LTBB TRIBAL YOUTH TO PARTICIPATE IN THE FIRST-EVER WHITE HOUSE TRIBAL YOUTH GATHERING IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

On May 19, 2015, Youth Services Coordinator Bernadece Boda received word that 14 of our tribal youth were invited to attend the first-ever White House Tribal Youth Gathering to be held July 9, 2015 in Washington, D.C.

The gathering will provide American Indian and Alaska Native youth from across the country the opportunity to interact directly with senior administration officials and the White House Council on Native American Affairs.

The Tribal Youth Gathering, a collaboration between the White House and UNITY Inc., will continue to build upon the president's Generation Indigenous (Gen-I) initiative and his commitment to improve the lives of Native youth across the country. The gathering will include an opening session, breakout sessions and a closing session. The opening and closing sessions will be live streamed.

President Barack Obama launched the Gen-I initiative at the 2014 White House Tribal Nations Conference to focus on improving the lives of Native youth through new investments and increased engagement. This initiative takes a comprehensive, culturally appropriate approach to ensure all young Native people can reach their full potential.

The Gen-I Native Youth Challenge invited Native youth and organizations across the country to become a part of the administration's Gen-I initiative by joining the National Native Youth Network, a White House effort in partnership with the Aspen Institute's Center for Native American Youth and the U.S. Department of the Interior. Tribal youth who completed the Gen-I Native Youth Challenge were eligible to register for a chance to attend the gathering.

Youth between the ages of 14 to 24 were selected based on their commitment to and passion for positive change as evidenced by their essay question, letter of recommendation and Gen-I Challenge information. The essay question asked youth to give their recommendations for their communities and federal government officials on ways to support opportunity for tribal

Participants were selected from a wide range of different tribes, regions of the country, age groups, strengths, concerns and experiences. They will engage in dialogue with federal officials about their perspectives on issues affecting them and about their recommendations for action.

GAMING ENTERPRISE BOARD ESTABLISHED TO OVERSEE GAMING ENTERPRISES, REPLACES GAMING AUTHORITY COMMITTEE

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

Over the years, LTBB's gaming enterprises have been overseen by the Gaming Administration, the Gaming Board of Directors and the Gaming Authority Committee.

However, with the passage of WOS 2015-009 Gaming Enterprise Board and the Executive neither signing nor vetoing it within 30 days of submission, the legislation became law on May 29, 2015. The statute established and created the Gaming Enterprise Board and repealed and replaced WOS 2010-021 and any previous statutes, including WOS 2009-012 and WOS 2001-12 as amended by WOS 2000-02.

Unlike the Gaming Authority Committee, which was a committee of Tribal Council and had three Tribal Councilors sitting on it for two-year terms, the Gaming Enterprise Board shall consist of five members who meet the eligibility requirements set out in the statute. The board members may be LTBB Tribal Citizens, members of another tribe who are not a competitor of LTBB or non-tribal citizens, provided, however, a majority of the voting members of the Gaming Enterprise Board shall be LTBB Tribal Citizens.

In order to serve on the Gaming Enterprise Board, a person must possess the following seven minimum qualifications and must be licensed under the tribe's Gaming Regulatory Ordinance: 1. Possess an Associate or Bachelor's degree in Business Administration, Finance or Hospitality or in a related discipline. 2. Possess either a minimum of three years successful work experience in a senior management position in the field of business administration, public administration, hotel management, accounting, finance or law, preferably with specialized knowledge and expertise relevant to the

Introducing the 24th Annual Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow T-Shirt Design Contest Winner and Runner-Up

Submitted by the LTBB Pow Wow Committee

For the second year in a row, the LTBB Pow Wow Committee decided to have a pow wow t-shirt design contest with the winning selections featured on the 24th Annual Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow t-shirts.

The contest was open to Native Americans only in the following age categories: Youth (9-17) and adult (18 and up).

Because the committee did not receive any submissions in the youth division, the committee decided to select a winner and a runner-up and feature both designs on the 24th Annual Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow t-shirts.

The theme for this year's Odawa Homecoming Pow Wow is Honoring Our Elders.

Matt Boulton, a member of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, created the winning design and won $200 while Nichole Biber, an LTBB Tribal Citizen, created the runner-up design and won $100.

The following biographical information was submitted by Boulton and Biber.

Matt Boulton

Aanii, my name is Matt Boulton. I'm honored to have been selected for the 2015 Odawa Homecoming t-shirt logo contest. I reside in Petoskey, MI, along with my wife, Pauline. I've been an artist

Being Odawa is all about Freedom

The freedom to be a part of a people, who with integrity and pride, still have and speak our language. The freedom in common with all other Odawak the customs, culture and spirituality of our ancestors. The freedom we have today we will bring to the future through unity, education, justice, communication and planning. We will reach out to the next seven generations by holding to cultural values of Wisdom, Love, Respect, Bravery, Honesty, Humility and Truth. We will utilize our tribal assets to provide the necessary tools to become successful, hard-working community members who proudly represent our culture. With these values we will move the tribe forward.

2015 Michigan Indian Family Olympics

Submitted by the Community Health Department

Dust those shoes off, and get your throwing arms ready for the 2015 Michigan Indian Family Olympics (MIFO).

Opening ceremony will begin at 9 a.m. on Friday, July 17, 2015 at Shepherd High School in Shepherd, MI. Plan ahead for the extra travel time it will take to get to the new MIFO location. See the accompanying flyer for more information.

As in the past, we will need help with setting up and tearing down the LTBB team site.

LTBB 2015 MIFO team incentives include lodging on Thursday, July 16, 2015 at the Comfort Inn in Mt. Pleasant, MI, registration fees, t-shirts and snacks and drinks during the Family Olympics. The hotel provides a continental breakfast, so make sure you make time to eat before you head to the field. We will not be providing breakfast this year.

LTBB MIFO team members will be responsible for transportation and expenses prior to and after the event, hotel deposit ($50 per room for any amenities incurred during the hotel stay) and keeping the LTBB team area at the field clean. Team members remember to be at the field by 9 a.m. to participate in the opening ceremonies and plan accordingly so you can participate in at least four events.

If you have transportation issues, we will have limited seating available. Please call to reserve your spot(s). The Community Health and Youth Services staff will leave the Health Department on Thursday, July 16, 2015 promptly at 12 p.m.

Registrations forms will be accepted until Monday, July 6, 2015 at12 p.m. Please mail forms to:

Little Traverse Bay Bands Community Health Dept., 7500 Odawa Circle, Harbor Springs, MI 49740, fax to 231-242-1717, Attn: Cathy Gibson or e-mail to cgibson@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov. If you have questions, please call 231-242-1601.

On June 4, 2015, the Health Department hosted a workshop on Cottage Food Law through Michigan State University Extension at the Mina Mskiki Gamig building in Petoskey, MI.

