Free Tax Filing Assistance Available In Person and Online

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordina-

The date by which to file taxes in 2020 for 2019 income is April 15, 2020.

There are several free options available when filing both state and federal income taxes.

IRS Free File opened on January 10, 2020. Taxpayers, whose adjusted gross income was $69,000 or less in 2019, can do their taxes with a Free File provider, who will submit the return to the IRS. For 2020, the Free File partners are 1040Now, Inc., ezTaxReturn.com (English and Spanish), FileYourTaxes.com, Free tax Returns.com, H&R Block, Intuit, On-Line Taxes, Inc., Tax ACT, Tax-Hawk, Inc. and TaxSlayer (English and Spanish).

Free file is a public-private partnership between the IRS and Free File, Inc. (FFI), a consortium of tax software providers who make their Free File products available at IRS.gov/FreeFile. Visit IRS.gov/freefile for instructions to use this free service.

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program offers free tax help to people who generally make $56,000 or less, persons with disabilities and limited English-speaking taxpayers who need assistance in preparing their own tax returns. IRS-certified volunteers provide free basic income tax return preparation with electronic filing to qualified individuals.

The Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) program offers free tax help for all taxpayers, particularly those who are 60 years of age or older, specializing in questions about pensions and retirement-related issues unique to seniors. The IRS-certified volunteers who provide tax counseling are often retired individuals associated with non-profit organizations that receive grants from the IRS.

Importance of the 2020 Census to the American Indian and Alaska Native Population

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

The 2020 Census counts every person living in the 50 states, District of Columbia and five U.S. territories (Puerto Rico, American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam and the U.S. Virgin Islands).

The count is mandated by the U.S. Constitution and conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, a nonpartisan government agency. Each home will receive an invitation to respond to a short questionnaire online, by phone or by mail. The census provides critical data lawmakers, business owners, teachers and many others use to provide daily services, products and support for you and your community. Every year, billions of dollars in federal funding go to hospitals, fire departments, schools, roads and other resources based on census data.

The results of the census also determine the number of seats each state will have in the U.S. House of Representatives, and they are used to draw congressional and state legislative districts.

It's also in the U.S. Constitution: Article 1, Section 2, mandates the country conduct a count of its population once every 10 years. The 2020 Census will mark the 24th time the country has counted its population since 1790

Participating in the census is required by law even if you recently completed another survey from the Census Bureau. A complete and accurate count is critical for you and your community because the results of the 2020 Census will affect community funding, congressional representation and more.

REAL ID Act and Tribal ID Cards

By Pauline Boulton, Enrollment Officer

Beginning October 1, 2020, every air traveler 18 years of age and older will need a REAL ID-compliant driver's license, state-issued identification card, enhanced driver's license or another acceptable form of ID to fly within the United States or enter certain federal facilities. (see www.tsa.gov/real-id)

As a federally recognized tribe, the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, are exempt from the REAL ID Act. This means our photo tribal identification cards can be accepted when flying domestically.

When travelling internationally, you will be required to have a passport or other identification as indicated by the U.S. Department of State.

Often, we in Enrollment, are asked about using our tribal IDs to enter and return from Canada by land. According to the Canada Border Service Agency website, they will accept a Certificate of Indian Status along with photo identification. After speaking with one of its agents, it was confirmed our photo tribal ID cards will be accepted as they have both a photo and signature.

When returning to the United States, however, you must provide a passport, passport card or enhanced driver's license. Your photo tribal ID

ODAWA TRAILS

Being Odawa is all about freedom. The Freedom to be a part of a people who, with integrity and pride, still have and speak our own language. The freedom to share in common with all other Odawak the customs, culture, and spirituality of our ancestors. The freedom we have today we will bring to the future through unity, education, justice, communication, and planning. We will reach out to the next seven generations by holding to cultural values of Wisdom, Love, Respect, Bravery, Honesty, Humility and Truth. We will utilize our Tribal assets to provide the necessary tools to become successful, hard-working community members who proudly represent our culture. With these values we will move the Tribe forward.

Already a quarter of a way through 2020.

We have so much going on at the government. We are reworking the website to be more user friendly and easier for our citizens to use and find information. We encourage participation in this process; you may send comments to website2020@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

Ads are appearing while scrolling through your social media feeds and during the evening news or maybe you keep hearing ads on your radio station. April 1st is Census Day 2020. Why is the census so important? Data collected by the census impacts political representation, federal funding, public policy and many other processes and systems that shape our lives and our children and grandchildren's lives. So, please be sure to fill out the census online or in paper format.

I hope to see everyone at the 4th Annual LTBB Round Dance on March 7th. It is a fun, social, community event our staff and volunteers have put time and effort into. We welcome you to come enjoy being with the community at large.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

TAX AGREEMENT INFORMATION

The Department of Commerce (DOC) would like to remind the tribal membership about a few items pertaining to the Tax Agreement.

First of all, I cannot express enough how import- ant it is to keep your address updated.

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is to officially change your address with the Enrollment Department. This must be done in writing and as soon as possible.

The DOC cannot and will not change the estimated beginning date (EBD) (which is always the first in any given month) of a member's tax exempt status (see example below).

It is YOUR responsibility to update your address on file with the Enrollment Department. This date will affect how many months you will be able to file the Annual Resident Tribal Member Sales Tax Credit (Tribal Form 4013). It is to your benefit to be able to file for the maximum number of months for this credit.

In addition, being an RTM will allow you to pur- chase large items such as vehicles, boats, motorcycles and off the road vehicles tax exempt.

There is a form that needs to be filled out called "Request for TCE" (Tribal Certificate of Exemp tion), which is available in my office. Once this form is completely filled out, I will then issue the RTM the actual Tribal Certificate of Exemption (Tribal Form 3998).

If you plan on purchasing any of these items, please contact me FIRST, and I will be happy to get you the form via e-mail or fax. I am also able to fax the TCEs to the dealership you are doing business

Being an RTM will also allow you to be tax exempt on utility bills such as phone, cable, gas, propane, electricity, satellite and cellular service. If you have not filled out a Utility Provider Survey, please contact the DOC, and I will be happy to get one to

Also, another important thing to remember is if you do move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA), your RTM status does NOT take effect until the first day of the following month.

