

Tribal Youth Excel at 2015 Northeast Michigan Wrestling Association State Meet

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

Five tribal youth - Wedaase (Brave Warrior in Anishinaabemowin) Gasco, Trevor Swiss, Brendan Swiss, Jason Cranick and Kenny Roberts - competed for the Petoskey Youth Wrestling Team at the 2015 Northeast Michigan Wrestling Association (NEMWA) State Championships on February 21, 2015 in Mt. Pleasant, MI.

Gasco and Trevor Swiss were crowned NEMWA state champions, Cranick finished second, Roberts finished third and Brendan Swiss finished fourth. All of the wrestlers earned All-State honors.

Gasco has only been wrestling for a year with one previous season of novice/beginner experience through the Petoskey Wrestling Club before earning an invitation to join the Petoskey Advanced Wrestling Team this year. He finished with a 9-1 season record with eight pins and pinned all three of his opponents at the state championships. He is a six-year-old LTBB Tribal Citizen and attends kindergarten at Lincoln Elementary School in Petoskey, MI.

Trevor Swiss has been wrestling for four years and won his first NEMWA state championship after two state runner-up finishes. Trevor, one of the team's captains, finished the season with a 37-5 record and has a 142-46 career record. He is 10 years old and is in the fourth grade at Ottawa Elementary School in Petoskey, MI.

Cranick, a 6-year-old LTBB Tribal Citizen, finished the season with a 13-3 record and has a 93-44 career record.

Roberts, one of the team's captains, finished the season with a 39-9 record with 24 pins. He has been wrestling for three years. He was the NEMWA state champion at 77 pounds last year, and he placed third at 77 pounds in the MYWAY State Finals last year. He is nine years old and is in the fourth grade at Sheridan Elementary School in Petoskey, Brendan Swiss, who has wrestled for four years, finished the season with a 37-15 record and has a 112-54 career record. He is eight years old and is in the second grade at Ottawa Elementary School in Petoskey, MI.

pool necessary to assert jurisdiction through criminal prosecution of domestic violence related crimes.

Special Chii Miigwech to the Department of Human Services Victim Support Services Program staff Keely Frye, Stacey Ettawageshik and Kathryn Jean; Law Enforcement Chief Jeff Cobe; Health Clinic Project Connect 2.0 Staff Deleta Gasco-Smith; Tribal Court Domestic Violence Court Coordinator Gregory Justice; Women's Resource Center Chris Krajewski; former LTBB Prosecutor Matthew Lesky; Legislative Attorney Donna Budnick and LTBB Tribal Councilors Winnay Wemigwase and Julie Shananaquet for the painstaking work that happened throughout this process to ensure safety of LTBB Tribal Citizens.

Today, March 6, 2015 marks a historic event and achievement for survivors and their families as well as all LTBB Citizens as LTBB Chairperson Regina Gasco-Bentley signed the legislation. We are so proud the leadership of the tribe has recognized the importance of ensuring the rights and protection of domestic violence survivors through the passing and now signing of this historic legislation.

Since February 2014, three tribes – the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, the Pascua Yaqui Tribe and the Tulalip Tribes - have been able to exercise jurisdiction over non-Indians under a Pilot Project. To date, the tribes have charged a total of 26 Special Domestic Violence Criminal Jurisdiction cases. On March 7, 2015, the opportunity to adopt VAWA was expanded to all 566 federally-recognized tribes.

LTBB is the first tribe in the nation to adopt VAWA into its domestic violence statute following the deadline, signing the act into law on March 6, 2015. A copy of the Criminal Code is available on LTBB's website www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

For more than three decades, tribes have been prohibited from exercising criminal jurisdiction over non-Indian defendants. In 1978, the United States Supreme Court concluded in Oliphant v. Suquamish Indian Tribe that tribal courts lacked jurisdiction to punish non-Indian defendants.

"Oliphant created a gap in jurisdiction, which ultimately made prosecution of these enormously difficult cases even more challenging," said Justis.

These were challenges shared by tribes throughout the nation: Oregon's Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, for example, found that even a violent crime committed by a non-Indian husband against his Indian wife, in the presence of her Indian children, in their home on the Indian reservation, could not be prosecuted by the tribe.

Problematically, the Justice Department concluded that when non-Indian cases of domestic violence go uninvestigated and unpunished, offenders' violence escalates.

"VAWA addresses the jurisdictional gap and greatly improves the effectiveness of preventing and responding to domestic violence," said Justis. "By promoting the adoption of VAWA by tribes like LTBB, the United States government has reaffirmed the tribes' authority to prosecute those who commit this particularly invidious type of violence in their communities."

