LTBB Tribal Citizen Nigel Schuyler Enjoys a Once in a Lifetime Experience by Performing During the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympics Opening Ceremony

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

Very few people can say they danced in front of an audience of 60,000 with a worldwide television viewing audience of 67.5 million.

Fancy dancer Nigel Schuyler, a 27-year-old LTBB Tribal Citizen who lives in Dearborn Heights, MI, participated in the Opening Ceremony of the 2010 Winter Olympics held February 12, 2010 in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Schuyler, who is LTBB and Oneida, was one of an estimated 4,500 performers in the opening ceremony.

"It was kind of surreal," Schuyler said of the experience. "It was definitely the biggest crowd I have ever danced in front of. The stadium (BC Place Stadium) was huge, and there were so many cameras, lights and people. It made for a very unique atmosphere. I never thought I would be doing anything like that, so I jumped at the opportunity."

If you watched the opening ceremony on NBC, you could spot Schuyler in his fancy dancer regalia with eagle bustles containing orange fringe in the background behind Nelly Furtado when Furtado and Bryan Adams sang the Athlete Tribute Song which was titled, "Bang the Drum." He was one of 16 dancers in the group that surrounded Furtado and Adams.

"There were all kinds of networks there from around the world, and I was told by people that you could see me a lot better on the Canadian station because of the angle their cameras were shooting from," Schuyler said. "I saw the tape from the U.S. station, but I haven't seen any footage from other stations. I guess I could go on the Internet and check those out. It was weird seeing myself on the tape, but it was pretty cool knowing I was a part of Schuyler, the son of William and Cynthia (Shawanibin) Schuyler and the late Ralph and the late Maryann (Kenoshmeg) Shawanibin, came in during the middle of the song along with 15 other dancers.

"I was all right until right before I went out," Schuyler said. "I got really nervous because the place was packed. I tried to not pay attention to all the cameras, people and lights and to concentrate on my dancing. The anticipation was the most nerve-racking because once I got out there and started dancing, my nerves were Schuyler praised the Canadian aboriginal dancers who entered the stadium after the singing of the Canadian national anthem "O Canada" and were a part of the welcome by the aboriginal peoples of Canada.

They formed a welcome circle to prepare for the forthcoming Parade of the Nations and danced traditional welcoming dances as the athletes entered the stadium. Those dancers performed for approximately 90 minutes as representatives from 92 countries entered the stadium. The longest Schuyler has danced at one time was 16 songs during an Ironman special at a pow wow in Richmond, VA, in 2009.

"I was only out there dancing for two minutes, but they were out there a long time," Schuyler said. "They had to do it that long every day in the rehearsals leading up to the opening ceremony. They all did a great job."

Schuyler's friend, Matt Pheasant, knew the opening ceremony's choreographer, Alejandro Ronceria, a choreographer, director and film artist based in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. Pheasant had performed in a show choreographed by Ronceria prior to the Olympics and suggested Ronceria contact Schuyler because Ronceria was interested in incorporating more fancy dancers into the opening ceremony. Schuyler has performed in shows with the American Indian Dance Theatre and as a part of Kevin Locke's Native Dance Ensemble.

"The Olympics people gave me a call and asked me to send them my dance resume' and a video of me performing," Schuyler said. "I sent them those, and about 10 minutes later, someone called me back and said the choreographer was interested in having me be a part of the opening cere-

"I was in Vancouver for eight days, and it was mostly rehearsals and off time. The Olympics hadn't started yet, so the only thing we could do is check out downtown because we stayed at a hotel 20 minutes outside downtown."

Schuyler has been dancing for approximately 26 years, and his whole

38th Annual Dance for Mother Earth Powwow Hosted by Native American Student Association Off U of M Campus Again as Native Student Concerns Languish

Editor's note: The following is a press release from the Native American Student Association (NASA) which hosts the 38th Annual Dance for Mother Earth Powwow.

For the second year in a row, the University of Michigan campus will not hear the sound of powwow drums, singing and jingle dancing. Nor will it host some 6,000 Native dancers, drummers, artisans and other powwow people at the annual event—one of the largest student-run powwows in the country.

The Native American Student Association (NASA) at the University of Michigan announces its decision to keep the Dance for Mother Earth Powwow from the campus of the University of Michigan. The 38th Annual Dance for Mother Earth Powwow again will be held at Saline Middle School, April 10-11, 2010.

The overwhelming success of last year's powwow in Saline, MI, also showed Native students that moving the event was the right thing to do. Attendance was high, dancers and drum groups filled the powwow circle and powwow fans offered students much moral support.

The reason? Perhaps most visibly, Native students and community members are continuing their protest of the university's ongoing failure to return nearly 1,400 ancestors to tribes from its archaeology collection—and $50,000 in funding from the Division to meet minimal federal requirements to engage tribes towards that end.

Yet in the midst of the university's high-profile efforts to shore up diversity on campus, the repatriation scandal is just one in a serious cluster of concerns expressed by Native students for generations. Simply put, the U of M campus can be a difficult place for students of color trying to juggle issues with Michigamua (later Order of Angell), mismanagement of the tuition waiver and widespread ignorance about Native needs and cultural concerns. This hampers the working relationship between students and the university in planning

Students and Native community members began to feel the Dance for Mother Earth powwow transitioned from a Native community event to a "diversity showcase."

Last year, NASA declined

of Student Affairs and Multi Ethnic Student Affairs and took the powwow to Saline.

