Ever burn your hand getting a freshly heated bowl of soup out of the microwave? We can fix that—we will be making microwave hot pads for soup bowl! If you have fabric you would like to use, feel free to bring it! Must be 100% cotton! If you have your own sewing machine, please bring that as well.

Stress, social isolation and loss of community can all contribute to diabetes, a major health concern for Anishinaabe. Come join us as we laugh, learn and create community.
Each session will be limited to 25 attendees. To register for the event or for more

Reducing Food Waste

What Schools Can Do Today

United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Economic Research Service estimates 31% of the food supply is wasted in the U.S. in 2019.

Reduction Plate Waste Now

Extending lunch periods from 20 to 30 minutes reduces plate waste by nearly one third.

Scheduling neuroscience before lunch: reduce plate waste by as much as 30%.

Smarter Lunchroom Strategies

- Simple, easily visible reminders
- Displaying signs to reduce waste
- Using techniques listed in the Smarter Lunchrooms Self-Assessment Score Card to help reduce food waste
- Setting up a table or shelf to place foods items that are not going to consume (backlogged or pre-portioned items)
- Letting kids self-serve

Schools Across the Country Are Stepping Up to the Challenge with Innovative New Strategies, Such as:

- Composting food waste for school gardens
- Collaborating with local farmers to compost or food scrap projects
- Collecting excess wholesome food after mealtime to donate to charitable organizations
- Sign-up for the U.S. Food Waste Challenge to share your story on how you are reducing, reusing, or recycling food waste

We continue to participate in updates with Indian Health Service and other Native American groups and consortiums. We continue to offer our tribal citizens full services and hopefully, our federal officials can come together and provide a budget that both parties can agree upon. We continue to be equally busy in the months to come, there is much that remains to be done.

Soon, we should have plans for the Indian town parcel in Harbor Springs, MI, and a recommendation for the former Appleyard parcel located in Petoskey, MI. We are charged with providing services to our citizens. The housing market and lack of affordable housing in our area is the topic that continues to be at our forefront. The scope of our responsibility is broad, and we all feel the great weight of that responsibility every single day. I am fortunate to work beside a Vice Chairperson and Tribal Councilors who appreciate the significance of that responsibility.

I am grateful for the leadership throughout our departments, and staff who embrace our mission and constantly show their determination to get the job done.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT
Behavioral Health Department Now Offers Programs to Address Opioid Addiction and Domestic Violence

Submitted by the Behavioral Health Department

The LTBB Behavioral Health Department is pleased to announce the start of two new programs for our community. The two programs aim to address the opioid epidemic and domestic violence. Behavioral Health will be providing Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) to combat opioid addiction that is so devastating to our tribal citizens and families. The program targets the biological process involved in opioid addiction and provides solutions to the psychological and emotional problems related to the disease. Each participant will be evaluated for medical, psychological, social and cultural needs to identify the most comprehensive treatment approach. Under the direction of Dr. Terry Samuels, M.D., Dr. Cynthia Statler M.D. will conduct medical assessment and prescribe appropriate medications for each participant. She will continue to meet regularly with all MAT clients to ensure stabilization and monitor ongoing medical care. Behavioral Health will connect MAT clients with appropriate therapies and facilitate the connection with cultural traditions and traditional healing methods. The combined efforts of our Health Clinic and Behavioral Health Department will ensure the best treatment practice for our clients.

Also new to Behavioral Health is the addition of a Batterers Intervention Program (BIP). The BIP Program offers intensive therapy to the perpetrators of domestic violence with the goal of eliminating future acts of violence. Three members of the clinical staff, Kimberly O’Brien-Sylvain, Melissa Merchant and Randy Koch, were recently trained in the best practice Duluth Model. This model focuses on the connection between power and control that drives domestic violence in relationships while teaching alternative thinking patterns and behaviors to end that cycle. The program consists of weekly group therapy sessions with additional individual sessions scheduled as needed and will be conducted over a 26 week period. Referrals to the program can be made through Behavioral Health.

For more information, please contact Randy Koch, Behavioral Health Manager, at 231-242-1650. For an appointment, please call the Behavioral Health Department at 231-242-1640. Reerrals can also be made through the Health Clinic (231-242-1700).

