RECALL ELECTION CHALLENGE RESOLVED AS THE LTBB APPELLATE COURT UPHOLDS THE LTBB TRIBAL COURT'S ORDER OF DISMISSAL, THE LTBB ELECTION BOARD CERTIFIES THE RECALL ELECTION RESULTS

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinate

A special recall election was held on November 17, 2014 for both Tribal Chairperson Fred Kiogima and Vice Chairperson Deb DeLeon.

According to the unofficial recall election results released immediately following the election on November 17,2014, Kiogima was removed by a 379-325 vote (53.84% to 46.16%) and DeLeon was removed by a 384-315 vote (54.94% to 45.06%).

According to the LTBB Constitution, elected officials shall be recalled upon a majority vote if at least 30% of the registered voters vote in the recall election. Of the 1,703 registered voters, 706 ballots were cast for 41.46%.

According to the LTBB Constitution, the Election Board shall post non-certified election results within three business days in the tribal offices, and in the next issue of the tribal newsletter. The election shall be certified and the results posted by the Election Board 10 business days after the election if there are no unresolved challenges pending.

On December 1, 2014, Kiogima and DeLeon filed an election challenge in LTBB Tribal Court, delaying the certification of the recall election results until the challenge was resolved. According to the LTBB Constitution, any registered voter of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians may challenge for cause the results of any election by filing a written challenge with the Tribal Court within 10 days after the election. The Tribal Court shall act on a challenge to any election within 20 days of receiving the challenge in Tribal Court.

In Case No. C-205-1214, the LTBB Tribal Court's ruling on December 14, 2014 dismissed the complaint and election challenge filed by Kiogima and DeLeon against the LTBB Election Board.

Following the Tribal Court's ruling, Kiogima and De-Leon filed an appeal with the LTBB Appellate Court on December 18, 2014 with the LTBB Appellate Court hearing evidence in the case (Case No. A-025-1214) on March 6, 2015. In the March 13, 2015 ruling, the LTBB Appellate Court vacated the LTBB Tribal Court's dismissal of the case and remanded it back to the LTBB Tribal Court.

The LTBB Tribal Court held a hearing on the case (Case No. C-205-1214) on July 24, 2015, and the LTBB Tribal Court's ruling on July 28, 2015 dismissed the case. Kiogima and DeLeon then appealed the Tribal Court's

International Agreement Negotiated at United Nations Climate Change Talks

By Frank Ettawageshik, LTBB Tribal Citizen

In early December 2015, I attended the UN Climate Change meetings (COP21) in Paris, France, as a representative of the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) and a member of the International Indigenous Peoples Forum on Climate Change.

I was funded by the UN Development Program and credentialed through the Native American Rights Fund. The meeting in Paris was the longest I've ever attended (over two weeks), and it was hard but rewarding work. Although the climate change issue and all the related issues are huge, we were able to make enough progress that the world will be better than it would have been without our efforts. It would be nice to say that we solved the problem, but we are far from being able to claim that goal.

The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, Council of the Parties number 21, (UNFC-CC COP21) was held at Le Bourget in Paris from November 30, 2015 to December 13, 2015. COP21 was attended by approximately 45,000 people from all over the world, including more than 100 heads of state. Of the 45,000, about 200 were delegates of Indigenous Peoples. We were from seven regional caucuses that encompass the globe. Our delegation was part of the North American Caucus.

During the months leading up to COP21, the Indigenous Caucus developed a position paper with several objectives, including: 1. Calling for the final agreements to include provisions that state "respect, protect, promote and fulfill human rights, including the rights of Indigenous Peoples," 2. Include acknowledgement of "Indigenous Peoples Traditional Knowledge," and 3. Adopt a goal of keeping the temperature rise to below 1.5 degrees Celsius of warming over pre-industrial levels. Working to get our objectives included, we spent long days in meetings with the COP21 Parties (Nations) and with human rights organizations. While we were able to get each of these goals addressed in the final documents, we fell short of getting them adopted in a way that fully met our concerns.

KINOOMAAGEJIK ANA PROJECT KICK-OFF INTRODUCES INSTRUCTORS AND TRAINEES TO THE TRIBAL COMMUNITY

Submitted by the Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Depart

Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Department held an opening ceremony at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI, on December 9, 2015 for the new KAP (Kinoomaagejik ANA Project).

ANA is the Administration for Native Americans, under the U.S. Department of Human Services. LTBB received an ANA language preservation and maintenance grant for a three-year project to train community members to be language teachers.

The evening began with an honor song by the Spirit Lake drum and an opening prayer by George Trudeau. After a nice potluck dinner, Carla Osawamick gave a presentation about the project and introduced the teachers and trainees.

Several teachers will contribute to the teaching of the trainees in several areas. George Trudeau is the main instructor for the project and for the language component. Gwen Gasco, Netawn Kiogima and Carla Osawamick will also help teach. Dorothy Perry and Alison Simon of the Niigaandwin Education Department and volunteer Fred Harrington will also contribute to teaching trainees in the teacher education component.