The first portion of the workshop was presented by Michelle Jarvie, MSU Extension Educator. She presented information regarding producing a safe food product, production, packaging, labeling, storing and transport. Tribal citizens are not re-will allow individuals to prepare and store certain foods in a home kitchen that is unlicensed. Only non-potentially hazardous foods are allowed to be prepared and sold from an unlicensed kitchen. Some of these items include jams and jellies in glass jars which can be stored at room temperature, breads, cookies, fruit pies and more. It does not allow foods which are high risk for food-borne illness such as canned fruits and vegetables, butters like pumpkin or apple,

Food safety is the most important step to making any items to be shared or sold to the public. People can easily become sick, hospitalized or die from unclean food products. Norovirus, also known as the flu or stomach flu, E. coli and salmonella are the most notorious and widespread illnesses. Elderly, persons with low immune systems, persons with chronic medical issues such as diabetes and the very young are the most susceptible. Many go unreported, yet have longterm health effects. Food-borne illness costs the healthcare industry $77 billion a year. In the state of Michigan, one in six people get a food-borne illness each

Common causes of foodborne illness are poor hygiene, cross contamination and improperly cleaned and sanitized equipment and utensils. The Norovirus is extremely contagious. It takes as little as 5 "cells" to infect a person; infected vomit and diarrhea contain trillions of cells of virus and can live on surfaces two weeks or more! Salmonella, usually associated with eggs and poultry, can even be antibiotic resistant. Infants can become sick from just breathing dust with salmonella bacteria in it. E.coli is most often associated with meat, however, it is showing up in produce regularly. E.coli is a result of contamination from fecal matter, usually cow. It is transmissible from person to person and carried in human waste for up to 150 days. It is often misdiagnosed and is a chief cause of kidney failure in children

Food borne illnesses are preventable! Don't handle food when you have been sick. Proper hand washing is key. Wash your hands for at least 20 seconds. Use warm water, apply soap, scrub rinse and dry using a single use paper towel instead of a hand or kitchen towel. Hand towels and kitchen towels easily hold bacteria which can be transferred to clean hands when used for drying.

Michelle Jarvie shared the importance of personal hygiene and ways to properly sanitize the kitchen where foods would be prepared. Make sure proper sanitizing procedures have been utilized with work surfaces and tools you will use for food preparation. Any area that will be touched as you work, even cupboard knobs need to be properly sanitized!

Keep a refrigerator at 41 degrees Fahrenheit and the freezer at 0 degrees Fahrenheit. Rinse produce in lukewarm water thoroughly. Don't place your produce in a bath of water as this just mixes bacteria around throughout the produce. It is best to rinse under running water using a sieve or colander.

The Michigan Cottage Food Law also has specific packaging requirements including every package label to include the exact statement, "Made in a home kitchen that has not been inspected by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development."

The second portion of the presentation shared by Wendy Wieland, MSU Product Center Innovation Counselor, instructed the attendees of tips and guidelines for the financial needs of running a cottage food business. More information can be attained through the Michigan State University Product Center. Information shared there includes starting your business, growing your business, strategic support and the 2015 Making It In Michigan Conference and Marketplace Trade Show held on November 10, 2015 at the Lansing Center in Lansing, MI.

By taking the class, everyone received a Michigan Cottage Food Law certificate to be displayed in their booth when they sell at a market or fair. This way the public will know that the vendor has taken Michigan State University Extensions workshop on Michigan's Cottage Food Law and understands food safety guidelines.

Starting a cottage food business can not only be fun, but rewarding when following Michigan Cottage Food Law guidelines. Currently, you may earn as much as $20,000 a year with a cottage food business! Who knows, you may grow so big you will want to move into establishing a full food service business. If you are interested in learning more about receiving a workshop certificate, visit http:// tinyurl.com/msufoodworkshop. For more information on the cottage food industry or extended food processing and selling, go to http://tinyurl.com/mdard-

We look forward to seeing you at the LTBB Barter Days and the upcoming farmers market held at the Odawa Casino Resort in Petoskey, MI!

No Insurance? See if you qualify for the Healthy Michigan Plan!

The Healthy Michigan Plan provides health care benefits to Michigan residents at a low cost so that more people can have health care coverage. Individuals are eligible for the Healthy Michigan Plan if they:

•Are age 19-64 years

•Have income at or below 133% of the federal poverty level* ($16,000 for a single person or $33,000 for a family of four)

Do not qualify for or are not enrolled in Medicare
Do not qualify for or are not enrolled in other Medicaid programs

•Are not pregnant at the time of application

 Are residents of the State of Michigan
 *Eligibility for the Healthy Michigan Plan is determined through the Modified Adjusted Gross Income methodology.

If you do not have insurance and would like to fill out an application, contact Valorie Glazier, Patient Benefits Specialist, at 231-242-1748 or by e-mail at vglazier@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov to set up an apointment today!

Contract Health: Remember to Get Your Reference Number Every Time

Submitted by the Contract Health Department

Contract Health Service (CHS) is a federally funded program, which can pay for medical care not available through direct services at the LTBB Health Clinic in Petoskey, MI, if the patient meets eligibility requirements.

One very important requirement for CHS to pay for non-emergency patient medical services is PRIOR AUTHORIZATION. Per federal regulation, the patient is required to notify CHS of any non-emergency medical service needed PRIOR to the medical service occurring. The patient is also required to provide information supporting the need for the medical service, so the CHS Managed Care team can make a decision regarding the medical need for the service and patient eligibility.

In the CHS Program, prior authorization means a REFERENCE NUMBER or a faxed approval for a prescription refill. Getting a reference number equals getting prior approval for a medical service provided outside of the LTBB Health Clinic.

Here are some examples where patients need to get prior authorization:

- A patient gets approval for his or her first appointment with an outside provider. The patient needs to get a reference number for the first appointment and a new reference number for all follow-up appointments.
- Prescriptions: Patients are required to call CHS for prescription refills; CHS faxes approval to the pharmacy before the prescription is refilled.
- Patients see a provider and get an order for an x-ray or other test. The patient must get a reference number for the x-ray or test if the test or x-ray is not done in the provider's office.

• Patients see an outside provider, and the provider refers the patient to another outsider provider. The patient must get a reference number for the visit with the new provider.

If patients do not get approval from LTBB CHS BEFORE their medical service occurs, then CHS will not pay the bill from the provider. That bill will become the responsibility of the patient. No reference number (or faxed approval for prescriptions) will mean no payment.

The CHS front desk is staffed Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., and the voicemail is active 24 hours a day. The voicemail is checked first thing in the morning and continuously throughout the day. Patients can call for prescription refill approvals and reference numbers anytime. Reference numbers will be given right away for services which do not require managed care approval. For services required to be approved by managed care, patients can get reference numbers after managed care approval is given. Prior approval is required for non-emergency care.

For emergency care, non-elder patients must notify CHS of the emergency care within 72 hours of the start of the emergency care, and elder patients must notify CHS of the emergency care within 30 days. Per federal regulation, emergency means any medical condition for which immediate medical attention is necessary to prevent the death or serious impairment of the health of an individual.

Thank you for your cooperation, and we look forward to serving you. Please contact CHS at 231-242-1600 with any questions.