For some students, the most grotesque example of institutional issues is seen with the repatriation situation at U of M. According to federal inventories, the University of Michigan's Museum of Anthropology holds nearly 1,400 individuals in its archaeology "collection." Despite four years of advocacy on the part of many tribal, student and faculty groups, archaeology curators have been steadfast in resisting legal and ethical calls for the reburial of these individuals. Michigan tribes have officially and unofficially notified the museum that by failing to proactively pursue consultation with tribes, the university is in violation of a federal law. The Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act, passed in 1990, requires museums to conduct tribal consultation and to apply due diligence in obtaining it. Last October nearly two decades after NAG-PRA was passed — U of M got serious about developing appropriate protocols about Native human remains in its "collection."

"The university has made a great stride in the formation of a committee to review the issues surrounding our ancestral remains being kept in its museum," said Alys Alley, co-chair of NASA. "That being said, the American Indian students at the University of Michigan will not be satisfied until all of our ancestors are returned to their rightful graves."

The Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act was created to be human rights legislation, not science vs. culture. Students are advocating for the human rights of their ancestors, and for the human

Being Odawa is all about Freedom

The freedom to be a part of a people, who with integrity and pride, still have and speak our language. The freedom in common with all other Odawak the customs, culture and spirituality of our ancestors. The freedom we have today we will bring to the future through unity, education, justice, communication and planning. We will reach out to the next seven generations by holding to cultural values of Wisdom, Love, Respect, Bravery, Honesty, Humility and Truth. We will utilize our tribal assets to provide the necessary tools to become successful, hard-working community members who proudly represent our culture. With these values we will move the tribe forward.

Greetings from the LTBB Health Department

Submitted by the LTBB Health Department

With the flu season almost behind us, we want to congratulate everyone who got their Seasonal Influenza vaccine and/or their H1N1

This flu season, we held a Seasonal Influenza vaccine clinic for the elders on October 13, 2009 where we administered 52 vaccines. We also held an H1N1 Vaccine Clinic for the elders and LTBB Employees and spouses on January 26, 2010 and two on February 5, 2010 for the Odawa Casino Resort Employees and their immediate families as well as a free general public H1N1 vaccine clinic at the Odawa Casino Resort O-Zone and administered almost 200 vaccines total for all four H1N1 vaccine

We would like to thank the Odawa Casino Resort for its cooperation in our H1N1 vaccine clinics. We received very positive responses from the people who came to get their H1N1 vaccines. They were very pleased we were out protecting our community. We would also like to give a big thank you to our Community Health nurses for administering all those vaccines and everyone else who helped keep our vaccine clinics been scheduled for Friday, April 30, 2010 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., so mark your calendars. We had a very good turnout last year, so we hope to see

Important Facts You Should Know About Indian Health Service Contract Health Service

I.H.S. - CHS coverage is not automatic. You must be registered with CHS. Should you have an emergency situation requiring you to obtain care at a non-I.H.S. facility such as urgent care or the emergency room, you must notify the CHS office at 231-242-1600 within 72 hours of that visit. If you fail to do so, you will be held responsible for the bill.

Eligibility Criteria:

- You must reside in the Contract Health Service Delivery Area (CHSDA).
- Be an enrolled member or descendent of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians or be able to prove social or economic ties to the com-
- A Native American claiming eligibility for CHS has the responsibility to furnish the tribal program with documentation to substantiate the
- You must have an active and complete file with Contract Health before a reference number can be given.

Remember!!!!

Indian Health Service Contract Health is not an entitlement program - not everyone is eligible. Know your status before obtaining services.

Referrals:

Physicians write referrals when patients need medical care that is not available in the Tribal Clinic. A referral is not an implication the care will be paid by CHS. A patient must meet eligibility criteria, medical priorities and use all alternate resources available.

If a referral is denied for CHS payment, the patient may elect to obtain medical services at his or her own expense. In most cases, an approved referral is limited to one medical appointment. Please call Contract Health Services at 231-242-1600 prior to any follow-up appointments for approval to make sure your coverage is still in effect.

Alternate Resources:

Contract Health Service is the payer of last resort. When a patient has Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans Assistance, Workman's compensation, private insurance or any other coverage, it is considered the primary carrier.

Priority system:

Medical referrals are approved for payment by a priority system.

The system has highest priority to approve conditions related to life saving or potential death threatening situations, then we approve by severity of condition.

The amount of funding we receive for CHS services is limited. When we run out of money toward the end of the year, then we have to be very strict on referral approvals and may only have the funds to pay for emergency conditions.

After Hours Clinic for LTBB Tribal Patients

Weekend Urgent Care Alternative

Quick Care Walk-In Medical Center 116 W. Mitchell Street Petoskey, MI 49770 231-348-2828

This clinic can be utilized when immediate attention is needed for an urgent, but not life-threatening condition, and the LTBB Health Clinic in Petoskey, MI, is closed.

When using this provider, you are required to call LTBB Contract Health at 231-242-1600. Notice must be received within 72 hours of the visit. LTBB Elders have 30 days to notify Contract Health.

Notice: Up North Medical Center, also known as Boyne Country Urgent Care, located on M-119 in Harbor Springs, MI, is no longer open after hours or on weekends, so LTBB is no longer using it as an urgent care facility. After hours and weekend emergency treatment can be obtained at Quick Care Walk-In Medical Center or Northern Michigan Regional Hospital in Petoskey.