Example: I move to Petoskey, MI, (inside the TAA) on September 5, 2010. My RTM (EBD) status begins October 1, 2010. All updates are sent to the State of Michigan as close to the end of the month as possible.

The LTBB Tax Agreement is viewable on the State of Michigan's website at:

https://tinyurl.com/ltbbmitax

If you have any other questions pertaining to the Tax Agreement, call 231-242-1584.

ATTENTION:

Fuel and tobacco exempted purchases are only available to LTBB tribal citizens for their own vehicles or consumption. LTBB citizens are not allowed to utilize their sales tax exemption for non-LTBB citizens or non-LTBB owned businesses! Making taxexempt purchases for non-LTBB citizens or businesses violates the tax agreement and may also violate applicable law. Store clerks have the right to deny any and all tax-exempt purchases that they have reasonable cause to believe are made for a non-tribal citizen or for the business/commercial vehicle of a citizen's employer. YOU WILL THEN BE CHARGED THE FULL PRICE FOR FUEL AND TOBACCO PURCHASES.

All citizens must remain present during the entire transaction.

ATTENTION ALL RESIDENT TRIBAL MEMBERS (RTMs)

If you are planning to purchase a vehicle, ORV or plan on doing any home improvements to your principal place of residence, YOU NEED TO CONTACT ME FIRST before making the actual purchase(s). You must fill out the "Request for TCE" form located on the LTBB website or by contacting my office. I will then issue you a "Tribal Certificate of Exemption" for such purchases. The tribe no longer uses the Refund Method, as indicated in the monthly newsletter, as of January 1, 2008. already made purchase, there is no recourse! If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. Thank you. Contact us at 231-242-1584

Nutrition Education Series

snack tips for parents

Snacks can help children get the nutrients needed to grow and maintain a healthy weight. Prepare single-serving snacks for younger children to help them get just enough to satisfy their hunger. Let older kids make their own snacks by keeping healthy foods in the kitchen. Visit ChooseMyPlate.gov to help you and save time by slicing veggies Store sliced vegetables in the refrigerator and serve with dips like hummus or low-fat dressing. Top half a whole-wheat English muffin with spaghetti sauce, chopped vegetables, and low-fat shredded mozzarella and melt in the microwave.

mix it up For older school-age kids, mix dried fruit, unsalted nuts, and popcorn in a snack-size bag for a quick trail mix. Blend plain fat-free or low-fat yogurt with 100% fruit juice and frozen peaches for a tasty smoothie.

grab a glass of milk A cup of low-fat or fat-free milk or milk alternative (soy milk) is an easy way to drink a healthy snack.

go for great whole grains Offer whole-wheat breads, popcorn, and whole-oat cereals that are high in fiber and low in added sugars, saturated fat, and sodium. Limit refined-grain products such as snack bars, cakes, and sweetened cereals.

nibble on lean protein Choose lean protein foods such as low-sodium deli meats, unsalted nuts, or eggs. Wrap sliced, lowsodium deli turkey or ham around an apple wedge. Store unsalted nuts in the pantry or peeled, hard-cooked (boiled) eggs in the refrigerator for kids to enjoy any time.

keep an eye on the size

Snacks shouldn't replace a meal, so look for ways to help your kids understand how much is enough. Store snack-size bags in the cupboard and use them to control serving sizes.

fruits are quick and easy Fresh, frozen, dried, or canned fruits can be easy "grab-and-go" options that need little preparation. Offer whole fruit and limit the amount of 100% juice served.

consider convenience A single-serving container of low-fat or fat-free yogurt or individually wrapped string cheese can be just enough for an after-school snack.

swap out the sugar

Keep healthier foods handy so kids avoid cookies, pastries, or candies between meals. Add seltzer water to a 1/2 cup of 100% fruit juice instead of offering soda.

prepare homemade goodies For homemade sweets, add dried fruits like apricots or raisins and reduce the amount of sugar. Adjust recipes that include fats like butter or shortening by using unsweetened applesauce or prune puree for half the amount of fat

"Blood Sugar Rising"

WCMU Awarded Grant for Diabetes Education & Outreach

A Local Community Engagement Project that includes a PBS film, speakers and free glucose screenings for Native Americans in Central and Northern Michigan.

Blood Sugar Rising Preview

Preview | 2m 18s

https://www.pbs.org/video/blood-sugar-rising-preview-qnrloh/

The current diabetes and pre-diabetes epidemic in the U.S. affects more than 100 million people in the U.S., claiming more lives than cancer and HIV combined, and costing more than $325 billion each year. "Blood Sugar Rising," a two-hour special broadcast coming from PBS in April 2020, puts human faces to these statistics, exploring the history and science of the illness through portraits of Americans whose stories shape the film, including Native Americans.

WCMU Public Media Local Content and Engagement with Native Americans in Central Michigan

At nearly 16%, American Indians and Alaska Natives have the highest age-adjusted prevalence of diabetes among all U.S. racial and ethnic groups.

"The rise in obesity and its related chronic diseases is particularly distressing to Michigan's Native American population who suffer from higher-than-average rates of diabetes, heart disease and stroke. Many of Michigan's Native Americans lack resources, live far from grocery stores and mainly shop for food at local convenience stores or gas stations. These small stores have little fresh produce and offer highly processed, low nutrient food, untraditional to Native American culture. These residents find it challenging to regularly participate in physical activity, especially when weather is less than ideal and access to fitness facilities is limited. If Native Americans become ill, they may visit their local Tribal Health Centers for basic medical care and treatment of disease or illness. Unfortunately, these centers sometimes have little resources to implement preventative activities for their community members to keep them from getting sick in the first place.