ODAWA TRAILS JULY 2015

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

LEGISLATIVE CORNER

Dear Tribal Citizens,

I respectfully submit this letter in response to a request for an explanation of the "per capita" distribution and the necessary steps needed to change/increase the current amount. I hope this letter will provide answers to your questions and give further explanation of how net gaming revenues can be used by a tribe.

Before we begin with the steps necessary to change the per capita amount, I will briefly explain what 25 U.S.C. is, what § 2701 (subsection 2701) addresses, acceptable use of net gaming revenue and the definition of per capita payment.

- Title 25 U.S.C. outlines the role of Indians in the United States Code.
- 25 U.S.C. § 2701 et seq. is a 1988 United States federal law which established the jurisdictional framework which governs Indian gaming, also known as the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (IGRA)
- Net revenues from any tribal gaming are not to be used for purposes other than to fund tribal government operations or programs; to provide for the general welfare of the Indian tribe and its members; to promote tribal economic development; to donate to charitable organizations; or to help fund operations of local government agencies;

• Per capita payment means the distribution of money, paid from net gaming revenues to all members of the tribe.

The current per cap budgeted amount is $500/member, equaling an annual payment of $2,312,541 or 18.2% of net gaming revenue. The additional amount of $99/member which has been approved through a separate supplemental funding request is still in keeping with the RAP approved percentage of 20%, however, as membership continues to increase and if RAP is maintained at 20%, this amount may decrease. In order to change the per capita payment amounts per 25 U.S.C. § 2701 et seq. Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, the following steps must occur:

LTBB/Tribe must pass a resolution which modifies the Revenue Allocation Plan (RAP) and forward to the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) for review and approval. Note: The current LTBB RAP percentage designated for per capita distribution is capped at 20%.

The BIA Superintendent of the field office having immediate administrative responsibility of the tribe, shall review and determine if the RAP meets the required gaming net revenue usage, and determine whether or not to approve the percentages presented.

Note: If a per capita distribution is more than 50% of the net gaming revenue, the following detailed information will be used to determine if it complies with IGRA: The number of enrolled members of the tribe; the number of enrolled members residing on the reservation; the number of enrolled members residing on the reservation who are unemployed; the number of businesses owned and/or operated by the tribe; the amount of revenues generated by each business available to the tribe for economic development; the level of essential government services such as water, sewer, housing, law enforcement, fire protection, road maintenance, tribal court, social service programs provided on the reservation; and whether the level of government services is curtailed because of lack of revenue.

Once RAP or modified RAP is approved by the BIA, the tribe can schedule distributions not to exceed the approved percentage amount.

Note: Failure to attain an approved RAP or modified RAP could bring an enforcement action against the tribe which could result in a fine or, in the case of a substantial violation, temporary and/or permanent closure of your gaming facility or facilities.

Thank you for the opportunity to answer your questions, and I hope my explanation has brought some clarity on the steps required before a per capita can increase from $500 to $2,500. Please note raising the per capita to $2,500/member will equal 90% of the tribe's net gaming revenue and would greatly impact/curtail the current level of government services. In order to maintain the current level of services while increasing per capita to $2,500/ member, the tribe would need a 350% increase from what the tribe is currently receiving from the casino.

If you would like more details about the tribal annual budget, please visit the Citizens' Only Portal which can be found on the LTBB website at www. ltbbodawa-nsn.gov. The Treasurer's 2014 Annual Report is posted on the portal, and it includes FY 2014 budget and the proposed budget for 2016.

AGREEMENT INFORMATION

By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce Assistant

The Department of Commerce (DOC) would like to remind the tribal membership about a few items pertaining to the Tax Agreement.

First of all, I cannot express enough how important it is to keep your address updated.

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is to officially change your address with the Enrollment Department. This must be done in writing and as soon as possible.

The DOC cannot and will not change the estimated beginning date (EBD) (which is always the first in any given month) of a member's tax exempt status (see example below).

It is YOUR responsibility to update your address on file with the Enrollment Department. This date will affect how many months you will be able to file the Annual Resident Tribal Member Sales Tax Credit (Tribal Form 4013). It is to your benefit to be able to file for the maximum number of months for this credit.

In addition, being an RTM will allow you to purchase large items such as vehicles, boats, motorcycles and off the road vehicles tax exempt.

There is a form that needs to be filled out called a "Request for TCE" (Tribal Certificate of Exemption), which is available in my office. Once this form is completely filled out, I will then issue the RTM the actual Tribal Certificate of Exemption (Tribal Form 3998).

If you plan on purchasing any of these items, please contact me FIRST, and I will be happy to get you the form via e-mail or fax. I am also able to fax the TCEs to the dealership you are doing business

Being an RTM will also allow you to be tax exempt on utility bills such as phone, cable, gas, propane, electricity, satellite and cellular service. If you have not filled out a Utility Provider Survey, please contact the DOC, and I will be happy to get one to you.

Also, another important thing to remember is if you do move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA), your RTM status does NOT take effect until the first day of the following month.

Example: I move to Petoskey, MI, (inside the TAA) on September 5, 2010. My RTM (EBD) status begins October 1, 2010. All updates are sent to the State of Michigan as close to the end of the month as

The LTBB Tax Agreement is viewable on the State of Michigan's website at:

If you have any other questions pertaining to the Tax Agreement, I can reached at my office at 231-242-1584 or via e-mail at tkeshick@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

Attention Tribal Businesses/Entrepreneurs!

If you would like to be on the tribal governmental vendor list for providing goods or services to the LTBB government, please contact Mandy Szocinski at 231-242-1439 or mszocinski@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov. Please be prepared to provide the following information: Name, contact information, good/services you are providing and any additional information as required. Supporting our tribal businesses is our preference. Chi Miigwech!

Tribal identification cards now have a hologram. This is an added security feature to eliminate duplication. We are phasing out the old cards. Once your Tribal identification card has expired, you will be issued the new hologram card along with a replacement fee of $10. Replacement cost includes: address change, lost card, expired cards and minors turning 21. There will be no fee charged for: elders (55 and up), first time picture identification card, name change, defective card, faded or cracked (must bring card to office).

For more information, please contact: Enrollment Assistant Linda Gokee at 231-242-1521 or Enrollment Officer Pauline Boulton at 231-242-1520

A Tribe's Identity

NATURAL RESOURCES PROTECTION A PRIORITY FOR LTBB NATURAL RESOURCES DEPARTMENT

By Beth Anne Eckerle, Imagine Editor

In 1836, great changes were under way in Emmet County for the indigenous tribe, the Odawa Indians. This area of Michigan had been solely their home for centuries.

The lands and waters here provided sustenance and shelter and had been the cornerstones of their spiritual and familial traditions and beliefs. Animals, the environment and the intrinsic qualities of this special place at the top of Michigan's mitten were viewed as valuable, life-sustaining resources and the Native Americans regularly gave thanks for earth's bounty.