The trainees are Catherine Gibson, Cheyenne Worthington, Dollie Keway, Margaret Gasco and Renee Dillard.

Each of the teachers and trainees spoke about their involvement or gave words of encouragement for a successful project. Approximately 60 community members attended the kick-off event and expressed their support. Each trainee was presented with a gift as well as presented with a jiimaan paddle by Fred Harrington and Allie Maldonado. It was a wonderful evening.

KAP will provide updates about the project with articles in the Odawa Trails at least every few months, and we will regularly connect with the community via Facebook. Please join our Facebook group "LTBB Anishinaabemowin."

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

TAX AGREEMENT INFORMATION By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce

By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce Assistant

The Department of Commerce (DOC) would like to remind the tribal membership about a few items pertaining to the Tax Agreement.

First of all, I cannot express enough how important it is to keep your address updated.

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is to officially change your address with the Enrollment Department. This must be done in writing and as soon as possible.

The DOC cannot and will not change the estimated beginning date (EBD) (which is always the first in any given month) of a member's tax exempt status (see example below).

It is YOUR responsibility to update your address on file with the Enrollment Department. This date will affect how many months you will be able to file the Annual Resident Tribal Member Sales Tax Credit (Tribal Form 4013). It is to your benefit to be able to file for the maximum number of months for this credit.

In addition, being an RTM will allow you to purchase large items such as vehicles, boats, motorcycles and off the road vehicles tax exempt.

There is a form that needs to be filled out called a "Request for TCE" (Tribal Certificate of Exemption), which is available in my office. Once this form is completely filled out, I will then issue the RTM the actual Tribal Certificate of Exemption (Tribal Form 3998).

If you plan on purchasing any of these items, please contact me FIRST, and I will be happy to get you the form via e-mail or fax. I am also able to fax the TCEs to the dealership you are doing business with Being an RTM will also allow you to be tax exempt on utility bills such as phone, cable, gas, propane, electricity, satellite and cellular service. If you have not filled out a Utility Provider Survey, please contact the DOC, and I will be happy to get one to you.

Also, another important thing to remember is if you do move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA), your RTM status does NOT take effect until the first day of the following month.

Example: I move to Petoskey, MI, (inside the TAA) on September 5, 2010. My RTM (EBD) status begins October 1, 2010. All updates are sent to the State of Michigan as close to the end of the month as possible.

The LTBB Tax Agreement is viewable on the State of Michigan's website at:

http://tinyurl.com/ltbbtaxagr

If you have any other questions pertaining to the Tax Agreement, I can reached at my office at 231-242-1584 or via e-mail at tkeshick@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

MICHIGAN INDIAN LAND CLAIMS SETTLEMENT CERTIFICATE REDEMPTION UPDATE

Submitted by the Trust Fund Board

It has been more than a decade since the original Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement certificates were issued.

All adults have been paid or they have deferred payment to a later date, however, tribal children who were enrolled before December 16, 1997 but had not yet turned 18 are still in the process of redeeming their certificates.

The following steps are intended to aid in this process. Redeeming certificates from the Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement Act, Public Law 105-143, are as follows:

Determine your eligibility: Tribal citizens who were enrolled, but had not reached the age of 18 on December 16, 1997 are eligible to redeem their certificates upon reaching the age of 18.
 Sign your certificates with a notary: The tribal citizen redeeming his or her certificates must have a notarized signature.

3. Copy two pieces of identification: One piece of identification (e.g.

Driver's license) must have a picture, and the second piece needs at least your signature.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

GRATITUDE AND GIVING: MATTERS OF THE HEART

By Jody R. Ginop, LTBB Behavior Health Department

My son, with his wavy locks and oblique jawline, looked at me with a sideways glance. I was making an attempt to communicate with my young adult child. I was angling, casting, trolling, fishing (okay, I was harpooning) to bridge that gap which occurs when an adult child is a full-fledged grownup in his or her own eyes.

I had gone into the depths of asking an adult youngster his opinion. I was enlightened by his response.

"Son," I shared, I "get to" write an article for the newsletter at work. (A brief aside here: I possess the attitude that in life we "get to" do things never HAVE to do things in life, an attitude my children have been blessed to hear about for the entirety of their lives).

"Uh-huh," "Okay...."

This, in the world of 20-somethings, I concluded meant something more like, "Tell me more."

So, I went with it. I let him take the bait. And he took that bait; he took it hook, line AND sinker. So, I continued our conversation.

"Well, I am wondering about the topic, I have really been kicking around writing about gratitude."

He was still listening with what appeared to be interest. This apparent interest evidenced by a closed mouth, open ears and perhaps most significant Not a single cellular gadget in motion. So, I went all out, and presented him with part B.

"Then again," I went on, "I was thinking it would be nice to talk about random acts of kindness"

And this was when my bluish-grey eyed humanitarian responded with, "But mom, they are one in the same."