Since prosecution of a domestic violence case in the Tribal Court would be an exercise of LTBB's inherent sovereignty, such a prosecution would not preclude the United States Attorney's Office from prosecuting the non-Indian defendant in federal court for the same offense.

For more information on VAWA, please visit www.justice.gov/tribal/vawa-tribal.html.

8 a.m.: Opening and Registration 9:30 a.m.: Opening Ceremony

Per our LTBB Constitution http://www.ltb-bodawa-nsn.gov/OdawaRegister/LTBB%20Constitution.pdf, it is the responsibility of the Executive Branch of government to coordinate an annual meeting for the LTBB Tribal Membership each spring. The meeting is to be held within the boundaries of our reservation, which is defined in the 1855 Treaty of Detroit http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/STAT-UTE-108/pdf/STATUTE-108-Pg2156.pdf.

We are looking forward to this great opportunity for our community to be together to engage

Court held that the Constitution's 'ten' days limitation for challenging election results refers to 'ten consecutive days, without regard for weekends, holidays, or days when tribal administrative offices are open or closed.' In reaching this decision, the Appellate Court necessarily, by noting that weekends, holidays, and days when tribal administrative offices are open or closed, considered and concluded that citizens challenging election results would not have ten 'business days' in which to file a valid petition, a point which invalidates Plantiffs' efforts to distinguish prior opinions from the case at hand. Therefore, in light of the LTBB Appellate Court's controlling opinion in Harrington v. LTBB Election Bd., No. A-019-1011 (LTBB Ct. App. 2012), IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendants' Motion to Dismiss is GRANTED. Plantiffs' Complaint is DISMISSED. IT IS SO ORDERED."

To read the ruling in Case No. C-205-1214, visit www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov/Tribal%20Court/Civil/C-205-1214Order%20Granting%20Defendant's%20 Motion%20to%20Dismiss%20Plaintiff's%20Complaint%20for%20Lack%20of%20Subject%20Matter%20Jurisdiction.pdf

The case was dismissed because the LTBB Tribal Court concluded the complaint was filed outside the Constitution's limitations period for election challenges. The LTBB Constitution states, "Any registered voter of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians may challenge for cause the results of any election by filing a written challenge with the Tribal Court within 10 days after the election." Kiogima and DeLeon's election challenge was filed on December 1, 2014, 14 days after the recall election was held on November 17, 2014.

However, in its ruling dated March 13, 2015, the LTBB Appellate Court "REVERSES the Tribal with our leadership and with one another. Please take some time to connect with us on the member's only website http://www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov/Porta-lAgreement.aspx to begin posting questions, so we may provide more opportunity for our membership who isn't able to attend to still have an opportunity to participate.

If you are unable to attend the meeting, join us via Adobe Connect. We will be live-streaming the meeting at http://connect.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov/AM2013

Please contact me by e-mail at proct64@ya-hoo.com with any questions or comments. I and the planning committee are looking forward to seeing you May 2nd! Miigwech and Safe Travels!

Court's Order dated December 14, 2014, VACATES the Tribal Court's dismissal of the case, and RE-MANDS this matter for further resolution in accordance with the Tribe's laws and procedures in the Tribal Court. DECIDED AND APPROVED BY A UNANIMOUS APPELLATE COURT."

In the ruling written by LTBB Appellate Court Chief Justice Wenona Singel, she writes, "The Appellate Court concludes that the method of computing time for the ten-day Constitutional limitations period must count all calendar days, including intermediate Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays. However, if the last day for filing an election challenge falls on a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or other day when the Tribal Court is inaccessible, that day is not counted and instead, a petitioner may submit a complaint until the close of business on the next available day that the Tribal Court is open. Under this method of computing days, the Appellate Court concludes that Mr. Kiogima and Ms. DeLeon's election challenge is timely."

The 10th day following the recall election on November 17, 2014 was November 27, 2014, the legal holiday of Thanksgiving. The LTBB Tribal Court was closed on that day as well as November 28, 2014 and re-opened on December 1, 2014, the day the recall election challenge was filed by Kiogima and DeLeon.

As of March 23, 2015 when this newsletter was sent to the printer, the case did not appear on the Weekly Court Docket, so it is unknown when the case will be heard by the LTBB Tribal Court.

To read the ruling in Case No. A-025-1214, visit www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov/Tribal%20Court/Court%20Opinions/Appellate%20Court%20Opinions/2015/A-025-1214-Decision%20and%20Order. pdf

Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA) Implementation and Tribal Sovereignty - What's Happening in Michigan?