We welcome everyone to visit our Official Facebook Page at https://www.facebook.com/LTBBODAWA. Please be respectful in your comments.

No Insurance? See if you qualify for the Healthy Michigan Plan!

The Healthy Michigan Plan provides health care benefits to Michigan residents at a low cost so that more people can have health care coverage. Individuals are eligible for the Healthy Michigan Plan if they:

• Are age 19-64 years old.
• Have income at or below 333% of the federal poverty level* ($16,000 for a single person or $33,000 for a family of four).
• Do not qualify for or are not enrolled in Medicare.
• Do not qualify for or are not enrolled in other Medicaid programs.
• Are not pregnant at the time of application.
• Are residents of the State of Michigan.

*Eligibility for the Healthy Michigan Plan is determined through the Michigan Adjusted Gross Income methodology.

If you do not have insurance and would like to fill out an application, contact Valerie Glazier, Patient Benefits Specialist, at 231-242-1748 or by e-mail at vglazier@ltbbdawa.mn.gov to set up an appointment today.

Meaiajaq Mnoobmaedzid (Maj-tog Minow-baude-mdid) Means “A Start of a Healthy Life”

We are working towards providing services and information that will keep our infants, women and families in the best of health. There are no income guidelines to determine eligibility. We hope our services will reach all families who will be bringing an Aishkabiabi baby into this world. We are dedicated to providing services needs to both parent and newborn up to the age of five years.

Meaiajaq Mnoobmaedzid is designed to complement, but not replace obstetric and pediatric medical care. In addition to providing support and education during pregnancy, there is also a focus on helping women become and stay healthy before and after pregnancy. We affirm the sacred role of women in the community as givers of life and promote understanding of the importance of family well-being and the health of women throughout the lifespan.

Aani!

This is to help remind you of what the Food & Utility Appropriation Allowance entails.

Who qualifies for the Food and Utility Appropriation Allowance program?

Since there is NO income restriction with this particular program, it is open to any Little Traverse Bay Bands member who is an elder.

Who is considered an elder?

An elder is an individual who is 55 years of age or older.

How much does the Food & Utility Appropriation Allowance reimburse?

With this program, you can receive a maximum of $400 reimbursement!

What do I need to receive Allowance?

In order to receive full allowance, you need to make sure that all information on the application is filled out completely and that your address is current with Enrollment.

How long does it take to receive my Allowance?

It takes up to 3-5 weeks for reimbursement to be received. Now, keep in mind that if you are missing documentation that your reimbursement will be delayed.

Is there a deadline?

Yes. The deadline for the Food and Utility Allowance is November 30th of the current year. If the Elders Department receives applications past the deadline, it is up to the discretion of the department whether or not the application may be processed. All mail must be postmarked by November 30th.

What if my address has changed?

If your address has changed, make sure that the Enrollment Department is aware of the changes. You will need to complete an address change verification form. Enrollment can be reached at 231-242-1521.

For current scholarship opportunities and financial aid updates
We are still in the process of scanning enrollment records and linking relationships in our Citizenship Database (Progeny ES). We will be contacting you via mail if your enrollment record is missing a photo copy of your social security card.

If we do not have a copy of your social security verification on file prior to October 31, 2019, your per capita payment may be held or delayed in 2019.

Acceptable Verification of your Social Security number includes the following:

- Copy of your Social Security Card
- Social Security Administration Benefit Statement
- W-2 or 1099 form
- Pay stub containing your name and social security number
- Valid U.S. military ID card with photo (DD-2 or CAC card)
- Other official document/card containing your name and social security number.

Our goal is to not only keep our records up to date, but to make sure by working together that everyone gets their 2019 per capita check. If you have any questions, call the Enrollment Department at 231-242-1520.

ATTENTION: 2019 PER CAPITA REQUIREMENTS

By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce Assistant

The Department of Commerce (DOC) would like to remind the tribal membership about a few items pertaining to the Tax Agreement.

First of all, I cannot express enough how important it is to keep your address updated.

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is to officially change your address with the Enrollment Department. This must be done in writing and as soon as possible.

The DOC cannot and will not change the estimated beginning date (EBD) (which is always the first in any given month) of a member’s tax exempt status (see example below).