Odawa Cultural Workshop Held for Harbor Springs Middle School and High School Students

Submitted by the Gijigowi Anishinaabemowin Language Depart

On January 13, 2010, the middle school and high school students of Harbor Springs, MI, joined together for a half-day workshop on Odawa culture

Kristy Dayson, then the PEACE Coordinator of the LTBB Education Department and now the Youth Services Coordinator of the LTBB Youth Services Department, organized the presentation in conjunction with Cheryl Halfacer, Title VII Coordinator for Indian Education at Harbor Springs schools. LTBB Anishinaabe language teachers, Isabelle Osawamick and Don Trudeau, assisted.

Tyler Laughlin opened the event by leading a prayer in Anishinaabemowin. Ms. Halfacer presented on the programs and upcoming school opportunities to explore Native American beliefs, values and customs.

The workshop was hands-on as the students learned about the four sacred plants, their native names taught by Nicole Laughlin and then got to make mshkiki-pshkimdenhs (a medicine pouch) for themselves. They cut leather, sewed their bags with sinew and decorated them.

Once the bags were finished, the students had to ask for the medicines to place in their bags – in Anishinaabemowin: Sema (tobacco), Kiizhik (cedar), Mshkodewashk (sage) and Wiingash (sweetgrass). It developed into a language lesson taught by the high school Anishinaabe language students. It was a fun experience, and the students are looking forward to their next cultural get-together.

This is the time when everybody goes visiting. Families visit each other. Brothers and sisters go visit each other. They eat together. The mothers are very happy to have their children visit them again. I, too, also travel far to go visiting. My older sister lives in Manitoulin Island. My daughter and grandchildren live in Windsor. There are many cousins that live elsewhere. I never run out of places to visit, and I never run out of people to visit.

My mother is not alive anymore. I used to ride seven hours to go see her. When I was at her house, there were many that came. They drank tea and ate cookies as they visited each other. They eventually told legends. I really enjoyed listening to them. We all laughed periodically. Nobody took personally what was said. They only kidded around. I cherish the good time we had.

Some people go to church at this time. Some people celebrate the Anishinaabe way of life. Those that pray in church cross themselves in the four directions. Those that follow the Anishinaabe way of life also depend on the four directions. There must be something there why people look to the four directions.

As long as everybody has a good time, that is good. Not everybody has the same feeling (disposition) here on earth.

How To Become a Resident Tribal Member (RTM)

By Theresa Keshick, Department of Commerce Assistant

The first step in becoming a Resident Tribal Member (RTM) is officially changing your address with the Enrollment Department. All RTMs are verified through Enrollment. Enrollment in turn sends the Department of Commerce (DOC) notification of your status. Please note on your Address Verification Form (AVF) the township you reside in. This alerts the Enrollment Department for RTM status. When you change your address with the Michigan Secretary of State's office, you will be asked if you would like to register to vote; by doing so, it will note the township you reside in. Otherwise, ask one of the Enrollment Department staff when filling out your AVF.

Your RTM status does not become effective until the first day of the following month in which you

Example: I changed my address with the Enrollment Department on May 3. My RTM status did not go into effect until June 1.

It is VERY important you notify Enrollment immediately when you move into the Tax Agreement Area (TAA).

It is your responsibility to notify Enrollment of any changes in address or name; the DOC cannot backtrack or backdate documents in order to qualify for RTM status.

Being an RTM exempts you from paying state sales tax on large tangible items such as vehicles, boats, snowmobiles and off the road vehicles. It also applies to affixation to your primary place of residence. There is a form that needs to be filled out to request a Tribal Certificate of Exemption (TCE). The request for this form (Request for TCE) can be found on the LTBB website www.ltb-purchase a vehicle or do any remodeling to your residence, please wait until after your RTM status is effective (after the first day of the following month in which you moved); otherwise, the State of Michigan will deny your claim for a refund.

Please note: All RTM updates

Being an RTM also exempts you from sales/use tax on utilities such as phone, Internet, satellite, gas, electric, propane and cellular service. Please fill out the Residency Form for Tax Agreement and return it to the address noted on the bottom of the

Check Out These New Arrivals at the LTBB Cultural Library

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

Spring officially began on March 20, 2010, but it will be a while before we experience any warm weather here in northern Michigan.

It is the perfect time to check out some new arrivals to the LTBB Cultural Library located in the LTBB Education Department at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI.

LTBB Tribal Citizens can check out any of the following new arrivals for three weeks.

Sacajawea by Anna Lee Waldo

Author Anna Lee Waldo's interest in Sacajawea began as a child when she collected spear points on the shores of Whitefish Lake in Montana and listened to the stories of Blackfeet and Crow grandmothers.

The following product description of the book appears on the Amazon.com website: "Clad in a doeskin, alone and unafraid, she stood straight and proud before the onrushing forces of America's destiny: Sacajawea, child of a Shoshoni chief, lone woman on Lewis and Clark's historic trekbeautiful spear of a dying nation.

She knew many men, walked many miles. From the whispering prairies, across the Great Divide to the crystal capped Rockies and on to the emerald promise of the Pacific Northwest, her story over flows with emotion and action ripped from the bursting fabric of a raw new land.

Ten years in the writing, Sacajawea unfolds an immense canvas of people and events, and captures the eternal longings of a woman who always yearned for one great passion and always it lay beyond the next mountain."

"Spirit Bear"

Starring Graham Greene as Lloyd Blackburn and Mark Rendall as Simon Jackson, "Spirit Bear" tells the story of Simon Jackson who is attacked in the wilderness and is rescued by a rare white Kermode bear. The Canadian film won a 2006 Directors Guild of Canada award for Outstanding Family Television Movie/Mini-Series.