By Su Lantz

On March 6, 2015, eight of the 12 federally recognized tribes in Michigan attended what has become a historic event. The 2015 Michigan Tribal SORNA Collaboration meeting was hosted by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians (LTBB) at the Odawa Hotel in Petoskey, MI. The meeting was developed, coordinated and facilitated by Su Lantz, Executive Legal Assistant and SORNA point of contact for LTBB, with support from Jim Warren of the White Earth Nation & Fox Valley Technical College, who trains across Indian country on SORNA Implementation. Notably, in addition to the presenters mentioned in this article, there were SORNA Administrative Staff, Attorneys, Prosecutors and Law Enforcement Officers, including Probation.

LTBB was honored to have William (Bill) Denemy, Sr., a tribal elder who retired from the Michigan State Police, serving the force for 33 years, bless this historic event with an opening prayer. Bill also served a four-year term as the LTBB Vice-Chair and currently serves on the LTBB Appellate Court. The meeting was a huge success. Everyone in attendance had something to offer since not all the tribes have implemented SORNA in the same manner or have the same laws.

Title I of the Adam Walsh Act, the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA), requires all offenders to register and report with the law enforcement agency in the jurisdiction where they reside, work and/or go to school. Under the Act, certain federally recognized tribes were eligible to be SORNA jurisdictions. The United States Department of Justice's Office of Sex Offender Sentencing, Monitoring, Apprehending, Registering and Tracking (SMART) has been working with these tribes to determine if they are in a position to substantially implement the requirements of SORNA within their own jurisdictions, using their own laws, policies and procedures, or if the tribe could opt out, waive its sovereignty and allow the state where it resides to take over the jurisdiction. All the tribes in Michigan have welcomed the option of implementing the requirements of SORNA on their own, and most have been found to be substantially compliant. The self-implementation of SORNA comes with a caveat being the SMART Office supplies the tribes with guidance sheets, a requirements checklist and holds the authority to approve your submission. All that amounts to a massive amount of work for the tribe to obtain a finding of substantially compliant and to maintain their compliance status.

Su Lantz reported on the use of a cross-functional team to assure compliance through all tribal programs and the use of the checklist provided by SMART to stay in compliance. Other presenters included Jolanda Murphy from the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians (GTB) who spoke on switching the tribe's implementation from the Tribal and Territorial Sex Offender Registry System (TTSORS) to the State Police sponsored "Offender Watch" program. GTB reported the usage of kiosks to assist in the notification process. Elaine Overbeck of the Match-E-Be-Nash-She-Wish Band of Pottawatomi Indians (Gun Lake Tribe) reported the tribe was updating its law to allow for the addition of new trust lands to its reservation and emphasized how the required documentation are "living documents" with constant need for review to change along with the tribal and SORNA requirements. Ben Graves of the Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians brought up an interesting topic. Pokagon Band realized it needed to register offenders who are contracted through the tribe for building projects and in the future, it may have to make accommodations for registry in more than three jurisdictions if the tribe pursues a purchase of land in Indiana near the Michigan border. Chuck Miller of the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community (KBIC) utilizes TTSORS and has no intentions of switching to Offender Watch. Chuck has an agreement with Michigan for some of the mandated reporting systems. However, KBIC updates information directly into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) by way of the USDOJ's Telecommunications System (JUST). KBIC is highly energized with community notification and very pro-active in its sex offense approach to diminish first-time offenders. Latisha Willette of the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians (SSM) reported SSM has five large areas of jurisdiction which are not connected, so monitoring is difficult, but it also utilizes kiosks, and the tribe is continuously looking at methods to improve its implementation. Michelle Bostic of the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians (LRB) reports that they received approval of its substantial implementation in 2011 and is awaiting a status update on its newly submitted law. Michelle brought up the sex offender re-capture provisions as they pertain to tribal and non-tribal members and civil forfeitures for offenders who are non-compliant with their reporting. Sharon Avery of the Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe of Michigan (SCIT) reports since SCIT has the largest identifiable reservation boundary, not like most tribes with "checkered board" jurisdiction; it has an enormous amount of registered/ reporting offenders. SCIT is responsible for all offenders, tribal/non-tribal, within its reservation boundary. Su Lantz gave short reports for both the Nottawaseppi Huron Tribe and the Hannahville Indian Community. Both tribes have very clear and concise websites utilizing Offender Watch, and both used the Model Code provided by SMART.