It is YOUR responsibility to update your address on file with the Enrollment Department. This date will affect how many months you will be able to file the Annual Resident Tribal Member Sales Tax Credit (Tribal Form 4013). It is to your benefit to be able to file for the maximum number of months for this credit.

In addition, being an RTM will allow you to purchase large items such as vehicles, boats, motorcycles and off the road vehicles tax exempt.

There is a form that needs to be filled out called a “Request for TCE” (Tribal Certificate of Exemption), which is available in my office. Once this form is completely filled out, I will then issue the RTM the actual Tribal Certificate of Exemption (Tribal Form 3998).

If you plan on purchasing any of these items, please contact me FIRST, and I will be happy to get you the form via e-mail or fax. I am also able to fax the TCEs to the dealership you are doing business with.

Being an RTM will also allow you to tax exempt on utility bills such as phone, cable, gas, propane, electricity, satellite and cellular service. If you have not filled out a Utility Provider Survey, please contact the DOC, and I will be happy to get you the form.

Also, another important thing to remember is if you do move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA), your RTM status does NOT take effect until the first day of the following month.

Example: I move to Petoskey, MI, (inside the TAA) on September 5, 2010. My RTM (EBD) status begins October 1, 2010. All updates are sent to the State of Michigan as close to the end of the month as possible.

The LTBB Tax Agreement is viewable on the State of Michigan’s website at: https://tinyurl.com/ltbbmitax

If you have any other questions pertaining to the Tax Agreement, I can be reached at my office at 231-242-1584 or via e-mail at tkeshick@ltbbodawadns.gov.

Admiring the Fighters
If you or a loved one has been diagnosed with cancer, knowing what to expect and making plans to proceed can help create a less stressful situation.

GET THE FACTS
Write down questions and concerns before your appointments and bring them with you.

WHAT KIND OF CANCER DO I HAVE?
What are my treatment options?
WHERE IS THE CANCER? Has it spread?
CAN I BE CURED?
MAINTAIN A HEALTHY LIFESTYLE

Healthy Diet
Nutrition is an important part of cancer treatment. Eating the right foods before, during, and after can help you feel better and to stay stronger.

Exercise
Studies suggest that people who participate in some physical exercise during treatment not only cope better but may also live longer.

Fatigue
One of the most common and distressing side effects of cancer treatments.

Financial burdens may arise as result of diagnosis.

Additional costs of medicines, travel, etc.

DEVELOP YOUR OWN COPING STRATEGIES
Highs and lows of cancer are experienced not only by those diagnosed but also family members, friends, and caregivers.

only good energy and zaagidwin (love) going into the aankinaagan. I was also thankful my daughter, Kholersi, was present for the process. I know that even though she may not remember the entire day's work, she'll have some memory of it. And, I hope one day her or her younger sister will be using this very aankinaagan with their own children and sharing what they know with others.

This experience felt very natural to me as well. It made me think of our ancestors and helped me feel closer to them and more connected with my true self. I thought to myself, "This, this is what our culture, who our true selves are. We need to reconnect. We are truly all one family, one tribe. It's not what can the tribe do for me, but what can I do for my tribe?" That being said, now that I have realized the face-to-face interaction was much more rewarding than analyzing data about them.

Odawa Trails: How did you become involved with the Audiology Program at CMU and the mobile unit?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: "I was lucky enough to collaborate with an amazing audiologist, Carissa Moeggenberg, with whom I knew from my training as a fellow. Together, we worked to assist with development of their cochlear implant program, with a special focus in pediatrics. She obtained funding to develop the mobile unit which will hopefully be used to reach children in more rural areas with difficult access to health care."

Odawa Trails: What are all the procedures that you perform?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: "Surgery involving the ear and skull base including cochlear implants, surgery to improve hearing, chronic ear infections, brain tumors that occur between the ear and brain (acoustic neuromas and similar), and ear tubes. I also treat patients with dizziness, migraines, vestibular disorders, facial nerve disorders, and tinnitus."

Odawa Trails: Why did you choose your specialty of Otology, Neurotology and Otolaryngology?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: "I enjoy the intricate anatomy of Otolaryngology: Ear, Nose, & Throat surgery, in addition to being able to treat a variety of patients of different ages and pathology. Specifically, I chose ear surgery because I enjoy the delicate nature of working under a microscope, and I have the ability to improve peoples’ quality of life in a significant way through the gift of hearing in addition to others."