What followed was a deep-thinking and earnest conversation that I am about to sum up and share. Cliché as it may be, my belief system is comprised of a rumination of ideas that when dissected and examined reveal a bottom line that is really quite simple. That belief system consists of a general theme, and that theme is something like, "When faced with the most bitter of circumstances, it is gratitude that will carry you."

My child went on and shared this response with me:

"Mom, this is kind of like the lesson you have been teaching me my entire life. Don't worry. Be Happy." I will admit, and that moment, he was getting a little snarky. Despite his tonguein-cheek attempt at banter; his message was still poignant.

He continued, "Mom, when a person is thankful, it is easy to be helpful and expect nothing in return."

After some contemplation, I realized he was dead-on. This young college student, who was loving the philosophical pondering between mother and child, had also made a very simple yet eloquent declaration. I summed up his teachings to me. "So, what you are saying is that, "When gratitude is part of our daily routine, we give."

"Well ... yeah mom, it's pretty simple. If people are thankful, they show random acts of kindness and do it without thinking."

I contemplated his statement and came to the personal conclusion that his attitude was truly on point.

So, why share all of this? Well, it's a new year. You know, that time of year when we resolve to "do better, be better, eat better, exercise better, cook better, work better, be a better person" (You get my point). It is the time of year when we tend to inundate ourselves with blasts of resolution that we will be an overall better "us."

With that thought in mind, I would like to propose a challenge to anyone reading this article. I propose that every day for the next 30 days, you make a daily gratitude list. Take the time to write down 20 things each morning that fill your heart with thanks. Then, do the same each evening after supper, before bed, whenever it feels right to you. The hope is that once you start to do this, 20 things you are grateful for will seem like a small number. I suspect soon you will writing gratitude lists in the 50's, 60's and eventually, in the 100's.

For many people, the gift of gratitude is not a new idea. Many of us has heard the philosophy behind the notion "you get back what you put out," many times throughout our lives. I know I myself have heard this more than once. Before this conversation with my young adult son, however, I had not really taken the time to connect how gratitude and giving are so closely connected. As you make distinctive notice of your gratitude; take an informal inventory of those kind deeds that just seem to occur. As a young man once shared with me, "Mom, when a person is thankful, it is easy to be helpful, and expect nothing in return."

I wanted to inform everyone who has been uninsured for the 2015 year that the Tax Exemption 8965 form is now available. You can stop in and see Valorie Glazier at the Health Department or go online at www.irs. gov, search forms and type in 8965. Please make sure if you are doing this on your own to check to make sure the year "2015" is in the upper right hand corner. When filling out the form, be sure to put your full name at the very top as well as your social security number. Skip down to part II, and answer the questions 7a & 7b accordingly (usually, the answer is "No"). Finally, fill out part III by writing in your full name, social security number and the letter "E" under the exemption type, and check the appropriate box as to how long in 2015 you went without having insurance.

Please keep in mind Contract Health is not considered health insurance. So, unless you had a private insurance through your employer, Medicare, Medicaid or the Marketplace insurance, this form will apply to you. By filling out this form, you will avoid having to pay a mandated fee on your taxes for not having health coverage due to the rules of the Affordable Care Act

If you have other questions, please feel free to contact Valorie Glazier at 231-242-1748, vglazier@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov or by stopping in at the Health Department.

Anishinaabenowin Game Night and Potluck

Submitted by the Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Department

Aanii kina gwaya (Hello everyone),

The Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Department (GALD) held its annual Fall Anishinaabemowin Game Night and Potluck on November 24, 2015 at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI.

This Fall Game Night was the first time the community was able to meet and interact with the new Kinoomaagejik ANA Project (KAP) Language Instructor, George "Jaach" Trudeau. The event was well attended by the Youth Department, the NCMC Elementary Anishinaabemowin class and community members.

For this event, the Language Department set up group or team games for the participants to play, and Animal Bingo was also played. For Animal Bingo, George taught participants the words for the animals in the game and also gave them lessons on why the animals were called what they were in Anishinaabemowin.

For the next two stations, Anishinaabemowin relay games were played. Netawn Kiogima, the High School Anishinaabemowin teacher, played a Charades Relay with common wesiinhik (animals) Anishinaabemowin terms. Once the teams guessed all their cards correctly, the cards had a puzzle piece on the back of them which they then raced to complete the puzzle.

The next game that was being played was called "Wiigwaming" meaning "In/On the House." For this game, Gwen Gasco, GALD Department Assistant, taught participants the names of household items in Anishinaabemowin. Then, in relay style, the teams would draw a card which told them what to go get by saying "Onaadin" meaning "Go and get" and then the item's name in Anishinaabemowin. Cards with the pictures of all the household items were placed at the end of the hallway. One team member would run down the hall and find the card and then bring it back to his or her team before the next person could go.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Healing the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians

Submitted by Tribal Councilor Frank Bernard

I attended two social events that are and will have positive lasting community impacts on the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians far into the fu-

Repatriation Ceremony

I was invited to visit the Repatriation Ceremony. This is the return of our ancestors' remains to their home to be buried with the other ancestors. These remains were in an archeological museum where the Europeans wished to study them. Actually from our perspective, I'm sure they would be upset if we unexpectedly dug up some graves in Washington saying we wished to study them. Yet this is what the Europeans do routinely without giving it a second thought.