When most people hear the words "Sex Offender," they immediately resort to the famous monkeys: "Hear No, See No, and Speak No Evil." All the tribes who have substantially implemented SORNA by approval from the USDOJ, SMART Office should be commended for addressing these crimes headon through laws, policy and procedure. With all the hard work these colleagues manage, it is imperative the tribal and outlying communities realize offenders can be and are a threat, and that we need to offer protection to our people. It is most important to realize tribes having the capability to enact laws also have the responsibility to address the punishment and treatment for offenders to reassure when their sentence is complete, they are capable of re-entry into society without re-offending. There is a tribe in Michigan which sends not only one, but two notices to its registered offenders reminding them their reporting date is coming up. In this tribe's mindset, this is being pro-active because it claims everyone can forget or busy lives get in the way. Have you ever forgotten to renew your driver's license? This is only one little tiny example of how the implementation method of each tribe impacts those who commit a sex crime. This follows along the lines of Native belief to preserve and protect for the next Seven Generations - this means those who have offended and those who have not, those who are victims, and those who could potentially be a victim.

These topics are a few of the many other important collaborative discussion topics. The meeting was a great success and should be considered as a model for tribes across Indian country. It creates a very productive forum for tribes to share experiences; resolve mutual problems; and to support and network with one another to better serve their communities.

MICHIGAN INDIAN LAND CLAIMS SETTLEMENT CERTIFICATE REDEMPTION UPDATE

Submitted by the Trust Fund Board

It has been more than a decade since the original Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement certificates were issued.

All adults have been paid or they have deferred payment to a later date, however, tribal children who were enrolled before December 16, 1997 but had not yet turned 18 are still in the process of redeeming their certificates.

The following steps are intended to aid in this process. Redeeming certificates from the Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement Act, Public Law 105-143, are as follows:

- Determine your eligibility: Tribal citizens who were enrolled, but had not reached the age of 18 on December 16, 1997 are eligible to redeem their certificates upon reaching the age of 18.
- Sign your certificates with a notary: The tribal citizen redeeming his or her certificates must have a notarized signature.
- Copy two pieces of identification: One piece of identification (e.g. Driver's license) must have a picture, and the second piece needs at least your signature.
- Mail your signed certificates, the mailing address you would like your check sent to and two pieces of identification to the following address

Note: The address on the certificates is not correct:

LTBB Trust Fund Board

7500 Odawa Circle

Harbor Springs, MI 49740

If you have lost your certificates or need further assistance, call Trust Fund Board Member Steve Schmidt at 734-717-4406.

LTBB TRIBAL CITIZEN ROCHELLE ETTAWAGESHIK SERVING AS VICE President of the NICWA Board of Directors

Editor's note: The following announcement is from the National Indian Child Welfare Association (NICWA).

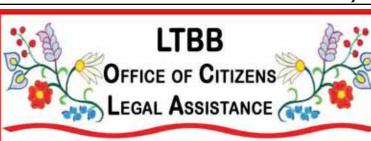

On February 1, 2015, Rochelle Ettawageshik, an enrolled member of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, was elected to serve as Vice President of the National Indian Child Welfare Association (NICWA) Board of Directors.

Rochelle has been an elected member of the NICWA Board of Directors since 2008 and previously served as the board's Secretary from 2010-2014. NICWA is a private, non-profit, membership organization based in Portland, OR, which is dedicated to the well-being of, and acts as a national voice for, American Indian and Alaska Native children and families. NICWA is the most comprehensive source of information on Indian child welfare and is the only national Native organization focused specifically on the tribal capacity to prevent child abuse and neglect. NICWA's all-Indian Board of Directors meets quarterly to set the organization's budget, policies and program plans and to review and approve specific funding applications. The board also maintains a number of standing committees which conduct the business of the board and provide advice and oversight of projects. The Board of Directors maintains a spiritual focus and seeks to maintain a high level of integrity and ethics in its execution of NICWA's governance.

Rochelle's expertise in Indian affairs, tribal-state relations, community-based fundraising and board governance have made her an invaluable member of the NICWA Board of Directors, and she has demonstrated her dedication to NICWA's mission and work time and time again. NICWA will be well served by Rochelle in her new leadership role as Vice President of the Board of Directors.

New Teeth for ICWA: Improvements in Federal Indian Child Welfare Guidelines

Editor's note: The following article appeared in the Indian Country Today Media Network's This Week from Indian Country Today on March 5, 2015 and is reprinted here with permission.

By Suzette Brewer

Bottom Line: The Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) is well intentioned, but often not wholly effective. Now, Washington is trying to correct that.