But, that was about to change. In 2013, the Michigan Department of Community Health's 4 x 4 Initiative requested applications from communitybased coalitions across the state. The Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan (ITCM) and its consortium of 12 federally recognized tribes and one urban American Indian Health and Family Services Agency applied and were funded to address barriers to healthy living in 13 tribal communities. ITCM's 4 x 4 Initiative approach was to promote balanced, realistic and manageable goals to increase healthy eating and exercise and to use education and media to promote a healthier lifestyle as a social norm. The project embraced holistic wellness and utilized community assets such as a history and knowledge of highly nutritious Native American traditional foods along with regular physical activity.

The Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan's 4 x 4 Initiative continued in 2014, working with six tribal agencies to accommodate that year's funding. The program was a continued success; each participating tribe implemented those activities which were the best fit for their unique communities."*

But, health education priorities have changed in the world of funding according to Noel Pingatore, Health Education and Chronic Disease Department Director at ITCM. The State of Michigan now provides funding focused more on cancer prevention and education and less on cardiovascular and diabetes illnesses. The successful 4 x 4 Initiative has been discontinued.

*Excerpted from "A Fork in the Road - Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan 4 x 4 Coalition."

What can WCMU do to support tribal health education and promote "Blood Sugar Rising"?

The Native American population nationwide now ranks #1 among ethnic groups for the onset of diabetes. But, they are also making great strides in reducing death caused by kidney failure brought on by diabetes. Some of WCMU's local programming will tell the story of Native Americans in central and northern Michigan, the work their Health Services Departments are doing, the struggles and accomplishments of the tribes and their members as they face this deadly disease.

WCMU recently received a grant from WGBH Boston, the PBS television station which originated the TV special, to fund our engagement/education efforts with four tribal Health Services departments as well as the development of local radio and television programs where the focus will be on diabetes among Native Americans and the general population in Michigan.

Tribal Engagement

WCMU's Community Outreach/Grants Manager, Linda Dielman, has contacted Health Services directors at four Michigan tribes who have agreed to partner with WCMU to host screening events of the PBS special on their reservations. We will coordinate with the Health Services staff at each tribe to gear the events toward their culture and needs. We know the ability of each tribe to do education and outreach differs for a variety of reasons, so the need to be flexible is paramount. In our initial discussions, the intent is to show segments of "Blood Sugar Rising" and host a panel of diabetes experts who can address diabetes in general and when possible from the Native American perspective. The events will occur in March and April 2020. These events will not be videotaped for broadcast without permission of the participants.

Our events are also designed to encourage action among those with pre-diabetes and diabetes. Central Michigan University College of Health Professions will bring its 39-foot customized mobile health clinic to each event to make available free glucose screenings. (Yes, these do require eighthour fasting.) The mobile clinic will be staffed by CMU medical students supervised by their faculty. (https://www.cmich.edu/colleges/CHP/mhc/Pages/ default.aspx) We estimate being able to perform approximately 50 screenings at each site.

Some tribes have stopped doing community health screenings because they don't have the resources and felt concern over how to handle follow up with at-risk members. By bringing the mobile clinic, tribal members will be able to get their glucose screening done, be provided their results and information on local resources (i.e., local doctors, health clinics) so the individual determines the next steps. If still timely, printed information designed by the 4 x 4 Initiative (geared specifically to the Native population), and resources from Indian Health Services will be available. The four events (one with each tribe) will be free and open to tribal members and staff.

Our collaborating tribes are:

- Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians - Emmet County March 20, 2020 at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI. Time – TBD. For more information, contact LTBB Health Educator Regina Brubacker-Carver at rbrubacker@ltbbodawa-nsn.gov

Local Broadcast Programming

WCMU Public Television will produce a special on diabetes as part of its long-standing "Ask the Experts" series. Most "Ask the Experts" episodes are done live-in-studio, but this time, we'll pre-produce the program to allow for more production elements and control over the questions asked of the experts.

WCMU Public Radio will generate local reporting about diabetes including

- Primer on diabetes Type 1, Type 2, Prevalence, Cost to Healthcare.
- The long-term effects of losing the traditional Native American diet.
- The progress being made in Michigan in the reduction of deaths attributable to kidney failure among Native Americans.
- · Living with diabetes, featuring a Central Michigan University student

WCMU Public Radio is also considering including diabetes as a topic for its new Collaborative Investigation on Rural Health Care.

Promotion

WCMU will provide strong promotional and publicity support across all platforms for "Blood Sugar Rising."

WCMU distributes approximately 14,000 program guides each month, which will include a full-page ad for BSR. WCMU's e-newsletters are produced and e-mailed twice each month to approximately 50,000 subscribers.

Paid social media ads to build awareness are included in WCMU's marketing plans as well as advertising for BSR and screening events in tribal communication assets. The screening events and the free glucose testing will be promoted together and separately to target tribal members who may not be interested in the film and panel event.

WCMU Public Media has provided television and radio programming and outreach/education activities for more than 50 years to residents of 42 counties in Michigan and portions of Ontario. With four television and eight radio stations, WCMU Public Media reaches more than two million people.

TRIBAL COURT ENCOURAGES COMMUNITY MEMBERS Participate in Upcoming Play

Submitted by Stuart Fenton, Tribal Court SDVCJ Coordinator/Trainer

LTBB Tribal Court is excited to announce it intends to host the play – Sliver of a Full Moon by Mary Kathryn Nagle.

Sliver is a very moving recount of events leading to the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) Reauthorization in 2013 and involves staged readings from survivors of domestic violence telling their stories to Congress.

The makeup of the participants varies by community and can include a combination of actors, real life survivors of domestic violence and community members playing the 12 main roles and chorus. We are requesting tribal citizens participate in the play. It would involve three days of rehearsals, including the actual production and no memorization.

Nagle, who is Native American herself, will be here to direct. We anticipate the play to be performed on August 28 in Petoskey, MI, pending Department of Justice approval of our grant

If you would be interested in participating in this unique opportunity, please notify Stuart Fenton, LTBB Special Domestic Violence Coordinator/Trainer at 231-242-1496 or sfenton@ ltbbodawa-nsn-gov no later than March 10.