These remains were interred in one of the famous mounds which are found in many places across the North American continent. This woman had been entombed there over 800 years ago with her personal belongings. A few of her tools came with her back to her homeland to be with her and the other ancestors.

First, the officials did a pipe ceremony officially welcoming her back, and a few words were spoken about closer relatives who had walked on previously. These words brought to our mind's eye thoughts of our personal experiences of losing members of our own family. It was a beautiful, moving event. Several members of the tribe attended to show their respects for the ancestors.

The officials asked people to take the remains and place them onto the extended table for us each to come forward and put our medicine and prayers in with the remains. After everyone who wanted to offered their medicine and prayers were done, the remains were wrapped in red cloth and tied up for removal to the burial site.

It was a brisk clear afternoon as those present walked across the wet grass with patches of snow toward the burial site. After climbing up the small knoll, a spot was selected and two holes were dug about four feet deep. The ancestor's remains were placed gently into the hole. Again, everyone was given the opportunity to place medicine and prayers in with the remains. Eventually, each placed a handful of soil onto the remains and the helpers shoveled in the dirt filling the holes.

When everything was complete and an official gave the "Welcome Home" ancestors the words went up into the cool afternoon air. Some voiced pictures of the spiritual celebration taking place beyond our five senses. We walked silently back to the building, content in knowing these remains can now rest peacefully with the others.

Drug Court

I was invited to visit the Tribal Drug Court. Naturally, I was disconcerted a little contemplating a confrontation between a prosecuting attorney and the defendant's attorney debating the facts of a drug crime. I pictured the standard media presentation of a court scene depicting two lawyers arguing their side of a case while the criminal watches dismally.

But, I was pleasantly surprised to be admitted to a team of concerned professionals all discussing the manner in which to assist an individual entangled in the snarls of life. Someone who may have succumbed to media advertisings suggesting to the public that the joy of alcohol addiction is the way to combat the stressors of life? There were counselors, attorneys, psychologists, laypeople and elders expressing their views on how to encourage the person going through various forms of stress: employment or lack of employment, children with health problems, parents with health problems and/or financial burdens or many other areas of stress common to modern day life.

Finally when court was convened, it was more like a Talking Circle than an adversarial confrontation. The clients (offenders) were simply asked how their week had been going. Each one related their particular stressor - a problem that they may have had to deal with during the week and about not giving into getting drunk or high. The team sat side-by-side with the individuals being cared for - not punished. After a person describes their personal struggle in a poignant manner and how they succeeded in achieving a measure of success - the whole room breaks out in applause. The success merits them the opportunity to move on to the next level of empowerment toward their eventual sobriety.

Yes this requires a certain amount of money and expertise on the part of those on "the Team." But the return on investment in the LTBB young people cannot even be measured in money. Anyone of these individuals may return the community monetary and/or practical healthful interchange with others in the community who also need assistance in some manner. These youth probably will return manifold the small investment the tribe is making in their future.

I found the drug court to be an outstanding success for the LTBB community. I wish to add my applause to the tribal drug court for having the courage to change the status quo by incorporating a manner of service to the community that will pay dividends into the distant future.

Both of these beautiful ceremonies expressed hope and a somber appreciation for our getchitwa (sacred) pamadeswin (life) Gichi Manitoo (Great Spirit) has given us.

BOOZHOOKEDAA - "LET'S GO BOOZHOOING AROUND"

History: On New Year's Eve, young warriors went out into the community carrying a gunny sack and a gun or weapon and shot it off to let everyone know they were there to protect the community. They stopped at different tribal homes to shake everyone's hand and visit. In appreciation, the families gave them some food, and what they couldn't consume, was saved for the Three King's Supper. Back then, where they stopped to eat was where the Three King's Supper was held.

In this community, families continued this contemporary tradition by visiting each other's homes January 1st through the 6th until the Three Kings Supper. The host usually gave the person visiting something, maybe a snack or something small to take with them. Tribal communities often connect religious holidays to traditional culture in efforts to keep tradition alive.

Arlene Naganashe remembers, "It was a big deal to travel from Petoskey (Michigan) to Cross Village (Michigan) back in the day at that time of the year when vehicles were not as nice as they are today." She thinks this might have been a way to fight isolation and depression during the winter months and to keep that feeling of community.

She also shared she was told that Nana Boozhoo went away, but promised the people he would return one day. Nanaboozhoo can take on different forms of being, and it was not known what form he would return in, so when people greeted each other they were actually saying, "Ah Boozhoo?," asking, "Are you Nanaboozhoo?"

In keeping with the tradition of Boozhooke, this January, we had our 1st Annual Boozhooing event; some of the LTBB Governmental Departments signed up to host this event in their offices and offered light snacks and giveaway items to community members who came to say, "Ah Boozhoo."

The event started at Arlene Naganashe's house on the 1st.