Odawa Trails: When did your interest in the medical profession first develop? Is there a particular reason or situation that piqued your interest in the medical profession first develop? Is there a particular reason or situation that piqued your interest in the medical profession first develop? Is there a particular reason or situation that piqued your interest in the medical profession first develop? Is there a particular reason or situation that piqued your interest in the medical profession first develop?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: "My interest in the medical field first developed while in college. I initially thought I wanted to be a researcher and discover new medicines and treatments in the pharmaceutical industry or in public health, but through internships realized I would rather work directly with the people I was trying to help, rather than laboratory mice and data. During an internship at Johns Hopkins Center for American Indian Health, I was working on a public health project that allowed me to interact with Natives in Southwestern tribes and I

"The most challenging part about my job is the stress of caring for others and trying not to take this home to my own family. It’s a job that cannot be easily turned off at the end of the day and the hours can be long and the worry about my patients often leaves the office with me."

"Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: ‘I look forward to new, advancing technologies to assist with hearing. I hope people begin to understand that hearing has more to do with our health than just listening, and understand our hearing has an effect on our well-being as a whole and the way our brains work. Untreated hearing loss is a global epidemic, and causes faster rates of cognitive decline, dementia, and depression when compared to those without hearing loss. I hope to be part of the change that gets rid of the stigma associated with hearing loss. I would also like to develop a scholarship for the health sciences through the tribe and give back as I have been helped throughout my training.’"

"Odawa Trails: ‘There are not a lot of Native tribes who would also like to develop a scholarship for the health sciences through the tribe and give back as I have been helped throughout my training.’"
American doctors or health care professionals in the medical field in general compared to other ethnic groups. What role models did you have growing up? Also, do you think it is important to serve as a role model for other Native Americans who have an interest in the medical field or want to pursue a medical career? Are there mentoring programs out there for Native Americans with this interest?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: “I have met only a few Native American physicians throughout my career, and most were in primary care and not in specialties. I was fortunate to have opportunities for minority students along the way, but again, I came across very few Natives. I was the first in my family to go away to college and certainly had no one in my family in the medical field, so my role models were developed later in life.

The tribe has been a huge support throughout my training, both financially and by giving me the opportunity to work in the tribal clinic. As a medical student, I rotated at the tribal clinic with Dr. Terry Samuels, who served as a role model and teacher of medicine and tribal health. It is very important for me to continue this tradition, and I am always willing to mentor anyone who may have an interest in medicine at any point in their career. I know of no mentoring programs specifically, but would love to start a program and plan to have a scholarship for the health sciences in the future.”

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: “I was fortunate enough to take care of a fellow Native and place bilateral (double) cochlear implants to improve her hearing and communication. We met for a post-op ‘check’ at the Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow to essentially perform a ‘house-call,’ so she didn’t have to drive downstate hours to see me. It felt like the true definition of what the Homecoming Pow Wow should be. I’ve tried to help patients out when I tend to be in their areas and have been known to perform ear checks in other places such as Truck Stops. Sometimes being a doctor spans the clinic office and hours.”

I understand that you gave a post-op “check” at the Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow in August 2018.

Who have been your biggest supporters throughout your educational and professional journeys?

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: “My biggest supporter has always been my mother, and of course, my husband, Steve Scott. The tribe has also been a huge support throughout my training, both financially and mentorship in Dr. Samuels. I am forever grateful for the summers I spent with my grandparents, Albert and Marjorie (Smith) Colby, and the culture and tradition they passed on to me.

I am proud to be the niece of Albert Colby, Jr., who also was a great role model for dedication and service to the tribe.”

Dr. Candice Colby-Scott: “I enjoy spending time outside and traveling with my two daughters and husband.”

The American Indian Graduate Center (AIGC) has received a seven-year, $210,000 gift from AMERIND Risk to create a new endowed scholarship, the AMERIND Risk Educational Assistance Scholarship. The scholarship will be offered annually to students with a connection to AMERIND Risk.