This promises to be a very enriching experience for participants, audience members and the community at large.

PHOTOGRAPHS SOUGHT FOR AANKWADONG PROJECT

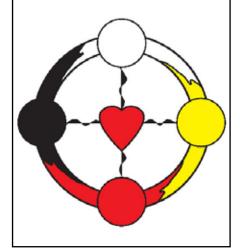

We are asking your assistance in acquiring photographs for our Aankwadong Project of the Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Department.

Aankwadong means "on the cloud."

It is the project name of our ANA language grant, a three-year grant awarded by the Administration for Native Americans under the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. We are developing online language classes to offer a two-year program. Free online language classes for community members and interested LTBB tribal citizens who live outside of the area. We are also developing online language classes to deliver to high school students as World Language credits for graduation requirements.

Part of the class development is to acquire photographs representative of LTBB Odawa people, all Odawa people and especially, young people who are high school or young adult/college age. We need your contributions of photographs, so we will have a variety of people and families represented in the images to be used throughout the language lessons and curriculum.

Anyone, who contributes a photo used in the project, will be acknowledged in the credits section of the class, the curriculum, video or lesson in which the photo is used. We will also put the name of the person contributing the photo into a prize drawing. Prizes will include items such as iTunes or Amazon gift cards of $20-$50 value. The drawing will be held in September.

Current photos needed are of one person doing an action or feeling (but later on, we'll be looking for photos of more than one person doing the same

Photo must be digital, of high quality and very clear. What action or feeling the photo represents must be easily recognized.

NATIVE NEWS

STOCKBRIDGE-MUNSEE COMMUNITY REMEMBERS BOB CHICKS

Editor's note: The following is a Stockbridge-Munsee Community press release. Robert "Bob" Chicks worked for LTBB as the WOCTEP (Waganakising Odawa Career and Technical Education Program) Lab Assistant.

The Stockbridge-Munsee Community suffered a loss when Robert "Bob" Chicks died on January 23, 2020.

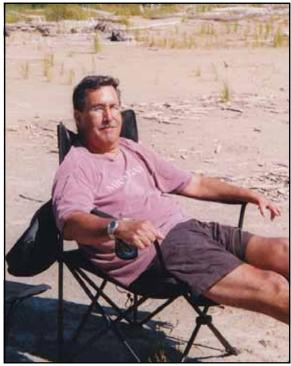

In remembrance of his past service as a tribal president and a councilmember, the Stockbridge-Munsee Community ordered flags be flown at half-staff from January 23, 2020 to the time of his burial service.

Bob Chicks served as tribal president from 1997 to 2013 with one term break in service as well as serving as a tribal employee and as a member of the Tribal Council. During his time on Tribal Council, Bob provided leadership and guidance on a wide variety of development projects and other issues. Bob was a driving force on the work to reach a self-paying settlement for the tribe's New York State land claim through a casino in the Catskills. The tribe's current Health and Wellness Center and the Pine Hills Clubhouse were built while Bob was tribal president and construction began on its current Mohican North Star Gaming and Resort facility during his tenure. The tribe also developed the Little Star gas station and its Mohican LP Gas Company businesses when he was tribal president.

Along with his service to the tribe, Bob Chicks also took a leadership role as part of national and state Indian organizations such as the National Congress of American Indians and the Midwest Alliance of Sovereign Tribes. Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohicans President Shannon Holsey said, "Bob was a tremendous leader for not only the Mohican Nation, but for all of Indian country. We have come a long way because of his important work. We are greatly indebted to his stewardship to the environment, the protection of our sovereignty, the vision he had for our nation and our tribe's growth and economic advancements."

The Stockbridge-Munsee Tribal Council, on behalf of the Stockbridge-Munsee Community, thanks Robert Chicks for his past service and provides their condolences to his wife and family for their loss.

The Stockbridge-Munsee Band of the Mohican Indians moved to what are now the towns of Red Springs and Bartelme in Shawano County, WI, as a result of the Treaty of 1856. Approximately half of the 1,500 members of the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe currently live on or near the reservation, which has several thriving businesses, including the Stockbridge-Munsee Health and Wellness Center, Mohican North Star Casino and Pine Hills Golf Course, making the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe the largest employer in Shawano County.

MIIGWECH

The family of Robert "Bob" Chicks would like to thank all those who made Bob's service so beautiful. Thanks, Anushiik, Miigwech to President Shannon Holsey, the Mohican Tribal Council, Mohican Tribal Council Secretary Jerilyn Johnson, Kemawin Dess and the staff of the North Star Casino Orion Event Center for all their work. Special thank you to Frank Ettawageshik of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians and Pastor Ralph Beversdorf for prayers and service. Thank you to the staff carrier, Joseph VanAlstine, Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, and to the Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohican Indians veteran JoAnn Schedler and Beau Miller, Tribal Conservation Warden, Mohican flag carrier.

We appreciate all those who came to honor Bob and shared how Bob impacted their lives. Thanks to all those who sent food and flowers and who spoke at the service to honor our husband and brother.

Thanks to all those who came to the visitation and service. It will never be forgotten just as Bob will never be forgotten.

Bob's legacy will continue with the donation of historically significant items to the Stockbridge-Munsee Arvid E. Miller Library and Museum.

"Our leaders must show a willingness to work hard and endure personal sacrifice. It is in this way that our people will be healthy, prosperous, and live to see joy in the eyes of our grandchildren."

AMERICAN INDIAN COLLEGE FUND PUBLISHES FREE CAREER PLANNING Guide - Culturally Relevant Career Advice for Native Americans FUNDED BY ATST FOUNDATION

Editor's note: The following is an American Indian College Fund (the College Fund) press release.

Native American college students have unique needs and challenges in higher education. Navigating their developing career paths while honoring their indigenous identities and communities is no different. To help Native students plan for and accomplish their career goals in college and at any stage of life, the American Indian College Fund has published a new "Career Pathways" guidebook.