We look forward to see everyone next year.

Native American Bank Designated Department of the Interior Performance Lender

Native American Bank, N.A. was designated by the Office of Indian Energy and Economic Development Division of Capital Investment as a Department of the Interior Performance Lender, announced President and CEO Thomas D. Ogaard. This designation, the highest the department approves, makes Native American Bank one of only three lenders in the United States to earn this classification in the Loan Guarantee, Insurance and Interest Subsidy Program.

In 1974, the Indian Financing Act was established to provide reservation businesses with access to investment capital equal to that available to businesses in non-reservation areas. The Indian Loan Guarantee, Insurance and Interest Subsidy Program (ILGP) was established to help lenders reduce risks on the loans they make to eligible Native American-owned businesses, primarily by providing a guarantee up to 90 percent of the unpaid principal and interest.

The program is open to federally-recognized American Indian tribes or Alaska Native groups, individually enrolled members of such tribes or groups or a business organization with no less than 51% ownership by American Indians or Alaska Natives. The borrower's project must be located on or near a federally recognized Indian reservation or recognized service area, and the project must contribute to the economy of the reservation or service area.

"Native Americans often face the absence of access to financial capital and services, which is a significant impediment towards the realization of self-sufficiency and financial freedom. Our mission is 'Native People Investing in Native Communities.' We are proud to have passed the rigorous standards set by the Department of the Interior regarding the Loan Guarantee, Insurance and Interest Subsidy Program," said Ogaard.

The Department of the Interior may approve lenders under any of three different classifications, depending on factors such as the number of loans the lender makes under the program, the total principal balance of the lender's program loans, the number of years the lender stays involved with the program, the relative benefits and opportunities the lender gives to Indian business efforts through the program and the lender's overall compliance with program requirements.

After earning the Approved Lender and Preferred Lender designation, a lender with five years maintaining a minimum outstanding balance of $2,000,000 in program-guaranteed loans and/or a superior record of enhancing economic opportunities for Indian businesses, a Department of the Interior Lender with a satisfactory record of Program compliance may request approval from the department for the designation "Department of the Interior Performance Lender."

The Native American Bancorporation Co. was formed in 1998 by shareholders from twenty tribal nations and Alaskan Native Corporations to create a national bank to serve all Native people, communities, governments and enterprises across the country. In 2001, Native American Bank, N.A. (NAB) began operating as wholly owned subsidiary of the Native American Bancorporation

Both the Native American Bancorporation Co. and NAB are certified Community Development Financial Institutions, whose purpose is to promote economic development in areas that are underserved by traditional financial institutions.

The United States Department of the Interior is the United States federal executive department of the U.S. government responsible for the management and conservation of most federal land and natural resources, and the administration of programs relating to Native American, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians, territorial affairs and insular areas of the United States.

Headquartered in Denver, CO, Native American Bank, N.A. has a retail branch in Browning, MT, and a loan production office in Box Elder, MT.

Odawa Casino Resort Raises More Than $18,000 for the Manna FOOD PROJECT

Odawa Casino employees and patrons raised more than $18,000 in November 2015 to benefit the Manna Food Project.

Throughout the month of November, members of the community helped raise donations by earning 200 base points by using their Players Club Card on slot machines or table games, then swiping at the kiosk and in turn, Odawa Casino made a $4 donation. Guests also purchased a piece of carrot cake from the Copper Café, and $1 from that was donated. If guests purchased a "Bet Against Hunger" shirt at the Quill Box gift shop for $12, $6 of that purchase was also donated. The Quill Box gift shop also offered a bracelet for $2, of which $1 went to Manna.

Employees of Odawa Casino also raised money by purchasing a "Bet Against Hunger" fundraiser t-shirt which could be worn with blue jeans, and they could also purchase bracelets. Team members also made weekly trips to Manna to volunteer their time to assist with whatever needed to be done. Employees also built sculptures out of canned goods provided by the casino, and guests and casino employees were encouraged to vote for their favorite creation by donating non-perishable food items in the totes next to the creation they liked the best. More than 7,500 cans were purchased by the casino and were donated to Manna after the contest.

"The response from Odawa team members, as well as members of the community was fantastic. Not only did the Casino raise a substantial amount of money for a great cause, but everyone had fun while doing it," said Britta Erickson, Director of Marketing.

As the final donation numbers were tallied, the monetary donation total came to $18,041 along with the 780 canned goods donated by voting.

The Manna Food Project is a non-profit organization established in 1987 to help feed the hungry throughout Northern Michigan. Manna operates a food bank, food pantry and a "Food 4 Kids" backpack program. Manna serves as a food bank for more than 35 partner agencies in Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet Counties, feeding more than 60,000 families a year.

Owned and operated by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, the $140 million Odawa Casino Resort in Petoskey, MI, opened in June 2007 and features 1,200 slot machines, 25 table games, a four table Poker Room, several restaurants, a gift shop, a nightclub and a 137room hotel.

FOURTH AND FIFTH GRADERS SKI FREE IN MICHIGAN!