“As the largest scholarship provider to Native students in the United States, AIGC is dedicated to providing as many opportunities as possible for Native students to achieve their educational dreams,” says Angelique Albert, Executive Director for AIGC. “We are delighted to partner with AMERIND Risk on a scholarship that continues its commitment to providing insurance and other resources to Indian Country.” AMERIND Risk is deeply committed to the advancement of Tribal Nations and Native peoples, and education is one of the most important steps in that endeavor. We are pleased to devote our share of insurance resources for our students to help them achieve,” says Derek Valdo, Chief Executive Officer for AMERIND Risk.

Native American Journalism Fellowship Available for Native American, Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian and First Nations College Students

The Native American Journalists Association (NAJA) is committed to increasing the representation of indigenous journalists in mainstream media. One of the ways NAJA supports and empowers members is through the annual Native American Journalism Fellowship (NAJF), which is open to current American Indian, Alaskan Native, Native Hawaiian and First Nations college students, undergraduate and graduate, pursuing media degrees. NAJF is an opportunity for students to deepen and expand their professional journalism skills while learning from tribal journalists and news industry professionals from across the country.

The deadline to apply is February 28, 2019.

On December 20, 2018, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights released its report, Broken Promises: Continuing Federal Funding Shortfall for Native Americans. The report reviewed the Commission's 2003 report, A Quiet Crisis: Federal Funding and Unmet Needs in Indian Country, which evaluated expenditures of federal agencies on Native American programs.

The Broken Promises report is based on expert and public input, including stakeholders at the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) and extensive research and analysis. The report found funding and payments critical to Native Americans was disproportionately lower than that for other populations. Key findings from the report include:

- Federal programs designed to support the social and economic well-being of Native Americans remain underfunded and sometimes insufficiently structured.
- Unequal treatment of tribal governments and lack of full recognition of their sovereign status by state and federal governments, laws and policies diminish tribal self-determination and negatively impact health, criminal justice, education, housing and economic outcomes.
- The federal government has failed to keep consistent and comprehensive records of federal spending on Native American programs, making monitoring of federal spending to meet its trust responsibility difficult.
- The report also offers recommendations to the President, Congress and numerous federal agencies on how to honor trust obligations to tribal nations.

William B. Newell’s Rise from Obscurity Chronicled in Biography uneducated Mohawk/Penobscot Indian who rose from obscurity to become a well-respected professor of Sociology/Anthropology; lifting up his people with his compelling voice and persuasive attitude.

His struggle to become successful in a White Man’s world began at age 21 when he entered fourth grade at Fort Covington
New York Union School, four miles from his home on St. Regis Indian Reservation.

His mother, Louisa Waharonkas Stump, a registered Mohawk, known as Texas Lillie, and sometimes as Rosy Gordon and Prairie Flower, traveled and performed in Wild West shows and fair exhibitions as an expert sharpsniper from 1885 to 1911.

William married Mohawk band member, Celina A. Canadian, whose parents were John Ariwakena Canadian and Mary Karakwisi French, both registered Mohawks.

This biography follows the journey of Professor William B.
Newell aka Ta-lo-wah-ron-ha-gi as he promoted the contributions of the American Indian to modern civilization. He lectured to hundreds of civic groups, churches, schools and institutions of higher learning during his life. He hoped to quash the apathy that existed about Indian, and any negative beliefs held about their intellectual capacity.

USDA Launches New Program to Create High-Speed Internet e-Connectivity in Rural America

(USDA) announced up to $600 million in loans and grants as part of the newly-created Re-Connect Program. This pilot program allows certain telecommunications companies, rural electric cooperatives and utilities, Internet service providers and municipalities to apply for funding to connect rural areas that currently have insufficient broadband service.

USDA Rural Development is the primary agency delivering the program with assistance from other federal partners. Projects funded through this initiative must serve communi-

National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) Initiates Soft Launch of Tribal Climate Action Resource Center, Seeks Feedback from Indian Country

For the past several months, NCAI’s Partnership for Tribal Governance (PTG) has been working to develop the NCAI Climate Action Resource Center. This new resource is designed to serve as an online hub where tribal leaders, natural resource managers, climate scientists and other interested stakeholders can access the latest information, data and other key resources on climate change, its particular impacts on Indian country and how tribal nations are taking action to combat it.

On January 8, 2019, NCAI initiated its soft launch of the center to provide NCAI’s members, partners and other key stakeholders with a sneak peek of the site and to get their feedback. We plan to integrate all feedback we receive into the Resource Center prior to the site’s official public launch on February 11, 2019.