While many career planning resources exist to help students prepare for work, the new "Career Pathways" guidebook was created by the American Indian College Fund to provide tailored resources and advice to meet the unique needs of indigenous students. The guide is filled with culturally relevant career preparation resources, including the advice of Native professionals and teachers shared from their own valuable experience. Tom Brooks (Mohawk), Vice President of External Affairs at AT&T and a member of the College Fund's Board of Trustees, introduces the publication with his own inspirational journey through education, career possibilities and the fulfillment of his current path.

The "Career Pathways" guidebook includes articles on identifying career goals, finding internships, applying to graduate school, studying for a skilled trade certification, interviewing skills, the advantages of joining a professional association, planning a career in Indian country and more. All articles are written with insight into Native culture such as incorporating indigenous style into professional wardrobes and finding careers that reflect Native graduates' cultural, tribal and personal values.

Career Pathways is available free of charge at www.collegefund.org/careerpathways. The new publication is a key to career readiness programs implemented at select tribal colleges and universities nationwide and was distributed at the American sortium (AIHEC) Legislative Summit in Washington, D.C., February 3-7, 2020, and will be distributed at AIHEC's Student Conference in March 2020 in Albuquerque, NM. High school and college educators, career counselors and Native student centers are encouraged to share the publication with their students.

For more information about the American Indian College Fund, please visit www.collegefund.org.

Indian Higher Education Con-Courtesy graphic. CLARE BOOTHE LUCE PROGRAM OF THE HENRY LUCE FOUNDATION GRANTS $300,000 to American Indian College Fund to Increase Number OF NATIVE WOMEN STUDYING AND WORKING IN STEM FIELDS - PROGRAM Includes Support to Promote Academic and Career Success Editor's note: The following is an American Indian College Fund press release. College Scholarships Increasing access to women in the science, FOR WOMEN IN technology, engineering and mathematics fields is vital for America to respond to today's economic, infrastructure and environmental challenges. The American Indian College Fund, with the support of a four-year, $300,000 grant from the Clare Boothe Luce Program at the Henry Luce Foundation, will continue to help grow the number of Native American women—a group with the lowest representation in the STEM fields—by earning a college degree to forge their careers.

The American Indian College Fund (the College Fund) has more than 30 years of experience administering successful scholarship programs designed to support the access, retention, graduation and workforce readiness of American Indian and Alaska Native (AIAN) scholars. The College Fund's 2014-2018 Clare Boothe Luce Women's STEM Tribal College Scholarship Program was one of its most successful to date. The program provided scholarships and wraparound services to participating students, ensuring a graduation rate of 100%.

The College Fund and Clare Boothe Luce Program will continue its success in increasing Native women studying and working in the STEM fields through a new, four-year, $300,000 scholarship program. The College Fund will award $75,000 to four outstanding AIAN women seeking a bachelor's degree in the hard sciences at four-year granting tribal colleges and university (TCU). Students will receive $18,750 disbursed per year, based on the average cost of attendance at a four-year TCU.

Eligible students must be enrolled during the 2020-21, 2022-23, and 2023-24 academic years and studying in qualifying hard science majors at a fouryear degree-granting TCU (areas of study include but are not limited to computer science, industrial engineering, electrical engineering and hydrology). Preference will be given to students studying in fields in which AIAN are most underrepresented. In addition to the scholarship award, the program will also provide AIAN women scholars with programs to support their retention, graduation and career readiness. These programs include internships, mentorships, career readiness programs, leadership development, career readiness, professional development, financial literacy training, coaching and more.

Previous graduates are already planning their STEM careers and serving as role models to other Native women interested in the STEM fields. Adriane Tenequer (Diné), a 2019 graduate from Navajo Technical University (NTU), plans to continue her work in advanced manufacturing at the Center for Digital Technologies at NTU in a supervisory position, overseeing large contract jobs from outside sources in need of manufactured parts.

"Being a Clare Boothe Luce scholar has put me in a position to mentor and talk to students from different schools about being an engineer. I am able to reach out to other females who are interested in engineering and assist them with a plan for scholarships and schools," Tenequer said.

Cheryl Crazy Bull, President and CEO of the American Indian College Fund, said, "Indigenous people possess great science, mathematical and engineering knowledge and have been remarkably adaptive to technologies. Supporting indigenous women, who have been underrepresented in STEM fields, as they pursue STEM degrees, honors that knowledge and helps us to contribute to modern society." Students can apply online for the scholarship at

NALOXONE CAN SAVE A LIFE

As the number of fatal opioid overdoses continue to increase dramatically across America, it is IMPORTANT to have naloxone in the hands of first responders, health professionals, family members, roommates and friends who can save someone's life before it's too late.

Who is at risk for an opioid overdose?

- People who take prescription opioids, especially in high doses
- People who use alcohol, anti-depressants or benzodiazepines in addition to opioids.
- People who are addicted to prescription or illicit opioids.
- People who have recently detoxed from opioids or who are recently in recovery from opioid addiction.

What is naloxone?

 Also known by brand names Narcan or Evzio—Safe, FDA-approved medication that has been proven to reverse opioid overdoses in minutes. It comes in forms of a nasal spray and an injection.

• It can reverse an opioid overdose in minutes.

How does naloxone work?

- When you take an opioid, it binds to specific receptors in the brain, spinal cord and gastrointestinal tract.
- During an overdose, the drugs depress the user's respiratory system so much that the user stops breathing completely.
- Naloxone is an opioid antagonist used to temporarily reverse the effects of an overdose.
- It binds to the same receptor as the opioid, displacing the opioid in the process and temporarily undoing its harmful effects.
- After naloxone has been administered to an overdose victim, they can begin breathing again within a matter of a minute.

What is the need?

- There is a small time period of opportunity to reverse overdose and ensure the person stays alive when they overdose.
- Must be introduced to the body relatively quickly.

- It's only meant to be a first line of defense during overdose, because its antidote effect will wear off in 20-90 minutes.
- It buys time for the victim until they can be treated more thoroughly by licensed medical professionals.

How do you get naloxone?