The Michigan Snowsports Industries Association (MSIA) wants to give Michigan kids an opportunity to get out, have fun and get healthy this winter. This is why MSIA has established a statewide program which provides every 4th and 5th grader the opportunity to ski for free. Students can obtain a "Cold is Cool" Ski & Ride Passport which gives them up to three free lift tickets or trail passes at 30 participating ski areas plus additional discounts on the slopes and in Michigan ski shops. In addition to the lift tickets donated by the participating ski areas, the Cold is Cool Passport also includes a coupon for 20% off a helmet purchase and $15 off the purchase of $100 at more than 50 participating ski shops. Some ski areas have also included coupons for equipment rental and free or discount-

Proof of 4th or 5th grade status is required. One page of a report card or progress report is sufficient. If the child is home schooled, the parent or guardian can include a note stating the child's grade equivalent. Please note! Put your child's name and address in the "Ship To" column if you are ordering online.

MSIA charges $20 for the Cold is Cool Passport to cover printing, shipping and postage fees.

In order for fourth and fifth graders to use the free lift or trail pass coupons, a paying adult must accompany them. "We feel that fourth and fifth graders should be supervised by an adult while on the slopes and trails. Our intention is to make this a fun, affordable and safe activity for the entire family," says Mickey MacWilliams, MSIA Executive Director. With the passport, up to two kids can ski free with each paying adult. The passport is valid through April 30 or the end of the 2015/16 ski sea-

You may download an application form at www.goskimichigan.com. You may also order the passport online by clicking on the button on the aforementioned website. If you are ordering online and have more than one child in 4th or 5th grade, you must order each passport separately.

For a complete list of ski areas with their offers, visit www.goskimichigan.com.

Correction

In the article titled, "LTBB to Establish Class II Casino in Mackinaw City, MI, after the Mackinaw City Village Council Turns Down its Plan for a Class III Casino," which appeared in the December 2015 issue of Odawa Trails, it incorrectly stated, "Because LTBB will be operating a Class II casino as opposed to a Class III casino, LTBB will not have to pay the 2% semi-annual payments to local governments, but is required to pay the 6% semi-annual payments to the State of Michigan."

According to LTBB General Counsel James Bransky, a strictly Class II gaming facility does not fall under LTBB's gaming compact with the State of Michigan, so neither the 2% local payment nor the 6% state payment apply.

COURT REJECTS CONTROVERSIAL REQUEST TO DELAY CULTURAL RESOURCE SURVEYS IN UTAH'S RED ROCK COUNTRY - FIRST OF SIX LEGAL CHALLENGES TO FEDERAL LAND USE PLANS THAT PUT PRICELESS CULTURAL ARTIFACTS AND SOME OF THE MOST SPECTACULAR

Landscapes in America at Risk

Editor's note: The following is an Earthjustice press release dated January 4, 2016.

Last week, the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit in Denver, CO, rejected a request by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) to indefinitely delay surveys for cultural artifacts on public lands managed by BLM's Richfield Field Office in Utah.

In May 2015, environmentalists and historic preservation advocates secured a victory when a Utah federal district court judge ordered BLM to conduct on-the-ground surveys to identify cultural artifacts in need of protection on more than 4,000 miles of dirt roads and trails where BLM has permitted off-road vehicles to be driven. The Tenth Circuit confirmed BLM must comply.

The Richfield Field Office covers 2.1 million acres of red rock country in south central Utah, largely sandwiched between Canyonlands National Park and Capitol Reef National Park. This land is held sacred by Native American tribes, including the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah, the Navajo Nation and the Hopi Tribe. Thousands of significant cultural properties have been identified in the field office, including structures, ceramics, petroglyphs and lithic scatters. In a land use plan adopted in late 2008, BLM gave the green light to off-road vehicles to drive on more than 4,000 miles of trails and tracks without first surveying them to ensure these irreplaceable cultural resources would not be harmed by such use.

SWINOMISH INDIAN TRIBAL COMMUNITY ADDS FIRST DENTAL THERAPIST Meet Dental Care Needs

Editor's note: The following is a W.K. Kellogg Foundation press release dated January 4, 2016. The following statement is by La June Montgomery Tabron, President and CEO.

Members of the Swinomish Indian Tribal Community in Washington State have positive news to smile about—the hiring of their first dental therapist.

The Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board (NPAIHB) recently announced the Swinomish hired Daniel B. Kennedy to provide tribal members with much needed dental care. The Swinomish is a leader for the growing movement across the U.S. to utilize dental therapists to reverse the oral health disparities which have plagued Native children for far too long.

Sovereign tribal nations have both the right and the responsibility to attend to the health and well-being of their members. We deeply appreciate the courage, perseverance and leadership of Chairman Brian Cladoosby and the Swinomish community to address the backlog of untreated tooth decay and prevent yet another generation of Native American children from growing up with dental pain and inadequate dental services.

Mid-level dental providers have been providing much needed dental care in Alaska, Minnesota, more than 50 other countries and now in the Swinomish in Indian country.