The Interior Department has announced sweeping new guidelines to ensure the rights and protections of Native families and children under the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA). Assistant Secretary-Indian Affairs Kevin K. Washburn made the announcement last week at the winter session of the National Congress of American Indians

In effect, the federal government will now more rigorously regulate and enforce the ICWA. The new measures are necessary, said federal authorities, because of the continued misapplication and noncompliance of the ICWA in state and federal courts since it was first enacted in 1978.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washburn said, will now collaborate with other government agencies to press for the full implementation of federal law and redouble its efforts to prevent the breakup of Indian families and the further destruction of tribal communities.

"We are taking an 'all-of-government' approach to ICWA," Washburn told Indian Country Today Media Network.

"Both the Department of the Interior and Department of Justice have been meeting with the Administration for Children and Families at Health and Human Services to consider ways in which their programs, such as the IV-E funding program, can be used to help insure ICWA compliance in states as well as strengthen tribal capacity in child welfare. We are developing strategies to work together to protect Indian children."

Washburn, a member of the Chickasaw Nation of Oklahoma, invoked Adoptive Couple v. Baby Girl, a.k.a. the "Baby Veronica" case, and ongoing ICWA violations in South Dakota, as crucial turning points that prompted tribes and government agencies to find a better way to reinforce the federal statutes.

The Indian Child Welfare Act was developed in the 1970s because a high percentage of Native children were being removed from their families during custody proceedings. Many of these children wound up in non-Indian homes hundreds of miles from their communities. Although the act governs jurisdiction over such instances, its limitations were evident during the Baby Veronica affair, in which a Native father lost custody of his daughter to a non-Indian adoptive family.

In June 2013, when the Supreme Court rendered its decision in the Baby Veronica case, tribal leaders nationwide began looking for better ways to implement and enforce federal laws designed to protect one of the country's smallest minorities.

"We decided that we needed to do something," said Washburn. "We cannot reverse the Supreme Court, but realized that we had some options available."

So in 2014, the BIA held five listening sessions across the country—three with tribes and two with judicial organizations—to assess the situation and gather comments on how to address ongoing ICWA violations in foster care and adoptions across the South Dakota has been a particular concern to the BIA and other federal agencies in relation to the ICWA for years. In spite of ICWA provisions, nearly 750 Indian children annually have continued to be swept into South Dakota state custody and placed in non-Indian foster homes at a ratio of 11:1 compared to their peers.

Additionally, Indian children constitute approximately 53% of the total number of children in state foster care, even though they only make up 9% of the total child population of South Dakota.

"The result was a lot of broken hearts," said Washburn. "And, it was not just the parents, grandparents and communities—it was the kids, too."

Tribes and Indian child welfare advocates across the country applauded Washburn's announcement.

"The Lakota People's Law Project (LPLP) is heartened by the release of updated ICWA guidelines," Attorney Chase

Iron Eyes of the Lakota People's Law Project (LPLP) told ICTMN. "During a decade of working on ICWA-related issues, the Lakota People's Law Project revealed the deep-seated problems of continual and widespread ICWA violations, and we think this will provide clarity on many important areas of ICWA's application."

Iron Eyes said the proliferation of violations in South Dakota is primarily because of enormous fi-

These are created, he said, by cycling Indian children through public and private foster care services and by classifying every Indian child as "special needs"—thereby reaping more federal funds for their cases. This, he said, created a "perverse incentive" for a system that preys on vulnerable victims.

Last year, the LPLP assisted South Dakota tribes in establishing their own child and family services under the Title IV-E Federal Foster Care Program through the Office of the Administration for Children and Families. In December, the Oglala and the Standing Rock Sioux Tribes received funding for planning grants, with the ultimate goal of providing these services "by Natives for Natives."

"The tribes must be directly funded to run their own Child and Family Service Programs," said Iron "ICWA" continued on page 28.

NRD Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) Program-2015

The YCC program provides LTBB youth with a summer job opportunity while familiarizing the youth with biological, environmental and conservation enforcement professions of the Tribe. The YCC will consist of a Youth Conservation Corps Leader and a youth work crew of 4-6 individuals between the ages of 14 and 18 yrs. old. The YCC will be charged with completing natural resource related projects which will assist in the protection and implementation of treaty rights. Potential projects or activities may include invasive species removal (sapling removal), agriculture activities, trail clearing, forest improvement and providing assistance on field work to the NRD on various assessments.

- 1) Provide youth summer employment.
- Foster an interest in science and math.
- 3) Foster an interest in pursuing higher education related to a natural resource/environmental field.
- Complete actual on the ground projects.
- 5) Instill a good work ethic and self-confidence in participating youth.
- 6) Assist the NRD in achieving Strategic Plan goals and objectives.