- You may be able to access free or low-cost naloxone kits through community organizations.
- Local Pharmacy—these medications are available in most states without a prescription. (cost varies)

The Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan, Inc. provides naloxone/harm reduction training. For information regarding this, contact Education Manager Lisa Moran at 906-632-6896, ext. 126 or lmoran@itcmi.org

Twenty-One Michiganders Selected for the State's First Environmental Justice Advisory Council, Among Them are Two Native Americans

Editor's note: The following is a press release from Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer dated January 23, 2020.

Twenty-one Michiganders have been selected to the state's first Michigan Advisory Council for Environmental Justice (MAC EJ) under the direction of Governor Gretchen Whitmer, the Michigan Department of Environment, Great Lakes, and Energy (EGLE) announced today (January 23, 2020).

"Since taking office, I've been deliberate and focused on protecting our Great Lakes, cleaning up our drinking water, and combating the real-life impacts of climate change," said Whitmer. "To address ongoing environmental justice issues, it was absolutely critical that those impacted daily have a seat at the table. We must ensure that the implementation and enforcement of environmental protections, regulations and policies in Michigan will be fair and meaningful to all Michiganders, regardless of geography, race, color, origin or income. Actions like these will help to further rebuild trust in our state government."

The Interagency Environmental Justice Response Team is led by Regina Strong, the state's Environmental Justice Public Advocate. The MAC EJ will provide public and impacted community input for the directors appointed to the Response Team. The Response Team is also planning regional roundtables around the state to ensure that as many people as possible are at the table on environmental issues.

"Meeting people where they are is vital to our commitment to making Michigan a leader in environmental justice," said EGLE Director Liesl Clark. "Creating the Michigan Advisory Council on Environmental Justice is an important step in building the framework to ensure all Michiganders benefit equitably from our environmental laws and regulations. Through both the Office of Environmental Justice Public Advocate and the Interagency Environmental Justice Response Team, we are working to address inequities that impact communities across this state. The creation of this advisory council will play an important role in helping us achieve that goal."

The following individuals have been appointed to the Michigan Advisory Council on Environmental Justice:

Paul Mohai, Ph.D., of Ann Arbor, MI; Tony Reames, Ph.D, of Farmington Hills, MI; Carla Walker-Miller, of Detroit, MI; Fadi Mourad, of Farmington Hills, MI; Monica Lewis-Patrick, of Detroit, MI; Bryan Lewis, of Detroit, MI; Lynn Williams, of Flint, MI; Salah Ali, of Dearborn, MI; Theresa Landrum, of Detroit, MI; Justin Onwenu, of Detroit, MI; Nick Leonard, of Detroit, MI; Sylvia Orduño, of Detroit, MI; Frank Houston, of Royal Oak, MI; Donavan McKinney, of Detroit, MI; Joel Howrani Heeres, of Detroit, MI; Alison Sutter, of Grand Rapids, MI; Nichole Britten, of Saint Joseph, MI; Bryan Newland, of Brimley, MI; John Petoskey, of Northport, MI; Keith Cooley, of Detroit, MI; and Mona Monroe-Yunis, of Flint, MI.

Newland is an active member of the Bay Mills Indian Community and the President and Chairman of the Executive Council. Mr. Newland is an attorney with Fletcher Law, and he earned his Juris Doctor degree from the Michigan State University College of Law.

Petoskey is a member of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians. Mr. Petoskey is currently pursuing his Juris Doctor degree and Master of Science in Environmental Justice and Policy at the University of Michigan.

Video Explores the Indian Child Welfare Act

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

Between the Lines by Huff-Post produced a video titled, "Who Should Be Allowed to Adopt Native American Children?"

The video explores the history of removing Indian children from their families with boarding schools (19th and 20th centuries) and the Indian Adoption Project (1958-1967) and the establishment of the Indian Children Welfare Act (ICWA) in 1978.

According to the National Native American Boarding School Healing Coalition, there were more than 350 government-funded, and often churchrun, Indian boarding schools across the U.S. in the 19th and 20th centuries.

Beginning with the Indian Civilization Act Fund of March 3, 1819 and the Peace Policy of 1869, the United States, in concert with and at the urging of several denominations of the Christian Church, adopted an Indian Boarding School Policy expressly intended to implement cultural genocide through the removal and reprogramming of American Indian and Alaska Native children to accomplish the systematic destruction of Native cultures and communities. The stated purpose of this policy was to "Kill the Indian, Save the Man."

Administered by the Child Welfare League of America and funded by a federal contract from the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the U.S. Children's Bureau, the Indian Adoption Project lasted from 1958 through 1967. During an era when matching dominated adoption practice, it placed 395 Native American children from 16 western states with white families in Illinois, Indiana, New York, Massachusetts, Missouri and other states in the East and Midwest.

According to the National Indian Child Welfare Association (NICWA), ICWA was enacted in 1978 in response to a crisis affecting American Indian and Alaska Native children, families and tribes. Studies revealed large numbers of Native children were being separated from their parents, extended families and communities by state child welfare and private adoption agencies. In fact, research found that 25%-35% of all Native children were being removed; of these, 85% were placed outside of their families and communities even

were available.

Court cases challenging the constitutionally of ICWA continue today.

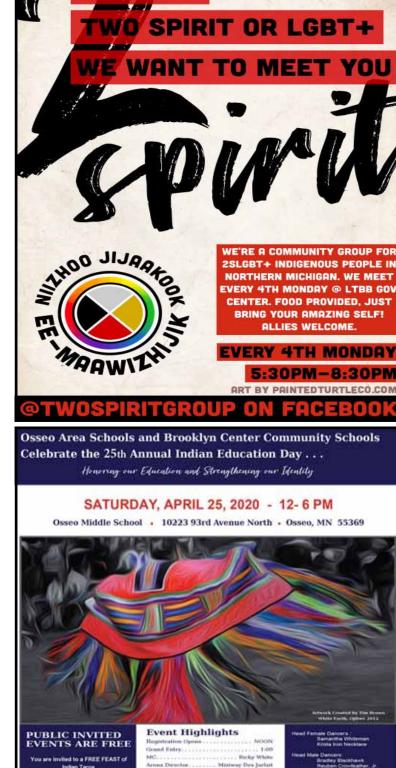

The video interviews people who are in support of ICWA and those who oppose it.