The center features four main learning components:

○ Tribal Approaches: An alphabetized, linked tree of formal climate change and adaptation plans and strategies developed by individual tribal nations and inter-tribal organizations.

○ Global Landscape: A comprehensive listing of key resources designed to inform tribal decision-makers’ understanding about the current state of climate change and climate action efforts across the U.S. and around the world.

○ Data: NCAI’s recently released policy update on climate change and climate change data, followed by an extensive compilation of data-based resources that inform tribal decision-making about climate action.

○ Other Resources: Features two types of re-Source: News Coven, which compiles the latest news articles documenting tribal climate action efforts and climate change impacts; and Organizational Resources, which lists organizations, academic institutions and other entities committed to informing and supporting tribal nations’ efforts to effectively design and implement climate action plans and strategies.

To provide NCAI your general feedback about the resource center or suggest specific resources that it should add to the site, please email NCAI’s Ty-sha Ignacio at tignacio@ncai.org.

Native American Quitline Calls on the Increase Thanks to Community Digital Stories

Editor's note: The following is an Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan, Inc. press release.

In 2018, calls to the American Indian Commercial Tobacco Program (1-855-372-0037) significantly increased after the release of four digital stories and public service announcements produced by the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan. According to the Intake Demographic Report produced by the Michigan Tobacco Quitline and National Jewish Health, from October 2017 through June 2018, there were a total of 152 American Indian and Alaska Native callers, a 250% increase.

In early 2018, four Native Americans residing in Michigan volunteered to share their success stories about giving up smoking cigarettes to lead a healthier lifestyle. Valerie Glazier of Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, Kimberly Leapley and Jacques LeBlanc, both of the Bay Mills Indian Community, and Christopher Polasky of the Sitka Tribe of Alaska, working with the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, each graciously opened up their stories about quitting commercial tobacco.

The call to action for these stories is to urge their Native American peers to never give up quitting smoking. The focus is to call the American Indian Commercial Tobacco Program at 1-855-372-0037. Native Americans in Michigan who call the AICTP can receive culturally tailored help and may receive free nicotine replacement therapy, including gum and lozenges through May 31.

“40% of Native American adults in Michigan smoke cigarettes,” said Cathy Edgerly, Program Manager at Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan.

Edgerly continues, “Quitting smoking can be difficult, but help is available. Over 30% of callers to the AICTP stay quit after six months. We hope these digital stories remind all that they should never give up their attempts to quit smoking.”

“Digital stories have been widely used to share the personal story of patients and individuals through public health,” said Mike Willette, Communication Specialist, Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan.

Willette continues, “Typically, digital stories are shared on the Internet and at presentations to showcase successes with a personal touch. We are taking this idea and driving it to the next level with shortened 30 second PSAs to air on television and Internet to support each three-minute digital story. We will be spreading the wealth of these wonderful stories throughout the year, focusing on one story per season. We have made all four videos available to view at http://keepitsacred.itcmi.org/quitline. We would like to thank Valerie, Kimberly, Jacques and Christopher for taking us into their personal lives to tell their story and encourage their peers to give up commercial tobacco.”

Valerie's story talks about how she had given up smoking upon request of her daughter. Kimberly's story talks about how her health has improved after quitting smoking. Jacques speaks on giving up smoking to be a bigger part of his children's lives. Christopher discusses giving up smoking after he had run into health problems.

Funding for this project came from the National Native Network, Michigan Tobacco Program, REACH Journey to Wellness and the Three Fires Cancer Consortium programs. The stories were filmed and edited by a Northern Michigan company, Lamphere Visuals of Gaylord, MI.

For more information, call 1-855-372-0037 or learn more at http://keepitsacred.itcmi.org/quitline.

The Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan, Inc. is a 501(C)3 non-profit corporation duly organized under a state charter filed April 16, 1968. The agency represents all 12 federally recognized tribes in Michigan. The agency is divided into several different divisions, including: headstart; early headstart; health services; behavioral health; environmental services; child, family, and education services; and administration. The agency employs approximately 160 employees. 35 of these employees are based in the agency's central office in Sault Ste. Marie while member tribes have offices and staff onsite. Visit http://www.itcmi.org/ to learn more about the agency. This program is funded by the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services under grant number E20181713-00.