The following product description of the film written by Echo Bridge Home Entertainment appears on the Internet Movie Database website: "Simon Jackson is an awkward 15-year-old who lives on a planet light years away from the 'in' crowd until a life changing moment. Attacked in the British Columbia wilderness, Simon is rescued by a rare white Kermode bear. When he learns these magnificent creatures are endangered, that only 400 are in existence in a small area of northern British Columbia, Simon turns from shy, stuttering daydreamer to political activist. Mustering his courage, he takes on the powerful forest industry and the provincial government, eventually rallying everyone from Prince William to the Backstreet Boys. Simon ultimately secures the protection of 2,500 square miles of Princess Royal Island, one of the largest land protection battles ever won, and is named one of Time Magazine's 'Heroes for the Planet."

The Good Rainbow Road by Simon Ortiz

Intended for children ages 9-12, The Good Rainbow Road is told in three languages, English, Spanish and Keres, the language of the Acoma Pueblo and six other Pueblo communities in New Mexico.

The following School Library Journal editorial review appears on the Amazon.com website: "An original story presented in three languages gives voice to contemporary Native storytelling while presenting universally recognized themes. The people of Haapaahnitse are suffering from drought and feeling hopeless. An old woman reminds them, 'We have forgotten we must ask for help.' Two brothers, First One and Next One, are chosen to go to the west to seek help from the spirits of rain and snow. The journey through the mountains is dangerous, and at its end, they are faced with a chasm of lava. First One leaps across, but Next One is frozen with fear. A blind woman approaches him, and he warns her of the danger ahead. In thanks, she helps him to make a rainbow road across. The English text is lyrical and dramatic, and sits in first place on top or to the left of the text in Keres on the page. The text in Spanish is relegated to the end of the volume. Done in what appears to be marker, in rich and bold colors of the southwestern desert, their varied layouts suggest movement, yet serve as anchors for the long spreads. This excellent volume, published in collaboration with Oyate, will stand out in any collection."

"Floyd Red Crow Westerman: A Tribute to Johnny Cash"

Musician, actor and activist Floyd Red Crow Westerman, Sisseton-Wahpeton Dakota, appeared in more than 50 films and television productions before his death on December 13, 2007. He walked on due to complications from leukemia. Westerman became one of the most recognizable Native Americans of the 20th century.

The following product description of the CD appears on the Amazon.com website: "This CD features Johnny Cash songs performed by world renown Native American actor, singer, songwriter and advocate Floyd Red Crow Westerman, who is best remembered for his role as elder/leader Ten Bear in 'Dances With Wolves.' His work and dedication have helped spread the American Indian Movement's message throughout the world. He has performed with countless musicians, including Willie Nelson, Kris Kristofferson, Jackson Brown, Bonnie Raitt, Joni Mitchell, John Trudell and Don Henley in large benefit concerts for Indian self-determination, human rights and environmental protection. He toured the world with Sting to publicize the plight of the Rainforest and has been an ambassador of good will representing the International Indian Treaty Council. Floyd writes: 'Johnny Cash was very proud of his Cherokee heritage, and was a great supporter of American Indian issues. I had the great honor to meet and be on the same bill with Johnny Cash. It was a night to remember."

"Spirit: The Seventh Fire"

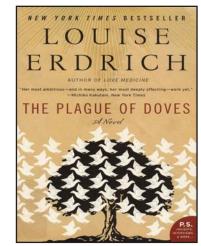

The following product description of the DVD appears on the Amazon.com website: "Live concert, epic film, Native American dance, Spirit The Seventh Fire tells the story of Everyman. Caught up in the daily distractions of life, Everyman is thrown from his cubicle to begin a journey that renews within him the mystery, beauty and spirit of his ancestors. Everyman takes you with him on this amazing journey. The beauty of the dance, music and film brings audiences of all ages to tears and to their feet."

The Plague of Doves by Louise

Louise Erdrich is a Native American author of novels, poetry and children's books. Her father was German-American while her mother was French and Anishinaabe (Ojibwa). Her grandfather Patrick Gourneau served as a Tribal Chairman for the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa Indians. Erdrich grew up in Wahpeton, ND, where her parents taught at the Bureau of Indian Affairs school. The Plague of Doves is her 13th novel and was named a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in Fiction in April 2009.

The following product description of the book appears on the Amazon.com website: "Erdrich's 13th novel, a multigenerational tour de force of sin, redemption, murder and vengeance, finds its roots in the 1911 slaughter of a farming family near Pluto, N.D. The family's infant daughter is spared, and a posse forms, incorrectly blames three Indians and lynches them. One, Mooshum Milk, miraculously survives. Over the next century, descendants of both the hanged men and the lynch mob develop relationships that become deeply entangled, and their disparate stories are held together via principal narrator Evelina, Mooshum Milk's granddaughter, who comes of age on an Indian reservation near Pluto in the 1960s and '70s and forms two fateful adolescent crushes: One on bad-boy schoolmate Corwin Peace and one on a nun. Though Evelina doesn't know it, both are descendants of lynch mob members. The plot splinters as Evelina enrolls in college and finds work at a mental asylum; Corwin spirals into a life of crime; and a long-lost violin (its back story is another beautiful piece of the mosaic) takes on massive significance. Erdrich plays individual narratives off one another, dropping apparently insignificant clues that build to headslapping revelations as fates intertwine and the person responsible for the 1911 killing is identified."