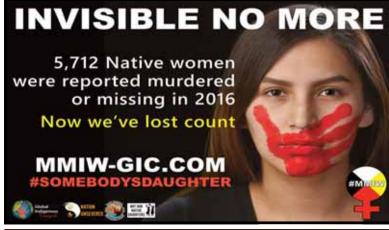

Among those interviewed in support of ICWA include LTBB Chief Judge Allie Greenleaf Maldonado, an LTBB Tribal Citizen, and Matthew Fletcher, Protessor of Law at Michigan State University College of Law and Director of the Indigenous Law and Policy Center. Fletcher, a member of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, is married to LTBB Tribal Citizen Wenona Singel, the Deputy Legal Counsel to the Office of the Governor for Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer. Judge Maldonado and her husband, Jay, have two children, and Matthew and Wenona also have two

Bureau began counting the population in remote Alaska, first in Toksook Bay, a Yupid Alaska Native village in southwest Alaska.

Mid-March 2020: Households will receive mail inviting them to respond to the Census online, through a paper form or by phone.

April 1, 2020: Census Day is observed nationwide.

May-June 2020: Census workers will visit all addresses that did not return a questionnaire online or mail back a paper census form and collect information at the door. The U.S. Census Bureau estimates more than a third of the addresses will not return a form.

Late April-August 2020: Coverage follow-up. Questionnaire Assistance Centers will contact households with more than six occupants and those whose forms indicate someone may have been included or excluded erroneously to collect missing information, clarify information and ensure hard to count households are accurately counted.

August-October 2020: Census Coverage Measurement survey will estimate how many people were missed or counted twice during the direct counting operations. Estimates of accuracy will be published in 2022.

December 2020: The Census Bureau delivers apportionment counts to the president.

March 2021: U.S. Census Bureau completes delivery of redistricting data to states.

Summer 2021: Tables with the full results of the 2020 Census are issued.

Why is the 2020 Census important to the American Indian and Alaska Native populations?

According to Indian Country Counts, a National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) campaign, "In recent censuses, American Indians and Alaska Natives living on reservations have experienced some of the highest estimated net undercounts of any demographic group in the U.S., such as 4.9% in the 2010 Census."

Census data is the basis for the federal funding allocations of more than $675 billion annually, of which $1 billion is dedicated to Indian country. These funds are used to build tribal housing and make improvements, maintain and construct roads and provide employment and training programs.

In 2000, the U.S. Census Bureau implemented a 1997 U.S. Office of Management (OMB) policy that allowed anyone filling out a census form to check off more than one box for the question where they can identify his or her race. So, you may check the American Indian and Alaska Native box and another race box such as white, Black or Asian.

People who identify as American Indian or Alaska Native may mark the American Indian or Alaska Native checkbox and enter the name of his or her enrolled or principal tribe in the write-in k 🗵 one or more boxes AND print origins.

	White - Print, for example, German, Irish, English, Italian, Lebanese, Egyptian, etc.
0	Black or African Am - Print, for example, African American, Jamaican, Haitian, Nigerian, Ethiopian, Somali, etc.
	American Indian or Alaska Native - Print name of enrolled or principal tribe(s), for example, Navajo Nation, Blackfeet Tribe, Mayan, Aztec, Native Village of Barrow Inupiat Traditional Government, Nome Eskimo Community, etc.
0000	Chinese Vietnamese Native Hawaiian Filipino Korean Samoan Asian Indian Japanese Chamorro Other Asian Other Pacific Islander - Print, for example, Pakistani, Cambodian, Hmong, etc. Marshallese, etc.
	I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I
	Some other race - Print race or origin

To be considered an American Indian or Alaska Native household, the race of "Person 1" or the first person listed on the census form must identify as American Indian or Alaska Native.

While individual tribal nations exert sovereignty in determining eligibility requirements, the U.S. Census Bureau uses the definition for American Indian or Alaska Native published by the OMB, which states, "A person having origins in any of the original peoples of North and South American (including Central America), and who maintains tribal affiliation or community attachment." By identifying as American Indian and Alaska Native, no proof is required. No one will ask you to show a tribal enrollment card or Certificate of Degree of Indian Blood (CDIB).

For questions regarding the 2020 Census, visit the frequently asked questions page on www.2020census.gov or call 301-763-INFO (4636) or 800-923-8282. Tribal citizens residing in Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin can call the Chicago Regional Census Center at 312-579-1500.

Walking On...

Clarence "Sonny" bird, 82

Clarence "Sonny" Daybird of Berkley, MI, walked on December 20, 2019 at the age of 82. Clarence was proud to be a citizen of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians. He was born in Detroit, MI, to the late Clarence Daybird and Bernice Nichols. When he was young, Clarence enjoyed visiting relatives in Muncey, Ontario. He later attended Holy Childhood School in Harbor Springs, MI. Throughout his life, Clarence never tired of telling stories about catching geese for the nuns or running away and sleeping in the trees along the shores of Lake Michigan. Clarence was a strong lifelong athlete who excelled at sports in school. In high school, he met his wife of 56 years, Rosemary K. (Bayer) Daybird. Clarence enlisted and went to Korea before he and Rose settled in Berkley, MI, and raised a family of three children, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He was an involved and active parent who could be counted on to attend sporting events or provide a ride to the horse barn. Clarence worked in the electric motor repair business at Schulte's Electric in Royal Oak, MI, and Renu Electric in Detroit, MI, and later as a custodian at Oakland Community College. Clarence had a strong work ethic, and he took pride in meticulous work whether it was on the job or at home or in the yard. He had a lot of energy, and after he retired, he took a job as lunchtime playground supervisor at Our Lady of La Salette School where he excelled at being outside with the kids. With Rose, he enjoyed traveling with relatives, golfing, biking and especially, having friends and family over for dinner. When health issues arose, Clarence was a perfect caregiver for Rose and dedicated his life to making her life more comfortable. Later in life, he continued to pursue his love of the outdoors and he especially looked forward to fishing outings and yearly trips to Harbor Springs, MI, for pow wows and color change. Clarence remained active and could be found riding his bike in search of ice cream or karaoke night. He was a kind and gentle man who truly loved everyone and never had a negative thing to say. Clarence showed all who knew him that peace and happiness come from being outside and enjoying the moment. Clarence Daybird (Kijikobinesi) was preceded in death by his wife of 56 years, Rosemary K. Daybird. Beloved Father of Stephen (Amy) Daybird of Brighton, MI; Thomas (Ann) Daybird of Royal Oak, MI; and Dianne (Robert Bosch) Daybird of Madison, WI. Dearest Grandfather of Andrew, Megan, Lauren, Allison and Matthew Daybird and Nicholas Bosch. Loving Great-Grandfather of Carson and Preston Day-