But, it wouldn't stay only theirs forever. The arrival of settlers forever changed the tribe's relationship to the land; territorial fights over ownership in particular erupted as newcomers strove to stake their own claim to the wilds of the North. More and more Europeans were attracted here for the same bounty and opportunities to provide for their families and suddenly, the Indians found themselves treading new territory – fighting to stay in Michigan with the threat of a national removal movement afoot and facing the loss of the only lands they'd ever known, to the newcomers.

In 1836, a treaty was forged with the United States government that ensured at least in some measure that the Odawa would remain in Michigan and on their homelands in Northwest Michigan. The Odawa and four other tribes ceded over 26 million acres to the United States, paving the way for Michigan to become a state in 1837. The Odawa continued to fight for their right to stay in Northern

of the 1855 Treaty of Detroit which among other provisions reserved 12 townships in what is now Emmet and Charlevoix Counties for Odawa use. Even with the signing of these two federal agreements, there was a lengthy list of disputes and unmet treaty promises that followed. The next decades would bring many challenges for the tribal members as to how they could hunt, fish and live on the lands promised in the treaties. It was a struggle that would endure for generations. The Treaty of Washington signed on March 28, 1836, is still the benchmark used today by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians in establishing their rights to hunt, fish and gather around the Northern Great Lakes region. The LTBB's Natural Resources Department works every day to ensure those rights remain for tribal members and that careful, conscientious management practices are put in place as tribal policy.

In turn, those deliberate, diligent efforts benefit the entire Emmet County region and all who live here, tribal and non-tribal citizens alike.

Promoting, Honoring and Respecting a Connection

Clearly on the tribe's website, the Natural Resources Department states its mission: "We will continue to lead in the enforcement, conservation and management of tribal natural resources by successfully and responsibly preserving the LTBB's sovereign right to hunt and fish, both on the inland lands and waters as well as commercial and subsistence fishing on the 1836 Great Lakes. We will wisely utilize our natural resources in order to promote, honor and respect our traditional, spiritual and physical relationship with the land and waters."

Overseeing those department-wide efforts is Doug Craven, the LTBB Natural Resources Director and tribal member. He's been the department director for 13 years, since 2002. In his office on the tribe's main campus off Pleasantview Road in Harbor Springs, MI, Craven can be found coordinating any number of projects that work toward the goal of prudently managing and protecting the resources of Emmet County.

"For me personally, the ultimate goal is to keep that strong connection to the environment that is our tribal identity," said Craven, 39, of Pellston, MI. "Where we are is a very unique, special part of the world. As a tribe, we have a vested interest in seeing this area protected. This is our Odawa homeland.

"The work we do is not only for the LTBB; it benefits the greater community in general."

Over the past decade-plus, one of Craven's points of pride is his department's improved relationship with state and federal officials who also work toward natural resources management. When his department was first established 20 years ago, relations were strained as each entity - public and Odawa – learned about the other.

"Obviously, in the beginning, it was adversarial," Craven noted. "The Tribes have had reserved treaty rights since 1836, and the state held a different position on those rights. Ultimately, over the last 10 years especially, we can all see that we have the same goal: To have a healthy environment in Michigan. We're able to get more ideas out in the open now when we're all in a room together and on the same page?

The Natural Resources Department has a relatively new history in the local tribe at 20 years old. It was one of the first departments established when the Odawa earned federal reaffirmation status in 1994 under then President Bill Clinton. The official reaffirmation process was a lengthy one for the local tribe and also a very meaningful national recognition of its status. Because of the tribe's long-standing dependence on natural resources, it's not surprising then that the Natural Resources Department was among the first to be formally established in 1996 as the government structure of the tribe started to take shape.

The department is headed by Craven and advised by a five-member Natural Resources Commission; members hold four-year staggered terms, and they are appointed by the tribe's legislative branch.

"Their primary role is to advise the Department and put regulations in place to govern the exercise of our treaty rights for hunting, fishing and gathering," said Craven.

Twenty-two full-time individuals work with Craven; it's one of the larger departments within the tribe. Those staffers include biologists, conservation officers, support staff and others. They focus on five program areas in particular: Great Lakes Fisheries; Inland Fish and Wildlife Management; Environment Services; Conservation Enforcement; and Administrative tasks.

Restoring Fish Populations a Priority

The examples of the department's work among those five key areas can be found throughout the shoreline communities of Emmet County, both the inland waters and the Great Lakes. Some of the most visible are the initiatives of the department's fisheries biologists who work year-round to ensure healthy populations of lake trout, whitefish, walleye and sturgeon through fishery assessments, research, management and propagation activities.

The department opened its state of the art Fisheries Enhancement Facility in 2013, north of Pellston, MI. The hatchery (which is different than the Michigan State Fish Hatchery in Oden, MI) is equipped with an indoor rearing system as well as two outdoor ponds capable of raising approximately 50,000 lake herring, 400-500 lake sturgeon and 40,000 walleye.

In the late summer of 2014, the tribe held a public event to release 677 fingerling lake sturgeon into the Sturgeon River at Burt Lake State Park in Indian River, MI.

The tribe has also been on the forefront of several efforts, including being the first entity to undertake a restoration effort of the lake herring species, the cisco. This project is being partially funded by > the U.S. Department of Commerce NOAA Grant Aquaculture Research Program. The tribe is interested in restoring the cisco population as it was historically a primary prey fish in Lake Michigan. In the early to mid-1900s, overfishing and other environmental stressors contributed to the cisco's near elimination.

'We are the first to be rearing them for reintroduction, as part of a pilot project," Craven noted, adding that the Tribe released 50,000 fingerling cisco into Little Traverse Bay in the summer and another 7,000 in the fall of 2014.

"Historically, there was a very robust population of the cisco in the Great Lakes. It was a key component in the food chain in the lakes, and then, it crashed."

The Great Lakes and inland lakes of Northern Michigan are indeed much different now than they were historically, Craven continued. Invasive species, both plant and animal, and contaminants have changed the make-up of the waters and they too are a target of the tribe's efforts. For example, in an effort to stem the invasive Eurasian watermilfoil plant in Paradise Lake, the tribe successfully applied for a grant from the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative to build a boat washing station on the lake to control the spread of aquatic invasive species. It's been helping eliminate the spread of this oxygen-choking plant.

Water quality is an extremely important issue to the tribe, and also close to the heart for tribal members who hold it as a sacred, fundamental life element. It's no surprise that management of water quality in Northern Michigan gets a lot of attention from Craven and his crew.

Staff are continuously monitoring threats to water quality in places like the Bear River in Petoskey, the pristine and barely touched Wycamp Lake near Cross Village and sprawling Walloon Lake in Emmet and Charlevoix counties, where shoreline homes and associations continue to rapidly grow. Private property owners are educated via printed materials about how their activities - like fertilizing lawns - can be detrimental to water quality and the Tribal-led installation of greenbelts along the shoreline in several lakeside communities has helped homeowners capture some of the sediments and toxins before they reach the water. The tribe successfully received grant funding for a number of greenbelt projects, which they plan to continue recommending.

"If we are going to have growth, we need to be thinking about water, septic and sewer," Craven said. "The biggest impact we see to this area from growth is to our water."