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

In particular, people are interested in the "separation of powers" and "checks and balances" within our constitution, and mainly, what are the roles of the Executive vs. Tribal Council and how do they interact.

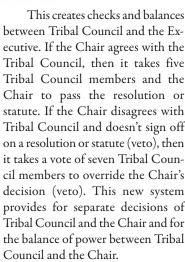

Executive and Tribal Council

Prior to the new constitution adopted in February 2005, we did not have separation of powers nor checks and balances. We had a oneunit government with a Tribal Court. (I will address the Tribal Courts' role at a later time). This one unit of government was Tribal Council. The Tribal Chair was part of the Tribal Council and only voted to break a tie vote. The role of Tribal Council was to set the goals and direction of the tribe, to make all of the decisions involving the tribe and to see the decisions were carried out by the Tribal Administer. This system did not allow for checks and balances nor did it provide for separation of powers.

During the drafting of the constitution, some tribal citizens were concerned all of the decisions and power rested with just one unit of government, Tribal Council. In order to create checks and balances within the new constitution, the constitution provided for an Executive branch (Tribal Chair and Vice Chair) and separated it from Tribal

Another change with the new constitution is the number of Tribal Council members. The old Tribal Council had seven members, including the Chair; the new constitution provides for nine Tribal Council members separate from the Chair and Vice Chair.

It is still the role of Tribal Council to set the goals of the tribe and to make most of the decisions of the tribe, but some of the decisions now require the Tribal Chair to be in agreement. These shared areas are identified within the constitution by requiring Tribal Council to formulate its decision in either a resolution or a statute that can be signed or vetoed by the Tribal Chair.

Not all of the decisions of Tribal Council require the agreement by the Chair. Tribal Council has some powers it holds exclusively; i.e. approving land use plans, approving leases, acquisition of land, etc.

There are also exclusive powers of the Tribal Chair not shared with Tribal Council. One in particular is to "execute and administer the laws and resolutions" of the tribe. The Tribal Chair is now responsible to see all of the laws and resolutions of the tribe are carried out. This used to be a role of Tribal Council under the old constitution, but now is a function of the Executive.

In summary, since the new constitution, Tribal Council is responsible for the decision making of the tribe, which may be shared with the Executive, and the Executive branch is responsible for implementation of these decisions. The Executive has oversight over the governmental operations and through this oversight, the Chair is responsible to see tribal citizens receive adequate services in an efficient and effective manner.

This is just a brief overview of the constitution. If you have additional questions, please feel free to contact the Tribal Council office at 1-866-927-0077 or attend a Tribal Council meeting. The calendar of meetings is in the Odawa Trails newsletters as well as our website at http://www.ltbbodawa-nsn.gov.

His nieces, Maya Schuyler and Kayla Dreaver, dance jingle and fancy respectively, and his nephew, Caden Dreaver, dances fancy. Several relatives on his father's side are also dancers.

"My parents put bustles on me when I was one," Schuyler said. "I can't imagine myself not dancing. My whole family is very supportive of my dancing. Sometimes, it gets rough because politics and stuff can get you down, but you have to remember why you're dancing and remember there are a lot of people supporting you.

Applications for the 2009-2010 Day Care Assistance Program are now available.

If you live in Emmet, Charlevoix, or Cheboygan County and would like more information, please stop in at Human Services, 915 Emmet Street, Petoskey, MI, or call 231-242-1620 for an application. You may also call 1-866-652-5822 and ask for Human Services.

This is an income based program.

Schuyler said he learned to dance fancy by observing others, especially his cousin, Jimmy Klein, Jr.

"For me, it is not easy (dancing fancy)," Schuyler said. "It comes from years and years of doing it.

"It is hard to be original because you can't go too far outside the boundaries. I dance my idols' moves and change them a little to make them my own. I like short, fast songs. I like the physical challenge of fancy dance. Drums try to trick us all the time, so it is a challenge to stay on beat for all the different songs."

Schuyler learned how to make bustles from his father, and he makes bustles for other people. He learned how to do beadwork from watching his mother and his sister, Marie. He's had the same beadwork on his regalia since 2007, but he tries to update some part of his regalia every few months. In addition to dancing, he has served as a Head Male Dance Judge at pow wows. His sister, Marie, has served as a Head Female Dance Judge at pow wows since 2005. He attended ironworking school in Chicago, IL, in 2006 and earned a certificate in ironworking.

"I could earn a living in the ironworking field if I wanted to, but I am doing pretty good dancing right now," Schuyler said. "I am trying to keep it (dancing) going for as long as possible. I want to dance for as long as maintain the powwow off campus is a huge decision, and it is one we have not taken lightly. To us, it has been more important to stick with what we believe in, even if we have to work twice as hard to realize our goal. "

"This has been quite a year to look at how Michigan treats Native students and issues of students of color generally," Alley added. "When the dioramas came down, many teachers worried about being ill-equipped to teach their students about American Indians. Our powwow is the perfect opportunity for those teachers to give their students a first-hand experience with American Indian culture, rather than settling for Happy Meal figurines in a glass container. We hope next year we'll be able to dance for our ancestors on campus."

Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. Hosts First Annual Mid-Winter Celebration

Submitted by Lisa McComb, Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. Executive Director

Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. (NSLF) held its First Annual Mid-Winter Celebration on February 20, 2010 at the LTBB Governmental Center in Harbor Springs, MI.

"Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc.'s first fundraiser was a huge success due to the overwhelming support of our community," Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc.'s Development Committee Chair Alan Proctor said. "Miigwetch to all who gave their time and assistance."

More than 200 people attended the fun-filled, activity-packed event to participate in bidding on more than 50 sought after, one of a kind, handcrafted items donated by local businesses and artisans in both silent and live auction formats.

Master of Ceremonies Scott MacKenzie donated his time to assist in highlighting the various aspects of the event as well as the numerous desirable auction items.

Throughout the event, attendees enjoyed snowshoeing the trails outside the governmental center led by volunteer, Alison Berry of the Little Traverse Conservancy, whose group generously donated snowshoes for all participants, with help from volunteer Regina Brubacker-Carver.

Children of all ages enjoyed creating medicine bags, bracelets and jewelry under the direction of Meredith Henry, NSLF Development Committee member and event volunteer, who assisted children as they enjoyed Native storytelling and cultural crafts.

Attendees enjoyed homemade Indian tacos, fry bread, chili and whitefish pate' thanks to the generosity of Bev Wemigwase and Dave Harrington who gave of their time and talents in food preparation as well as Tannery Creek Market, Bell's Fishery and Buffalo Wild Wings, who all donated products and ingredients for the food.

The event featured local musicians as attendees were treated to the talents of the Spirit Lake drum, who opened and closed the event, as well as local aspiring teenage high school band "Orange Magic" and gifted flutist Aaron Wayne Otto.

Proceeds from the event went toward Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc., a non-profit 501(c)(3) business lender incorporated under the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians whose mission is to provide training, business incubation and access to capital which fosters economic development for the Michigan counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Grand Traverse and Kalkaska counties

Emmet County MSU Extension Tribal Mentorship Program

Submitted by the Emmet County MSU Extension Office

The Emmet County MSU Extension Tribal Mentorship Program in conjunction with the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians is recruiting both tribal and non-tribal adults to be positive role models and mentors for youth in a new program under the 4-H Mentor Michigan Initiative.

The Tribal Mentorship Program asks for a one-year commitment from mentors and mentees. The paired matches are expected to meet for four hours each month. Meeting times are agreed upon by the mentee, parent/guardian of mentee and mentor. During the year, paired matches will also need to attend at least six monthly group activities sponsored by the Tribal Mentorship Program. These group activities will be fun, educational and also count toward the four hours expected monthly meeting time. After the first 12 months, mentors and mentees may decide to continue their match, choose to be rematched with someone new or they can leave the program.

The steps to becoming a mentor are simple and begin with completing an application packet. Staff will com-

"Why I Love Birding" by Anna Wemigwase

"I love about birding is that I can meet new people and be friends with them. One of the other things I like a lot is learning about different species of birds and knowing things about the different birds. Then, you can tell other people and they will pass it on to more people. Birding is like a new opening in my life with birds, learning about all of their different sounds with all of their pretty colors flying in the air sometimes like lightning they are so fast. I love the colors when I see a bird. I think of a rainbow because that's what bird colors remind me of. I also think of art because art is colorful and beautiful and I love art just like I love birding.

Now I am going to tell you about my logo for birding. On the logo, I have an eagle. I put the eagle on the logo because he is the chief of birds. The way you say eagle in my Odawa language is "migizi." It is said like "mi (as in "mit") – ge (as in "get") – zay." The rest of the logo picture has the lake and trees that show our home in northern Michigan on Little Traverse Bay.

I want to say miigwech to Mary (M. Trout, Junior Birders of Northern Michigan Volunteer) and Allison (Falldin, Junior Birders of Northern Michigan Coordinator) for helping me do birding! Miigwech means thank you."

Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. to Host its Annual Day of Recognition

Submitted by Lisa McComb, Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. Executive Director

Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. (NSLF) will hold its Annual Day of Recognition on April 10, 2010 at the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Governmental Center Commons Area from 11 a.m. – 1 p.m.

This annual event replaces the original Founder's Day event held in 2009, however, it continues to hold true to its purpose of ensuring each year those who give of their time are recognized for their generous efforts in assisting this 501(c)(3) non-profit microenterprise loan fund meet its mission of providing business development, training and loan funding to northern Michigan entrepreneurs.

As a non-profit corporation, Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. is reliant on numerous volunteers who give of their time and expertise to continue to grow the organization and to assist so many struggling entrepreneurs throughout Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Grand Traverse and Kalkaska counties.

"Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc. would not be as successful as it has been in such a short time of operation without the generosity of our volunteers who assist in whatever capacity they can," NSLF Executive Director Lisa McComb said.

Northern Shores Loan Fund, Inc's Board of Directors Laura Blumberg, Chair; Alan Proctor, Vice Chair; Patricia Dyer-Deckrow, Treasurer; and Sue Goddard, Member; extend an open invitation to join them in recognizing these important individuals on April 10, 2010 at an informal reception open to the public.

LTBB Revenue Sharing Check Presentation

Editor's note: The following is an Odawa Casino Resort press release dated March 3, 2010.

Odawa Casino Resort, owned and operated by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, is pleased to announce a two percent revenue sharing check $593,946.24 has been presented to the Emmet County Local Revenue Sharing Board.

The revenue sharing amount is based on two percent of the casino's electronic gaming proceeds for the second half of 2009. The total revenue sharing amount for 2009 was $1.13 million. The funding is used to support the education and public safety of Emmet County.