Parents, do you have a youth who is interested? Join us at our Youth Conservation Corps Informational Meeting on May 13, 2015 at 6pm in the LTBB Governmental Commons Area

Applications for Youth Conservation Corps Leader will be accepted from March 16, 2015 - April 6, 2015 Applications for Youth Conservation Corps Workers will be accepted from April 24, 2015 - May 15, 2015

Eyes. "Further, states that refuse or fail to comply with ICWA must be punished with fines, withholding of funds or possible civil rights violations and the federal government must remain ever vigilant against the abuse of power that continues to run rampant in South Dakota."

According to the BIA, hundreds of individual Indian people and organizations representing Indian child welfare advocacy responded to the agency's request for comments last year. The overwhelming majority of respondents asked the agency to update its ICWA guidelines, which had not been revised since 1979.

Included in their comments were suggested changes and revisions to the guidelines, which have been all but ignored by state social service agencies and courts across the country for years.

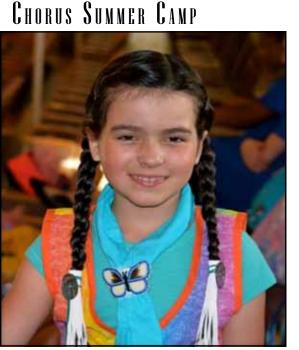

The updated ICWA guidelines, said Washburn, will provide much-needed clarity and comprehensive direction in determining whether a child is an Indian child, identifying the child's tribe, and notifying its parent and tribe as early as possible before determining placement.

He also said the new guidelines would provide clear instruction on the application of "active efforts" to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and provisions which carry the presumption that ICWA's placement preferences are in the best interests of Indian children.

"For too many years, some of Indian country's youngest and most vulnerable members have been removed from their families, their cultures, and their identities," said Washburn. "Congress worked hard to address this problem by enacting the Indian Child Welfare Act. Yet, today too many people are unaware of this important law and, unfortunately, there are some that work actively to undermine it."

LTBB Youth Accepted to Interlochen 2015 Center of the Arts

Eight-year-old LTBB Tribal Citizen Karlee Exelby is a member of the international program Voices Without Borders and rehearses weekly with the Little Traverse Youth Treble Choir (LTYC), directed by vocal instructor Jamie Platte. Winter performances have included the Petoskey Open House, Crooked Tree Theatre and local church performances with the LTYC treble choir.

Karlee performed as an opening guest last year for the Voices Without Borders Children of the World Festival, welcoming youth from around the world with fancy shawl dance performances. Karlee was invited to sing with the festival's international choir each night in addition to dancing. The week-long festival was held at the Cross in the Woods, the Charlevoix Performing Arts Center and the Bay View Auditorium. Shortly after the festival, Karlee was invited to join the LTYC Treble Choir by Voices Without Borders Executive Director Jack Kukuk. Karlee also sings at Greensky Hill Indian

Methodist Church and for school holiday programs. In addition to the choir, Karlee is also a member of the Crooked Tree Gerber Strings Band as a young Karlee has always had a passion for music and natural rhythm. She's been raised with an abundance of musical influences, including her cousins, Chris, Sarah and Jessica Dominic and her Greensky Hill musical family. Karlee attends local concerts and music festivals, and her family plans to take her to some bigger concerts soon.

Karlee's mother, LTBB Tribal Citizen Tina Dominic, recently received her official acceptance letter from Interlochen and expressed how proud she is. "Karlee is a natural, and I know that an opportunity like this will only help her excel and show others her age that anything is possible."

Karlee was also one of 12 winners (out of 300 applicants) for the 2015 Child Abuse Council's annual, "What Makes Your Family Strong?" essay contest, celebrating Parenting Awareness Month.

Congratulations Karlee on all of your accomplishments. Your LTBB family and community are proud of you!!!

Concern Over Neglect of Old Cemeteries Expands Focus of Traditional Tribal Burial, Inc.

By Nichole Biber, Traditional Tribal Burial, Inc.

The Traditional Tribal Burial Grounds (TTBG) Board, appointed with the responsibility of planning and managing a natural burial option for LTBB Citizens and their families, operates as a chartered corporation named "Traditional Tribal Burial, Inc."(TTBI).