Working Together on Large-Scale Efforts, with a Local Passion

Collaboration with multiple state and federal agencies and tribes throughout Michigan has been a positive trend in natural resource management, Craven said. Often, his department staff will need to work with Michigan Department of Natural Resources, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and U.S. Forest Service staff on large-scale efforts. Additionally, there are some mandated shared activities with other tribes in the state. The tribal office here brings a local level of awareness to what are often state or national-level concerns.

"Our tribal members are part of these communities," he said. "I feel that gives us a real advantage.

We are able to achieve a lot more in that regard and have more time and vested interest in the issues here. And because we are not a large bureaucratic entity such as the federal or state government, we can be more fluid in our strategies."

"At the base level, we do have different perspectives. We strive to look long term with a 'seven generations' philosophy in mind: How will things look into the future seven generations from now?'

One project that has captivated staff is an eagle monitoring program that was started around 2003. At that time, there were 13 nesting pairs of eagles and today, there are more than 25 due to the tribe's diligence in tracking them and ensuring protected habitat. To help the population rebound, the tribe has developed a research project where eaglets are outfitted with a backpack that carries transmittal data equipment inside. By analyzing the data, Craven and his department are able to see where the eagles are traveling to and nesting. To thrive, eagles need large spaces of land and sky that don't overlap with other eagles. In early summer, staff can be found climbing trees to monitor nests and outfit eaglets with backpacks. The harnesses are attached with a degradable thread and they fall off after three

"The parents aren't very happy about that," Craven said. "But, the eaglets are accepted back by their parents, and we are learning important information to help the species. In the short term, we're able to get a better idea of their movements and in the future, we can use this data to help manage habitats."

The more you listen to the various programs of the LTBB Natural Resources Department, the more clear it becomes how one effort ties to the next as the tribe works to protect the way of life first experienced by their ancestors so many centuries ago. While so much has changed, the efforts of Craven and his staff will help to ensure the best of Emmet County won't be lost to development, population growth and infringement on the bountiful natural

WHAT DOES THE LTBB NATURAL Resources Department Handle?

The NRD provides many services and performs many duties for the LTBB membership. These include issuing LTBB Inland Hunting/Fishing Licenses for LTBB Reservation; issuing Inland Hunting/Fishing licenses for the 1836 Ceded Territory; issuing LTBB Commercial Fishing Licenses for the Great Lake 1836 Treaty; gathering and analyzing Great Lake fish data; gathering and analyzing specific wildlife data; developing management plans, strategies and regulations; and enforcement of tribal regulations within jurisdiction of the LTBB tribe and treaty lands.

For tribal members and the interested public, reports (including annual harvest and fishing reports), applications, forms, policies and regulations can all be found on the tribe's website, Natural Resources Division: www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov

To register for the Great Lakes Policy Report, a quarterly news report published digitally by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Natural Resources Department's Environmental Services Program, contact environmentalservices@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov

"Our staff members are extremely committed to this department. A lot of our cultural identity is attached to the resources here," he said. "These efforts are a priority to the Natural Resources Department but also the tribal community as a whole."

NRD REMINDS PUBLIC TO LEAVE WILDLIFE IN THE WILD

Submitted by the Natural Resources Department

Spring is the season for wildlife to give birth. The Natural Resources Department (NRD) reminds tribal citizens and other Michigan residents to resist the instinct to try to help baby animals who may appear to be abandoned because in nearly every case, a parent is nearby, and the baby animal is not abandoned. Michigan's fawns, raccoons, fox kits, recently born black bear cubs, many species of chick and others may be out roaming as spring transitions into summer.

"The truth is, the animal doesn't need help - for example, even if a fawn appears to be abandoned, its mother is almost always nearby," NRD Wildlife Biologist Archie Kiogima said. "We appreciate the good intentions of those who want to help, but the animals are better off left alone than removed from the wild."

Kiogima said it's not uncommon for does to leave their young unattended for up to eight hours at a time; an anti-predator strategy which minimizes scent left around the newborn animals.

A mother fox along with her three baby foxes were seen near the Natural Resources Department building at 7845 Odawa Circle in Harbor Springs, MI, on May 26, 2015. Courtesy photos.

ground-dwelling birds and other wildlife," he said. "Even avian parents will continue to care for hatchlings that have fallen from a nest."

The NRD advises:

- Many baby animals will die if removed from their natural environment, and some have diseases or parasites that can be passed on to humans or pets.
- Some "rescued" animals who do survive become habituated to people and are unable to revert back to life in the wild. It is illegal to possess a wild deer or any other wild animals in Michigan, and every day, a deer spends with humans makes it that much less likely to be able to survive in the wild.
- Eventually, habituated animals pose additional problems as they mature and develop adult animal behaviors. Habituated deer, especially bucks, can become aggressive as they mature, and raccoons are well-known for this, too.
- The NRD also reminds tribal citizens as well as Michigan residents that it is unlawful to possess these animals without a valid permit or associated document allowing for possession.

The LTBB Natural Resources Department is committed to the conservation, protection, management, wise use and enjoyment of the tribe's natural and cultural resources for current and future generations.

BOOK REVIEW - WHILE THE LOCUST SLEPT: A MEMOIR BY PETER RAZOR

Report by Dawn Sineway Nephler

I recently read the memoir "While the Locust Slept" by Peter Razor. I found the book to be a haunting retelling of his childhood and the horrors he had to endure. The strength Peter showed as a child by trying to run away from the abusive orphanage not once but twice is awe inspiring. The courage he showed to stand up to his abuser is chilling.

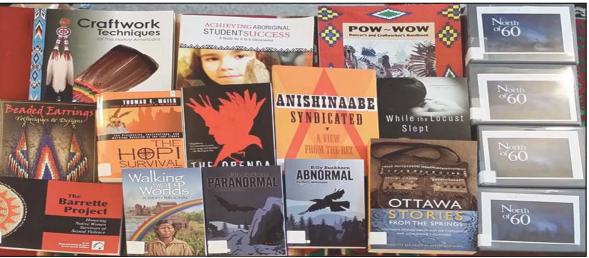

The story of his life on the farm and being treated like an animal reminded me of stories my father told me of his life working on a farm as a young man. It caused me to feel very angry. I wanted to jump in the pages of the book and right the wrong. I found myself feeling like that a lot throughout this book

I feel many people dealing with historical trauma could benefit from reading this book.

In my opinion, I give this book an A+. I found it haunting and surreal, the events in Peter's life will leave you raw with emotion, but you will be a better person in the end.

From the Executive Office

Our nation had a very special visitor this past month. Miss Uganda Leah Kalanguka came to visit as she toured our facilities and met with the Chief Judge. Our youth prepared a meal for her, and the youth drum group honored her with a song. We were very excited she took time out of her tour of the U.S. to visit with our youth. She works on a lot of agriculture and youth initiatives in Uganda and is a pineapple and mushroom farmer. It was great she was able to talk about Uganda with our youth.