Assistant Controller for Emmet

County, Marty Krupa said, "Over the years, these revenue sharing dollars have become an important source of funding for education and public safety. These are dollars that stay in Emmet County and help support many jobs within Emmet County."

Traffic Lights Operational Near Odawa Casino Resort

On February 16, 2010, the traffic lights located at the intersections of Anderson Road and Lears Road and Cemetery Road and Lears Road in Petoskey became operational. The traffic lights control the flow of traffic entering and leaving Odawa Casino Resort. Federal economic stimulus money from the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) paid for the installation of the traffic lights at Anderson and Lears and Cemetery and Lears.

Mackinac Bands Present Tribal Constitution

On February 12, 2010, the Cheboygan Tribune reported the Mackinac Bands of Chippewa and Ottawa Indians presented a new tribal constitution to Brandon Fewins, Regional Manager for U.S. Senator Debbie Stabenow, at the Cheboygan Area Library in Cheboygan, MI, on February 11, 2010.

Fewins agreed to take the new constitution to the Bureau of Indian Affairs on behalf of Stabenow. The Mackinac Bands are already recognized through the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians, but seek reaffirmation as a distinct tribe and recognition of sovereignty. As many as 18,000 members of the Mackinac Bands were used to establish recognition of the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians under federal law.

Tribal Chair of the Huron Potawatomi Walks On

Laura Wesley Spurr, Tribal Chair of the Nottawaseppi Huron Band of Potawatomi (NHBP), walked on February 19, 2010 at the Rancho Springs Medical Center in Murrieta, CA.

Spurr was in California to make a presentation on the construction and design of the Firekeepers Casino in Battle Creek, MI. Shortly after completing her presentation, she suffered a massive heart attack.

Spurr, who was active in the areas of environmental, education and health, was the Chair of the Nottawaseppi Huron Band of Potawatomi tribe's Journey to Wellness and advocated at the regional and national levels for all tribes to ensure equitable funding and fair funding levels based on health disparities.

U.S. Attorney Issues Statement Regarding Investigation into Walleye Haul from Little Bay De Noc

Editor's note: The following is a U.S. Department of Justice press release dated March 5, 2010.

U.S. Attorney Donald A. Davis announced today that, because the U.S. District Court lacks jurisdiction, the U.S. Attorney's Office will not prosecute several members of the Sault Tribe of Chippewa Indians who are suspected of illegally catching and commercially selling walleye from Little Bay de Noc.

The suspected illegal fishing on Little Bay de Noc took place in waters ceded to Native American tribes in the Treaty of 1836. In 2000, the United States, the State of Michigan and five separate Native American tribes in Michigan entered into a "consent decree" that established an agreement between all the parties regarding allocation, management, and regulation of fishing in 1836 Treaty waters. Under the terms of this consent decree, the tribes have exclusive jurisdiction to enforce fishing rules against tribal members who fish in 1836 Treaty waters.

The investigation into the activities of others who may have been involved is ongoing.

Documentary Film about Black Ash Basketry Premieres in Grand Rapids, MI

On March 2, 2010, the Great Lakes Lifeways Institute hosted a private premiere of the documentary film "Black Ash Basketry: A Story of Cultural Resilience" with a reception following it at Celebration Cinemas North in Grand Rapids, MI. The film explores the Anishinabe tradition of Black Ash Basketry in Western Michigan.

LTBB Tribal Citizen David Shananaquet is the narrator of the film.

The film is a collaborative project of the Great Lakes Lifeways Institute, the Grand Rapids Community College and the Goodwillie Environmental School.

The following product description of the film appears on the Great Lakes Lifeways Institute website: "Two years in the making, this film will take you on an incredible emotional journey across culture and through time following an age old tradition, now threatened with disappearing forever. Through the voices of local Native elders and basket makers, we discover a story of family, the connectedness of life, the value of traditions, hope forthe future and a spirit of resilience in the face of change.

Please visit http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=v gpJwpzTDEk to view a trailer.

Important 2010 Census Infornation

The Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians (LTBB) encourages tribal citizens to participate in the United States Census 2010.

The information gathered is critical when justifying the tribal need when applying for federal funding. Provisions in the U.S. Constitution mandate the federal government conduct a census every 10 years, and the federal government is directed with counting the population of the United States. All responses are used for statistical purposes only and all are strictly confidential.

The LTBB Tribal Council approved Tribal Resolution #0122410-08 Request for Tribal Name Proclamation on the 2010 Census, Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Proclamation that the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Be Denoted as "LTBB" on the 2010 Census

On the U.S. Census 2010 forms, block number nine (#9) is critical to all Native Americans.

All LTBB Tribal Citizens should mark the box provided for American Indian or Alaskan Native; then print the letters "LTBB" in the boxes provided for the name of enrolled or principal tribe located beneath the American Indian or Alaskan Native

The Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians will have a census worker onsite in the Tribal Administration suite (located on the second floor of the LTBB Governmental Center) from Tuesday to Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to assist LTBB Tribal Citizens with completing their census documents.

From the Desk of the Tribal Chairman Ken Harrington

The Tribal Chairman and Vice Chairman have an open door policy. We are available for our tribal citizens on short notice for comments, concerns, complaints and compliments.

The Community Meeting will be held May 1, 2010 at Petoskey Middle School in Petoskey, MI. Cathy Portman was elected to preside over the meeting this year. The Executive Departments and Programs will be in attendance to answer tribal membership questions.