Listening to the input, suggestions and concerns expressed by tribal citizens has been a priority from the beginning, and continues to guide our progress as we move forward in the preparation of the lands which have been approved for use as burial grounds (Murray Road and Osborne Road). In addition to planning these new burial grounds as places devoted to simple burials which support the return of the body to the earth and complete the Circle of Life, it has become increasingly apparent the ancestors buried in several old cemeteries are also in need of care and attention. At several of the Traditional Tribal Burial Grounds meetings held in Petoskey, MI, and also downstate, elders, in particular, have voiced their concern over the state of neglect these old cemeteries are in, and whether part of our focus was to also care for those ancestral burial grounds. Realizing the name "Traditional Tribal Burial, Inc." can indeed include other, historic (traditional) places of tribal burial, the TTBG Board has determined to pursue the course of securing tribal access to and stewardship over some of these neglected cemeter-

Thanks to Alan Proctor, LTBB GIS Director, for initiating a project with the Army Corps of Engineers (ACE). The "Public Assistance to States" support program offered by the ACE applies to tribal projects which qualify - and it has been determined our burial projects do indeed qualify. Proctor told TTBI Chairman Wes Andrews about the program, and through subsequent discussions, it's been determined that, with Proctor's assistance, TTBI will step up to implement this project which is well within the principles and parameters of our mission. These collaborations have already seen considerable progress, and we are optimistic the application process can be successfully completed and approved. Not only would the ACE survey the tree types and create a detailed map of the heavily wooded Osborne Road acreage which is set aside for new burial grounds use, but the Corps can also provide a technology which uses radar to locate and "read" underground terrain and objects. This technology would tell us exactly where old, largely unmarked, gravesites are located at four cemeteries of initial concern: Wycamp Cemetery (also known as the Spirit Lake Cemetery), St. Ignatius Cemetery (near Good Hart, MI), the Oak Drive Cemetery (also known as the Root Cemetery at the outskirts of Cross Village, MI), and on the property adjacent to St. Francis Solanus Church Cemetery in Petoskey, MI, to locate burials there.

Traditional Tribal Burial, Inc. is not the only tribal entity determined to restore and renew care for these ancestral resting places. The Natural Resource Department (NRD) has made attempts to regain the Spirit Lake Cemetery, also called Wycamp Cemetery in reference to Father Wycamp, who along with several of his order, is buried there in the only marked graves of what is thought to be a full cemetery. The church lost the records of who else is buried there, but Marquette University Archives has such records. Once such information is obtained, it will be made available on the Blogsite (tribalburialinc.wordpress.com) along with other research of interest Wes Andrews has compiled in relation to these historic locations.

Also, members of the LTBB Elders Association often express concern over the condition and neglect of old cemeteries, and of the need to establish an accessible record of who is buried there without a marker. There could eventually be signage indicating the names of those ancestors whose remains are at rest, in addition to offering dedicated care which reflects our respect for the beauty and spirituality of our sacred places.

David Dominic, tribal elder and a member of the LTBB Elders Association, states, "What we do today in regards to recording our past will secure and ensure that our future generations will continue to exist. We must learn all we can about our tribal history and pass that on to our children. Our burial grounds are one of the most important, if not the most important, places that ties us to the land of our ancestors. These burial sites and history must be conveyed to our children, and we need to encourage all of our tribal citizens to learn about them."

LTBB TRIBAL CITIZEN MATTHEW WALKER PLACES IN THE SPECIAL OLYMPICS MICHIGAN STATE WINTER GAMES

Submitted by Ira and Lore-

Our son, Matthew Walker, was diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) in April 2000 at the age of 41/2. At that time, he was nonverbal and needed help with basic living skills, i.e. bathing, dressing, eating, etc. His communication was a series of grunts, humming sounds and pointing, which almost always led to another series of meltdowns because of his inability to get his wants and needs across. Because of the sensory issues that more times than not go along with ASD, touch and sound were painful to him. He would bite himself, slap himself in the head, scream as well as spit on us. It's safe to say, we were given a pretty bleak picture of what his future would be and what he would be able to accomplish.

Sixteen years later, February 2015 at the Grand Traverse Resort & Spa in Acme, MI, this same boy (well, young man of 19 now), placed fourth in the 75-meter snowshoe race at the Special Olympics Michigan State Winter Games and took second in the 100-meter race. In frigid temperatures, he started and finished with a smile on his face. He was pictured with a reigning beauty pageant winner as well as with the Wertz Warriors.

In the Saturdays leading up to the Special Olympics, he worked with trainers in Petoskey, MI, and Cheboygan, MI, stretching, warming up, running, stopping as well as how to take a tumble, bringing home two blue ribbons in Cheboygan's Area Games all while still wearing the smile he has come to be known for. Matthew made friends during this time, shaking hands, high fiving passers-by and saying "Good job!" to his fellow participants. What a difference from where he began.

Matthew will be participating in the Special Olympics Michigan State Summer Games in Mt. Pleasant, MI, to be held May 28-30, 2015, and I have no doubt he will do so with the same joy and enthusiasm. He and his fellow participants demonstrated strength, determination, and spirit, showing they were so much more than their "disability." They were athletes, Olympians! I can hardly wait to share the next leg of this journey!