Roger Duane Smith, 80

Roger Duane Smith, 80, passed peacefully after a brief illness in Bolingbrook, IL, on January 18, 2020. Born in Petoskey, MI, on December 24, 1939 to Karl and Dorothy Kilborn, Roger spent much of his formative years living with his grandmother, Mary Smith, at her house on Sheridan Street. It was there that he played in her rain barrel, ate from her garden, shared her deep and abiding faith and developed a love for family that would sustain him and all those he called family -

Roger was proud of his Native heritage and was a member of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians. He graduated from T.L. Handy High School in Bay City, MI, in 1956 and then enlisted in the U.S. Navy. In September 1956, while stationed in San Diego, CA, he sent a love letter to his girlfriend, Caroline "Pat" Porter, in which he enclosed an engagement ring. In that letter, he professed his deep love and committed that there would never be another person that he would love more than Pat. He asked her to wait for him. She did. They were married on November 2, 1956 on the Navy base in San Diego. And just as Pat was true to her word and waited for Roger, he was true to his word and spent his life devoted to Pat's every need. During their 61-year marriage, they grew up and they grew old together and had many adventures along the way.

The newlyweds made their first home on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, while Roger continued his Naval duties during which time he enrolled in as many classes as possible to learn electronics and acquired skills that would serve him well throughout his life. In the three years they lived in Hawaii, they joyfully started their family with the birth of their charge from the Navy, Roger and Pat returned to Chicago, IL, where Pat's parents, Charles and Margaret Porter, lived and where they welcomed the birth of their son, Roger Smith, Jr. Kym and Roger recall their father supporting them every step of the way - in both good and challenging times. He was a caring and steadying force in their lives and provided well for their family. The family grew to include grandchildren, Brianna Smith, Cassandra Smith and Allyson Smith.

And just as grandmother Mary Smith had opened to her heart and her home to others who needed to know the love of family, so did Roger and Pat. When friends of his grandchildren, Ping Fah and Earl Mikalauskas, said they missed having grandparents in their lives, Pat and Roger told them, "But you DO have grandparents. You have us!" Throughout their childhood, all the grandchildren spent time - weekends, summers and holidays - at Pat and Roger's house. And even as young adults, they still came home to check on and spend time with Roger and Pat. And now, all of the children and grandchildren have knitted a blanket of security and support for their mother/grandmother after Roger's passing. They are fulfilling his commitment to always take care of Pat. He would be so proud of them.

Taking care of family and realizing the plans that he and Pat had for their children were vitally important to Roger. Throughout his life, he worked a variety of jobs - sometimes two and more at a time. Jobs included bus driver for the Chicago Transit Authority; driver of 18-wheel trucks for UPS during the holiday season to have extra money for Christmas; broadcast engineer for AM 1000 WCFL; airplane mechanic for United Airlines and Northwest Orient Airlines; electronic news gathering camera operator at CBS News in Chicago; test driver/certification of locomotives at the former ElectroMotive Division of General Motors Corp.; and the job from which he retired maintaining the electrical operation of the "big tunnel" at the Water Reclamation Department for the City of Chicago. Roger was also proud that in some of his jobs, he and his son worked for the same company; and he often spoke of the strong work ethic that both of his children demonstrated. Roger was predeceased by his parents; his mother- and father-in-law; sister, Jane Kilborn; nephew, Karl Van Kilborn II; brothers, Richard Kilborn and Kevin Kilborn; sister-in-law, Elizabeth Kilborn; daughter-inlaw, Patricia "Patty" Smith, as well as several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Roger was also a loving brother to and is survived by Jon (Helen) Kilborn, Donna (Gary) VanPelt, Joel Kilborn, Karl Van Kilborn, Lance Kilborn (Sue Ralph), Linda Kilborn and Cheryl Kilborn (James Tarchinski) and sisters-in-law Elaine Kilborn, Patricia Kilborn After his honorable dis-"Walking On" continued on page 27.

is Alba Colmenares, partner to Roger, Jr., who lovingly referred to Roger, Sr. as Mr. Rogers, a nickname that made him laugh out loud and beam with pride. In addition, many grand nieces and nephews and cousins survive.

Also, surviving Roger are several dogs and cats - many of whom were adopted rescue pets and became extended members of the Smith family, including and dogs, Reba, Daisy Mae and Molly. Baby Cat, who was rescued from Hurricane Katrina, was a constant companion of Roger's who never left his side; sadly, Baby Cat passed just days after Roger.

Roger made his way in this world with humility, kindness and grace. The love of his wife, children, grandchildren, sisters, brothers and so many others is testament to a life well lived.

Gone too soon, as he begins his eternal rest, he will be eternally missed. In the spirit of his Navy brothers and sisters, those who remain will try to live up to the motto of Semper Fortis (Always Strong) because that is what Roger would want everyone to do.

In lieu of flowers, family and friends are asked to donate cat or dog food to a shelter of their choice in loving memory of