We have begun the summer programming, and our departments are busy. Our SPRING Grant jiimaan was in the blessing of the fleet event in Harbor Springs, MI. The Natural Resource Department (NRD) released 2,100 lake herring fish, also known as cisco, into Little Traverse Bay at the Harbor Springs boat launch. The fish were a year old and were raised at our tribal hatchery. The cisco is an important link in the food chain that is making a comeback with our help. NRD staff is also collecting data and gathering information regarding the vegetation, reptiles and other points of interest from Beaver Island.

We have 70 registered youth with the Waaniigaanzijik Youth Department! June 15, 2015 marked the first day of our summer programming with the hours being 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monthrough Thursday. will revert back to an afterschool program once school is back in session in the fall. Youth Services has been collaborating with the Education Department on the day camp activities offered through the Education Department, and for the next few weeks, Youth Services will be assisting and participating with the day camp. The Education Department and Youth Services Department staff have incorporated language and many cultural activities in the camp curriculum.

The Health Department was busy planning the Health Fair held on June 19, 2015. We always have a great turnout, and it is great outreach to the community as it is very well attended. The Michigan Indian Family Olympics is coming up on July 17, 2015. Please call Cathy Gibson at 231-242-1601 to register to compete on the LTBB team. We look to again bring home some medals.

The Language Department has commenced the summer immersion class held at the LTBB Community Center. The department conducts language programming with the Youth Services Department and its staff. Additionally, the department held some very informative and fun exercises at the SPRING Program's Title VII Year-End Celebration. The Language Department received notification this year's ANA grant submission qualified for technical assistance to strengthen an already strong proposal. The funding agency could not confirm the proposal would be funded, but with a little adjusting, it will score higher in the review process.

We have a lot of staff running amazing programs for the summer, and throughout the year, I encourage you to reach out and participate in the activities being offered.

Lastly, I have been able to attend a few graduation celebrations, and I would like to take the time to say prayers and blessings to all of our graduates and to their future.

Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin ANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

FOUR LTBB TRIBAL CITIZENS AMONG THE 2015 PANE LANGUAGE IMMERSION GRADUATES

Submitted by the Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Department

Congratulations to Mary L. Gasco, Alice Hughes, Carla Osawamick and Michael Smith! They each earned a four-year diploma for their participation in the Nishnaabemwin Pane Immersion Program (NPIP). Their graduation ceremony was held on May 15, 2015. We're proud of their determination and perseverance to learn Anishinaabe language!

D.J. Eagle Bear Vanas was the keynote guest speaker. Mr. Vanas is a Michigan native and a member of the Odawa nation. He is the author of the book "Tiny Warrior: A Path to Personal Discovery & Achievement." He is also a veteran, an entrepreneur and a professional motivational international speaker.

NPIP is a program of Bay Community College (BMCC), located in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan on the Bay Mills Indian Community reservation, near Brimley, MI. LTBB coordinates a satellite location of the NPIP or Pane [puh nay] Program. Classes are held on weekends at the LTBB Community Center in Harbor Springs, MI, five weekends each semester for a total of 15 weekends each year. The weekend class schedule is Fridays from 1-8 p.m., Saturdays from 8 a.m. - 8 p.m., and Sundays from 8 a.m. -

The NPIP Program offers four-year and six-year diplomas. Most LTBB students take one course at a time, so it takes much longer to complete the diploma requirements. To complete the course in four or six years, students must be full-time and earn 14 credits each semester, including summer semester. The NPIP Director at BMCC is Michele Wellman-Teeple. She coordinates the program and instructors for both on-campus and off-campus courses. Aside from the on-campus course, LTBB is one of only two satellite sites. Keweenaw Bay Indian Community, near Baraga, MI, also offers the immersion program in its community.

The class is taught by two fluent Anishinaabe speakers, who do not use English but Anishinaabemowin only, throughout the weekend. The teachers also use motions, facial expressions and drawings, which help a great deal to get the meaning across to students. The students mostly speak English to each other and in response to the teachers' questions. It sounds more difficult than it really is. The students listen. The teachers communicate. The more one listens, the better and better he or she becomes at understanding. It's a very low pressure, non-intimidating way of learning language directly from first fluent speakers.

Learning any second language can be a challenge for adults. It takes consistent practice and dedication. The LTBB Pane Program has several LTBB citizens and community members who participate regularly. Most students use additional resources to help Anishinaabemowin learning such as online classes, Internet resources, books and audio materials. We're proud of our students and their commitment toward language revitalization.

The Pane Program at the LTBB Community Center is open to all community members to visit and attend the weekend immersion classes. You do not have to be a registered student; anyone can attend as a guest. Guests are welcome to "pop in" anytime and stay as little or as long as they would like to. We invite and encourage people to experience the beautiful sounds of our language, the Anishinaabe humor and the entertaining stories. For anyone considering the class, this makes a good opportunity to check out the class first.

For more information about the program, contact Gwendolyn Gasco at 231-242-1457 or ggasco@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov. See our monthly postings in the Odawa Trails for Pane dates and schedules.

Elders Department Report

Submitted by the Elders Department

Housekeeping and snowplowing are available to LTBB Elders in Emmet County, MI, on a limited basis.

Participants must live alone or have a housemate with verifiable limitations, must meet income guidelines and live in Emmet County, MI.

Snowplowing applications must be completed with supporting documentation by September 30 in order to qualify for the plowing season. All applications must be renewed annually.

Housekeeping applications must be completed prior to March 30 with supporting documentation. Participants must live in Emmet County, MI, or in tribal housing. All applications must be renewed an-

LTBB is ONE of four tribes who received a Falls Prevention grant from the National Council on Aging (NCOA). We have implemented a falls prevention program in which tribal elders practice Tai Ji Quan prior to Elder Luncheons on Tuesdays and Thursdays to develop the muscles for stability, strength and poise. Our goal is that stamina and self-assurance is built, decreasing the concern about and the number of falls in our tribal elder popula-

Falls are the leading cause of injury deaths among older adults. Twenty-five thousand older adults die each year from a fall, one every 20 minutes. Every 13 seconds, an older adult is treated in an emergency department for a fall. Thirty-four billion dollars is spent on direct medical costs related to falls. Among people who fall, less than half talk to their healthcare provider about it.

Elders Department Manager Arlene Naganashe and Elders Coordinator Tammy Okuly-Shananaquet attended the CDSME and Falls Prevention National Resource Centers Meeting held April 28-30, 2015 in Arlington, VA.

The National Council on Aging is funded by the U.S. Administration for Community Living, Administration on Aging as the National Resource Center on Chronic Disease Self-Management Education Programs. The center assists states, the aging, disability and public health networks and their partners increase access to and sustain evidence-based prevention programs that improve the health and quality of life of older adults and adults with disabilities. It also serves as the national clearinghouse of tools and information on CDSME programs.

LTBB Tribal Citizens Richard Wemigwase, Debra Smithkey-Browne and Joann Carey recently took the oath of office as Elders Commissioners from Chief Judge Allie Greenleaf Maldonado. Carey and Wemigwase are serving three-year terms while Smithkey-Browne is serving a two-year term. LTBB Tribal Citizens Lisa Flynn and Janice Shackleford are also serving twoyear terms on the Elders Commission.