Opportunity for American Indian, Alaska Native and Native HAWAIIAN ARTISTS

CULTURES FOUNDATION

American Indian, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian artists nationwide have until April 6, 2015 to apply for the 2015 Native Arts and Cultures Foundation (NACF) Artist Fellowship.

2015 NACF Artist Fellowships

The coveted national award includes support ranging up to $20,000 per artist. Awards will be made in six artistic disciplines, including: Performing arts, filmmaking, literature, music, traditional arts and visual arts.

"To meet a broadening need in the arts community, this year, we invite applications in the discipline of performing arts," said NACF Program Officer Andre Bouchard (of Kootenai and Chippewa descent). "More Native artists than ever before are exploring performing arts through multi-disciplinary approaches. We are looking forward to seeing what Native performing artists have been up to around the country!"

To apply, artists who are members of federally and state-recognized U.S. tribes, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian communities can review criteria and complete an application at http://your.culturegrants.org before the April 6, 5 p.m. PST deadline.

The foundation will announce award recipients in August 2015. For questions and technical support, contact Program Officer Andre Bouchard at andre@ nativeartsandcultures.org or 360-314-2421.

One of the only opportunities in the U.S. of this magnitude dedicated to supporting indigenous artists and culture makers, the foundation's national fellowship has been awarded to 41 American Indian, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian artists so far. Artists who have received the award in the past are ineligible to apply for the 2015 NACF Artist Fellowship. Past fellows include visual artist Nora Naranjo Morse (Tewa), recording artist Keola Beamer (Native Hawaiian), choreographer Emily Johnson (Yup'ik), author David Treuer (Ojibwe), multidisciplinary artist Shan Goshorn (Eastern Band Cherokee) and film director Andrew Okpeaha MacLean (Iñupiaq).

Since it began operating in 2009, the non-profit foundation has invested $5,113,574 in programs to support Native arts and cultures across the nation, including direct support for more than 127 Native artists and organizations. To learn more about the foundation's mission and past fellows awarded, visit www.nativeartsandcultures.org.

Walking On...

Casey Daniel Kilpatrick, 61 Long-time resident of Alanson, MI, Casey Daniel Kilpatrick passed away unexpectedly at his home in Alanson, MI, on February 16, 2015. Casey was born on August 29, 1953 in Flint, MI, one of 12 children born to Clifford W. and Colleen C. (Casey) Kilpatrick. His early years were spent growing up in primarily Florida and Virginia until his parents moved the family north, settling in Alanson, MI. Casey attended Alanson High School, graduating with the Class of 1971. He was a man blessed from earliest childhood with a keen mind and a warm sense of humor. He worked for most of his life as a stone mason, but also worked at different times for Giant Supermarket, Village Cleaners and a number of other area businesses. Casey was blessed with four wonderful children who survive him, Lindsey Kilpatrick, Wendy Gillian, Colin Kilpatrick and Cody Kilpatrick. His grandchildren include Amber Cannon, Andrew Gillian, Alyvia Southern and Keyana Kilpatrick. Also surviving Casey are ten of his siblings, Colleen Himelright, Linda (Tom) Hogge, Maureen Kilpatrick, Early (Mickey) Kilpatrick, Mike (Linda) Kilpatrick, Tom Kilpatrick, Mary Poynter, Nancy (Mike) Cassidy, Kevin Kilpatrick and Daniel (Sherry) Kilpatrick. He was preceded in death by his parents and by his brother, Ralph, and by his brother-inlaw, Vince Himelright. Casey's family will forever remember a father, grandfather and brother with a big heart and an incredible gift to make people smile. He was well loved and will be deeply missed. Casey was a proud member of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa.

NATIONAL CONGRESS OF AMERICAN INDIANS (NCAI) INTERNSHIPS

NCAI offers internships to provide an opportunity for young leaders from throughout Indian country to serve on the front lines of legislative action and policy development. All interns are selected through an application and interview process.

Students enrolled in institutions of higher learning are invited to apply for semester or summer-long internships (for which most institutions will offer college credit) with one to two applicants selected for each term. NCAI interns work with various staff on the issues they are most interested in NCAI is committed to investing in the next generation of leaders to protect and advance tribal sovereignty for generations to come. Young Native leaders are invited to apply for our Fall 2015 intern-

The application can be completed online at this link: http://tinyurl.com/NCAIapp

Applications will be accepted until June 22, 2015 with decisions made no later than July 20,