What a privilege it is to stand with many dentists, dental hygienists and other oral health professionals; tribal and community leaders; non-profit oral health groups; and state oral health coalitions to support and celebrate a future where dental care is no longer the number one chronic illness among children in the U.S.

dismissal of the case, and the LTBB Appellate Court held a hearing on the case on December 3, 2015.

On December 11, 2015, the LTBB Appellate Court released its decision and order, affirming the Tribal Court's order of dismissal dated July 28, 2015, Judge Patrick Shannon presiding.

Following this decision, the LTBB Election Board certified the recall election on December 18, 2015. Following the certification, the Election Board has 90 days in which to schedule a special election to elect a Chairperson and a Vice Chairperson to serve the remainder of Kiogima and DeLeon's four-year term ending on August 18, 2017.

In the interim, Legislative Leader Regina Gasco-Bentley continues to fill the Chairperson position until a special election is held to elect a Chairperson and a Vice Chairperson.

Immediately following the unofficial recall election results on November 17, 2014, Kiogima and DeLeon were placed on paid leave of absence pending the certification of the recall election results per WOS 2013-001. They remained on paid leave of absence until the LTBB Election Board certified the recall election results on December 18, 2015.

In WOS 2015-002 Recall of an Official and Leave of Absence passed by the LTBB Tribal Council on February 19, 2015 and signed into law on February 24, 2015, it states, "If the preliminary non-certified results show that the recall election did result in the recall of the official, then the official shall be placed on paid leave of absence until the Election Board certifies the election results, or if there is a challenge to the election, until the Tribal Court issues a ruling indicating that the recall election was valid and did result in the recall of the official, and the Election Board certifies such results. If that official (or former official) appeals a decision of the Tribal Court to the LTBB Appellate Court, such official (or former official) shall remain on unpaid leave during the pendency of any appeal before the Appellate Court."

"Climate Change Talks" continued from page 1. International Indigenous Peoples Forum on Climate Change (My statement follows this article). As I spoke to the assembled nations and representatives from across the world, I was aware of the weight of history and the demands upon us all to work for the coming generations. Mother Earth can live without us. What we are urgently working to achieve is our continued existence. The coming generations of Anishinaabek and all human beings, and the generations of many of the plant and animal beings, depend on how well we work to change the course of human history.

Our climate is warming. Since the time of the Industrial Revolution with the advent of large scale burning of fossil fuels (i.e. coal, natural gas and oil), the average temperature of the earth has risen nearly 1 degree Celsius. The higher levels of greenhouse gases (carbon dioxide and methane) in the atmosphere cause higher levels of the sun's energy to be trapped and not radiated back into space. While 1 degree Celsius seems like a small number, we are already seeing accelerated melting of ancient glaciers and polar ice causing a slow sea level rise in the world's oceans. Warming temperatures are causing more intense storms which are resulting in massive damage to coastal cities and populations. The strongest hurricane ever recorded hit the Mexican coast in October 2015. Unprecedented flooding and droughts are occurring. Warming climate is causing significant changes in weather patterns and is resulting in loss of life, food crop failures and economic disruptions.

While these effects are being felt at the current level of warming, we can expect to see even greater and more devastating effects as the warming continues to accumulate. There are natural cycles of warming and cooling, but the massive burning of fossil fuels has pushed the natural cycles far beyond normal levels. If we want our great-grandchildren to live in a world similar to the one we know today, we must take steps to change humanity's course. The effects of climate change used to be thought of as something way in the future, but that future is getting closer at an alarming rate.

The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change was signed in 1992 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Since then, there have been 21 meetings called Councils of the Parties or COPs. In Kyoto, Japan, at COP3 in 1997, an agreement was negotiated by most of the world's countries to limit the emission of greenhouse gases. The U.S. did not sign the Kyoto Accord. Little Traverse Bay Bands, however, on May 15, 2005, passed resolution 051505-1 that set as tribal goals the provisions of the Kyoto Protocols. We joined several tribes, states and other governmental bodies within the U.S. to work on achieving these goals locally. Another international attempt was made in 2009 at COP15 in Copenhagen, Denmark. These talks ended in failure and left the world facing an ever escalating level of emissions.

During late 2014 and in 2015, several alarming scientific reports came out that said the world was at a crisis point for global warming. No longer could we say that the crisis was a long way off in the future. If we didn't take actions within a few years, we may well be on a course that could make large areas of the Earth uninhabitable for human beings due to sea level rise, temperatures and devastating changes in weather events such as floods and droughts. All of this background was what we built on in Paris.

During 2015, the United States and China reached an agreement on limiting emissions that paved the way forward for the COP21 proposed agreement. Coming into the meeting in Paris, hopes were high that agreement could be reached on an International Treaty on Climate Change. After long hours of work, including an extension of time past the scheduled Friday evening closing, the agreement was announced midday on Saturday, December 12, 2015 and was adopted at the closing plenary session that ended after midnight on December 13, 2015.