WOS 2015-001 Elders Commission established the Elders Commission to advise the Kijaajik (Elders) Department and aid the department in obtaining its statutory duties of providing services to meet the needs of the Kikaajik. Commissioners are nominated by the Executive and appointed by Tribal Council.

LTBB Victim Support Services is again participating in the

Red Shawl Project

Workshops will be ongoing and are being held every other Tuesday through August, starting Tuesday, May 12, 2015. Workshops will take place at the Health Dept. upstairs conference room beginning at 5 p.m.

> Please call Stacey at 231-242-1628 for more information.

May 26/ June 9 & 23/July 7 & 21/August 4 & 18

The Red Shawl Project was developed to honor all those survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault and intimate partner violence. You don't have to be a survivor or victim to participate in this project. Just be willing to show your support of those victims who have survived or those who are still suffering in

We encourage using the colors of red, purple and teal for these shawls.

Red represents the blood that has been shed by victims. Teal represents sexual assault awareness.

Purple represents domestic violence awareness.

Materials will be provided for those who would like to participate. Shawls will be presented at the Traditional Jingtamok in September 2015.

NATIVE NEWS

Beaver Island Veterans Memorial Park Dedication Ceremony August 1, 2015

Editor's note: The following is a press release from Bob Tidmore, AMVETS Post 46.

In 2010, the AMVETS Post 46 on Beaver Island, MI, constructed a Veterans Memorial Park on the shore of the harbor for commemorative bricks with names and service information of veterans from all across the country, who served in the armed forces of the United States.

In the summer of 2014, the post sent a grant request to the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa & Chippewa Indians to purchase bricks for Native Americans veterans from the Beaver Archipelago, and the grant request was awarded that fall. A project team to develop the list of names included George Anthony of Traverse City, MI, Alvina Napont and members of Post 46. The original list of 20 names expanded to more than 40 men and women from the archipelago. These men and women served in the Civil War, World War I, World War II, the Korean War, the Cold War, Vietnam, Iraq and Afghanistan plus those currently on active duty.

The post will formally dedicate the bricks on August 1, 2015 at 1 p.m. We also have reserved the Beaver Island Community Center for that day and plan on showing the move Road to Andersonville at 3 p.m. This is a documentary of the service of the 139 Native Americans who served in Company K, First Michigan Sharpshooters during the Civil War. Some of the members of that unit were captured and interred in the infamous Confederate Andersonville prison. There will be no charge for the movie.

Those wishing to attend the dedication can travel to the island via the Beaver Island ferry, which on that day will have runs to the island from Charlevoix, MI, starting at 8:30 a.m. There are return trips to the mainland after the dedication, leaving the island at 2:20 p.m. and 5:20 p.m. It takes approximately two hours to get to the island on the ferry. Air transportation is also available to the island from the Charlevoix airport on Island Airways and Fresh Air Aviation. Trips by air to the island are approximately 20 minutes.

For more information, contact Bob Tidmore, AMVETS Post 46, at 231-448-3088.

THE FILM INDIAN RELAY NOW AVAILABLE ON AMAZON INSTANT VIDEO

You may now rent the film Indian Relay from Amazon Instant Video for $1.99.

Set against the sweeping panoramic vistas of the high plains, Indian Relay explores one of the most competitive, dangerous and thrilling forms of horse racing practiced anywhere in the world today.

An exhilarating mix of high-speed daring and exquisite horsemanship, Indian relay is a sport widely enjoyed and practiced by men and women from tribal nations across the Rocky Mountain West. Each race begins with up to eight athletes riding bareback around a track at full gallop. After one lap, barely slowing down, the riders leap from their speeding horses to a second set of horses. Each team's handlers must then catch the first horse or risk being disqualified, creating a chaotic melee of 32 people and 24 race horses in the middle of the track. After another top-speed lap and another daring horse change, the teams race for the finish line at speeds topping 40 miles an hour.

Indian Relay follows teams from the Shoshone-Bannock Nation in Idaho, and the Crow and Blackfeet Nations, both of Montana, as they prepare for and compete across a grueling Indian relay season — all hearts set on the glory and honor of winning the National Championships. While they are rivals on the track, the young relay racers share a deep bond through their love of the sport and pride in their Native traditions. As the film traces triumphs and setbacks during the course of the racing season, their strength and determination shine through, and serve as a beacon of hope for the families and their communities.

"Gaming Enterprise Board" continued from page 1. gaming industry or a minimum of six years of gaming work experience. 3. Possess leadership qualities, show good judgment, is approachable and team oriented. 4. No person can serve on the Gaming Enterprise Board who is an elected official of LTBB, except in the case of implementing the section on Transition of Authority. 5. No person can serve on the Gaming Enterprise Board who is employed by any gaming enterprise of LTBB. 6. No person shall serve as a Gaming Enterprise Board member, who is within seven years of completion of a sentence or probation upon being convicted of a felony in tribal, state or federal court unless such conviction has been vacated or overturned. 7. No person shall serve as a Gaming Enterprise Board member who is on a security ban from the gaming enterprise or who has been banned in the last two years unless the ban is a self-imposed ban.

The Gaming Enterprise Board was established with the members of the Gaming Authority Committee (Tribal Councilors Aaron Otto, Marci Reyes and Beatrice A. Law) continuing to serve on the Gaming Enterprise Board until they are replaced by the newly serving Gaming Enterprise Board members, provided that the Gaming Authority Committee still hold their seats on Tribal Council.

Gaming Enterprise Board members, who meet the required qualifications, shall be approved by a majority vote of Tribal Council. Three persons shall serve for a three-year term on the Gaming Enterprise Board, and two persons shall serve for a two-

The essential duties and responsibilities of the Gaming Enterprise Board include to employ a General Manager, to employ staff, including consultants to carry out board functions, to approve policies and procedures and monitor compliance of such through the General Manager, maximize gaming revenue and associated EBITDA of Odawa Casino Resort, maximize employment opportunities for tribal citizens and implement WOS 2015-009 Gaming Enterprise Board.

WOS 2015-009 Gaming Enterprise Board passed unanimously 7-0 at the April 23, 2015 Tribal Council Meeting. In the purpose section of the statute, it states the board is intended to minimize the potential for political interference with business decision-making.

HUW DID WE GET HEKE?