As an honorarium for the tribal citizens who are Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Chairman is in the process of forming a Task Force to work on a memorial for our Veterans of Foreign Wars. The veterans are honored in a display in downtown Petoskey. The Little River Band of Ottawa Indians honors its veterans with a permanent display of names in front of the walkway of its hotel. Our veterans deserve the honor of permanent recognition. If you are a tribal citizen and a veteran or a family member of a veteran interested in participating in this project, please contact our office at 231-242-1401.

The Asian Carp threat to the Great Lakes is a major issue and concern. I was invited by Senator Jason Allen as a guest speaker to testify on behalf of our tribe at the Senate Subcommittee in Lansing, MI. LTBB's stance is to close the manmade doorways from the inland waterways permanently. The speech is now on file in Lansing along with a resolution from the Chippewa Ottawa Resource Authority (CORA).

Ottawa Resource Authority (CORA).

Congressman Dave Camp's bill

HR4472 the "Asian Carp Act" closes all routes and prevents Asian Carp today. While at NCAI in Washington, D.C., I visited Senator Debbie Stabenow and Congressman Dave
Camp's office on the Asian Carp issue, reiterating the tribe's concerns and stance of "close the doors." The tribe will be updated regularly by Lansing and Washington, D.C. when testimonial hearings will take place in the future, so the tribe can continue to help prevent the invasion of the Asian Carp.

Recently, the Chairman established an Executive Order to have the Gaming Board of Directors (GBOD) finances moved to the tribal government.

In the past, the payables were processed at the casino. The account processing was moved to the governmental Accounting Department to ensure compliance and that proper checks and balances are in place.

The Tribal Chairman is not responsible for the Gaming Board of Directors' computers and phones being seized by tribal police. After the accounts were moved to the government side, financial issues arose, and it became apparent the budget was $20,000 over and overpayment of stipends became evident.

A tribal citizen filed an Ethics complaint on the GBOD, tribal police investigated, a warrant was issued, the tribal police acted on the warrant and seized the GBOD's phones and computers.

We currently have several Commissions, Boards and Committees openings. Odawa Casino Resort Gives Back to the Community

By Annette VanDeCar, Communications Coordinator

On February 6, 2010, Odawa Casino Resort hosted a dinner for the Wertz Warriors in Ovation Hall located inside Odawa Casino Resort in Petoskey, MI after they concluded their 900-mile, seven day, Snowmobile Endurance Ride earlier that day.

The 29th Annual Snowmobile Endurance Ride started on January 31, 2010 in Mt. Clemens, MI, and concluded in Petoskey on the aforementioned date. Along the way, the Wertz Warriors raised funds and awareness for Special Olympics Michigan (SOMI). They have raised more than $7,917,000 since 1982 to help fund the State Winter Games, which were held February 2-5, 2010 in Traverse City, MI.

In 2009, the Wertz Warriors and Special Olympics Michigan lost a friend and supporter in former Detroit Tigers pitcher Mark "The Bird" Fidrych. In celebration of his life, the 2010 State Winter Games were dedicated to him and a special video tribute was played during the Opening Ceremonies. To honor Fidrych at the dinner, a video tribute was shown and his wife, Ann, attended the dinner.

The Wertz Warriors is one man's dream transformed into reality. Vic Wertz, former Detroit Tiger great, had a dream to underwrite the costs of the Special Olympics Michigan State Winter Games. He enlisted many of his friends to assist him in this endeavor. Wertz and his newly founded Warriors considered a variety of ways to generate the money before completing their first Endurance Ride in 1982.

The Wertz Warriors are always looking for new members. If interested, please contact the Wertz Warriors at wertzwarriors@msn.com or 586-954-

For more information on the Wertz Warriors, please www.wertzwarriors.org.

Nine Odawa Casino Resort team members along with five family members of team members volunteered their time at the Great Lakes Burn Camp Luncheon held on February 13, 2010 at Challenge Mountain in Walloon Lake, MI.

The luncheon, catered and served by Odawa Casino Resort employees, fed the children in attendance at the Great Lakes Burn Camp. The Great Lakes Burn Camp based in Jackson, MI, is a special place for kids 7-17 to meet, heal, grow and support other burn survivors. Kids share their stories and bond with other kids in a comfortable, relaxed environment. Unconditional love and acceptance is only a part of what each camper receives at the camp. Campers from all over Michigan and northern Indiana come together to enjoy skiing, snowmobiling, sledding, tobogganing, ice skating, snow cat riding and other outdoor activities at Challenge Mountain.

The Odawa Casino Resort volunteers received Great Lakes Burn Camp long-sleeved t-shirts from camp organizers and were free to ski, snowboard and slide at Challenge Moun-

Challenge Mountain began as the dream of Darla Evans whose daughter, Christi, was confined to a wheelchair due to numerous birth defects. Evans took her daughter to the National Sports Center for Disabled in Winter Park, CO, where her daughter learned how to ski using adaptive equipment. The experience gave her daughter selfconfidence and self-esteem. Hal O'Leary, founder and recreation program director of the Winter Park facility, refused to accept payment from Evans. He instead elicited a promise from Evans that she would go back to Michigan and work to begin a similar program.

When she returned to Michigan, Evans approached northern Michigan area ski resorts with the idea of allowing her to recruit volunteers to help the physically challenged and mentally impaired learn to ski on their hills. Everett Kircher, founder of Boyne USA, let Evans try her ideas at Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls, MI.

In 1984, Challenge Mountain became a non-profit organization, and Boyne USA gave the organization the old Walloon Hills Ski Area that included 160 acres of land and an existing ski lodge.