Did we achieve success? In the end, the only way for our civilization to ensure its existence is to transition away from a fossil fuel based energy economy to an economy based on sustainable energy sources and resource use. The Paris Agreements do not achieve this. However, the agreements are a step towards this goal and, if properly implemented, will help us shift towards slowing global warming.

Our Anishinaabe traditional teachings guide us to live in a sustainable way. We are part of Creation, not the masters of Creation. We share the world with other beings and elements of Creation. Together, we inhabit a sustainable world. Non-Indigenous governments and societies, by acting as if we humans are in control of Creation, have caused global civilization to stand on the brink of extinction. Indigenous Peoples believe that the solutions to the world crisis are embedded within the values of our traditional knowledge. The Paris Agreements are the first United Nations International Treaty to acknowledge "the rights of Indigenous Peoples" and to acknowledge "traditional knowledge of Indigenous Peoples." These are hard fought achievements, but are only one step on an arduous journey.

Frank Ettawageshik's Statement on Behalf of the International Indigenous Peoples Forum on Climate Change

International Indigenous Peoples Forum on

Statement at Closing Plenary of UNFCCC

Paris, France, December 12, 2015

Presented by Frank Ettawageshik, supported by Chief Bill Erasmus, Hindou Ourmou Ibrahim, and Saoudata Aboubacrine

Aanii, Nakwegeshik N'diznikas. Pipigwa Ododem. Waganakising n'doonjibaa. (Hello. Noonday is my name. The Sparrow Hawk is the mark of my family. I am from the Land of the Crooked Tree).

Mr. President, I greeted you in my Native language. My name is Frank Ettawageshik, and I represent the National Congress of American Indians. Thank you for this opportunity to address you on behalf of the International Indigenous Peoples Forum on Climate Change. Indigenous Peoples are those who least contribute to climate change, having safeguarded our traditional lands, territories and resources for millennia. Because our lives are inextricably and intimately related to the natural world, every adverse effect on that world acutely affects our

The members of our caucus come from all the regions of the world. Indigenous Peoples came here with three key messages. We are pleased that during these negotiations, all of our points were addressed to some degree.

1. It is essential that the rights of Indigenous Peoples be recognized, protected and respected within a broad human rights framework. We sought such assurance in the operative section of the agreement. We are keenly disappointed that the Parties did not see fit to accommodate this request in which we joined with a broad constituency. The parties do recognize the importance of such rights in the preamble, and we intend to insist on our rights at every turn. We are sovereign governments with international treaties and rights to land territories, and resources toward which we have a sacred duty which we intend to fulfill.

2. A temperature goal of no more than 1.5 degrees Celsius. We are disappointed this was not adopted as the Structured Expert Dialog stated that our traditional livelihoods will be severely affected at two degrees. However, we are thankful that the vital importance of achieving the 1.5 degree Celsius goal is recognized in the agreement language.

3. Recognition, respect for and use of our traditional knowledge with our free, prior and informed consent. We appreciate that a provision appears in the operative section under adaptation, but it should apply everywhere in the agreement and decision without the qualification "where appropriate."

We must remember we are here as nations to uphold the future for our children! We recognize the hope in all children's eyes, and we work, so that this hope will remain through the future generations.

Miigwetch (Thank You), Merci Beaucoup

8th Annual Holiday Bazaar Benefits the National Indian Child Welfare Association

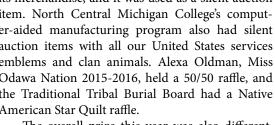

This year's 8th Annual NICWA Holiday Bazaar, held at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI, on December 5, 2015, was a success. All proceeds from the event go to the National Indian Child Welfare Association.

This year, the bazaar offered more than 25 craft vendors who sold a variety of items from baked goods to household items. Not only were there vendors, but there were also a tree decoration contest and raffles for beautiful merchandise. The themed trees this year included Frozen (the Disney movie), summer getaway, a traditional tree and an office-themed tree. Ward and Eis in downtown Petoskey, MI, donated the majority of the raffle items. Raffle items included items such as, but not limited to, photographs, purses, hand drum, earrings and baskets.

LTBB-owned and operated Biindigen Gas Station and Convenience Store in Petoskey, MI, donated all the event's soft drinks again this year. New this year, Matilda Jane donated a tree covered with its merchandise, and it was used as a silent auction item. North Central Michigan College's computer-aided manufacturing program also had silent auction items with all our United States services emblems and clan animals. Alexa Oldman, Miss Odawa Nation 2015-2016, held a 50/50 raffle, and the Traditional Tribal Burial Board had a Native American Star Quilt raffle.

The overall prize this year was also different. It was broken down into three different prizes. The grand prize was a two-night stay at the Grand Hotel on Mackinaw Island with two free Shephler tickets. Second prize was a one night stay at the Windmere Hotel on Mackinaw Island and two free Shephler tickets to the island. Third place was dinner for two on Mackinaw Island at the Hotel Iroquois Carriage Restaurant. The grand prize was won by Christopher Tollenaar, and Cherie Dominic won both second and third prizes.