- WOS 1995-015 Gaming Administration Ordinance created the Gaming Administration, which consisted of three tribal members appointed by Tribal Council. Eligibility requirements included being an enrolled member of the tribe and being able to qualify for licensing under the tribe's Gaming Regulatory Ordinance. WOS 1995-015 also stated no person could be appointed to the Gaming Administration who was employed in gaming operations by another federally-recognized Indian tribe or any other facility or enterprise conducting gaming, and no person could have been convicted of a felony in tribal, state or federal court within seven years prior to the date of appointment.
- WOS 1997-020 Technical Amendment to Gaming Administration Ordinance amended WOS 1995-015. The eligibility requirements remained the same as stated in WOS 1995-015, but it added the stipulation that the enrolled member of the tribe be at least 21 years of age.
- WOS 1999-006 Gaming Administration Ordinance repealed and replaced WOS 1995-015 as amended by WOS 1997-020. WOS 1999-006 stated the Gaming Administration shall function as a separate tribal entity with sole responsibility for carrying out the duties set out in this statute. It also stated the new Gaming Administration would consist of five tribal members, not three as stipulated in the previous statutes. The eligibility requirements remained the same as the previous statutes, however, it stated no person can be elected to the Gaming Administration who is a member of the Tribal Council or who is employed by the tribe or the tribal gaming

- WOS 1999-009 repealed and replaced WOS 1999-007. The eligibility requirements were the same as WOS 1999-006, however, it stated a former Tribal Council member could not serve on the Gaming Administration until one year after leaving office. Members of the Gaming Administration were elected to serve four-year terms and could be reelected for additional terms without limitation. Elections were to be conducted in accordance with the rules, procedures and time lines described in the tribe's election statute.
- WOS 2000-001 Amendment to Gaming Administration Statute amended WOS 1999-009 to enable the Tribal Council to exercise its full authority under the tribal Constitution to manage all economic enterprises of the tribe, to review actions taken by any subordinate tribal entity and to revoke any delegated authority. Tribal Council oversight of the Gaming Administration meant Tribal Council could review all action taken by the Gaming Administration and could revoke or amend any such
- WOS 2000-02 Gaming Administration repealed and replaced WOS 1999-009 as amended by WOS 1999-013 and WOS 2000-001. It stated the Gaming Administration appointed under the statute would assume all legal obligations, including contracts, leases and subleases of the Gaming Administration serving under WOS 1999-009. In this statute, Tribal Council still had oversight and could review all action taken by the Gaming Administration and could revoke or amend any such action. However in this statute, it stated a member of the Gaming Administration shall not be employed in any position with the tribal gaming enterprises for a period of 45 days after leaving the administration.
- WOS 2004-08 Gaming Board of Directors Statute repealed and replaced WOS 2000-02 as amended by WOS 2001-12. WOS 2004-08 established a Gaming Board of Directors to develop policies and procedures for the orderly and efficient operation of the tribe's gaming enterprises and to oversee their operation. It stated the Gaming Board of Directors shall function as a Tribal Council entity with responsibility for carrying out the duties set out in this statute. It further stated the Gaming Board of Directors is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of Tribal Council. Appointments were made by a simple majority of a quorum of Tribal Council.
- WOS 2009-012 Gaming Delegation and Authority Statute repealed and replaced any previous Gaming Board of Directors statutes, including WOS 2004-08 and WOS 2001-12 as amended by WOS 2000-02. The purpose of WOS 2009-012 was to create the enterprises (meaning Odawa Casino Resort and ancillary enterprises and activities and other tribally owned enterprises or businesses related to gaming) and a Gaming Board of Directors as an Executive Committee in accordance with Article VII D (24), delegation of management responsibilities. In the eligibility requirements of this statute, the age of the enrolled member of the tribe was at least 18 and anyone considered for nomination to the board had to meet the following criteria: Three years of business or financial management experience or three years of gaming or hospitality management
- WOS 2010-021 Gaming Delegation and Authority Statute repealed and replaced any previous Gaming Board of Directors statute, including WOS 2009-012, WOS 2004-08 and WOS 2001-12 as amended by WOS 2000-02. This statute established the Gaming Authority Committee as a committee of Tribal Council with the committee consisting of three Tribal Council members appointed by the majority of Tribal Council for a two-year term provided that they were serving in their official capacity on Tribal Council.

Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement CERTIFICATE REDEMPTION UPDATE

Submitted by the Trust Fund Board

It has been more than a decade since the original Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement certificates were issued.

All adults have been paid or they have deferred payment to a later date, however, tribal children who were enrolled before December 16, 1997 but had not yet turned 18 are still in the process of redeeming their certificates.

The following steps are intended to aid in this process. Redeeming certificates from the Michigan Indian Land Claims Settlement Act, Public Law 105-143, are as follows:

- 1. Determine your eligibility: Tribal citizens who were enrolled, but had not reached the age of 18 on December 16, 1997 are eligible to redeem their certificates upon reaching the age of 18.
- 2. Sign your certificates with a notary: The tribal citizen redeeming his or her certificates must have a notarized signature. 3. Copy two pieces of identification: One piece of identification (e.g.
- Driver's license) must have a picture, and the second piece needs at least your signature. 4. Mail your signed certificates, the mailing address you would like your
- check sent to and two pieces of identification to the following address Note: The address on the certificates is not correct:

ATTENTION ALL RESIDENT TRIBAL MEMBERS (RTMs)

If you are planning to purchase a vehicle, ORV or plan on doing any home improvements to your principal place of residence, YOU NEED TO CONTACT ME FIRST before making the actual purchase(s). You must fill out the "Request for TCE" form located on the LTBB website or by contacting my office. I will then issue you a "Tribal Certificate of Exemption" for such purchases. The tribe no longer uses the Refund Method, as indicated in the monthly newsletter, as of January 1, 2008. If you've already made a purchase, there is no recourse! If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. Thank you. - Theresa Keshick at 231-242-1584.

Tax Agreement Reminder

When moving into the LTBB Tax Agreement Area, in order to become a Resident Tribal Member, you must change your address in writing at the Enrollment Department located in the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI. Your RTM status will take effect on the first day of the following month in which you moved.

LTBB TRIBAL CITIZEN HOPE DROGMILLER REPORTS ON THE 2015 MOTOR CITY COMIC CON

Hope Drogmiller, a 16-yearold LTBB Tribal Citizen from Novi, MI, covered the 2015 Motor City Comic Con for her publication, Mainstreamhope, an annual newspaper comic style

She attended the event held at the Suburban Collection Showplace in Novi, MI, on May 15, 16 and 17, 2015.

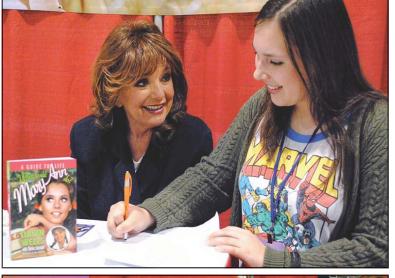

She distributed her sixth edition to all the early morning attendees waiting in line all three days; she distributed approximately 2,500 copies.

Hope was once again working the pavement with press pass in hand. Hope interviewed comic guests, illustrators and media guests all weekend. Hope attended and rubbed elbows with comic con guests at the Saturday night bash also.

The weekend was full of fun, and Hope interviewed most of the celebrity guests. Some guests interviewed included Dawn Wells, Mary Ann from Gilligan's Island, Ralph Macchio, the Karate Kid, several Walking Dead celebrities and many more.

Jim Demick created the artwork for the cover of Main-streamhope's coverage of the 2015 Motor City Comic Con.
