

LITTLE TRAVERSE BAY BANDS OF ODAWA INDIANS TRIBAL COURT
Chapter 3
Rules of Civil Procedure

By order of the Judiciary of the Little Traverse Bay Bands Tribal Court, these Rules of Civil Procedure are hereby established to govern all civil actions brought before the Courts of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians.

Rule I
SCOPE AND CONSTRUCTION

Section 1. Scope

Except when different rules are prescribe by statute, ordinance or order of the Court, these Rules shall govern the procedure and practice in trial and appellate courts of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians in all actions, suits, and proceedings of a civil nature, in all special proceedings established by law, and in criminal matters to the extent no different rule is specified.

Section 2. Construction

- (a) These Rules shall be liberally construed to secure a just, speedy and inexpensive determination of every action and proceeding. At every stage of the proceeding, the Court may disregard any technical error or defect or failure to comply with these Rules which does not affect the substantive rights of the parties, particularly those parties not represented by professional attorneys.
- (b) In some instances, these Rules may be similar to the Michigan Court Rules or the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. However, these Rules have many differences that reflect the unique policies and practical considerations of the LTBB Tribal Court. Therefore, users of these Rules are advised to read these Rules carefully. Furthermore, federal or state case law interpreting federal or state rules are not binding on Tribal Court and should not be assumed to apply.
- (c) Any practice or procedure not addressed in these Rules shall be conducted in conformance with the applicable Federal Rule of Civil Procedure unless to do so would produce an unfair or unjust result. The citation of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure herein shall not be deemed an action deferring to federal jurisdiction of any matter where such jurisdiction does not exist.

- (d) These Rules shall be known as the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Rules of Civil Procedure and should be cited in all submissions to the Court as LTBBRCP.

Section 3. Application of these Rules to Challenges of Election Results

- (a) For the purpose of these Rules, a “Challenge of Election Results” is a suit brought in the Court under Article XII. § F. of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Constitution.
- (b) The purpose of this Rule is to clarify the application of these Rules to a Challenge of Election Results. The procedure required by this Rule is intended to ensure compliance with all legal requirements for a Challenge of Election Results, including Article XII § F. of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Constitution, the Waganakising Odawa Statute § 3.111(D) and the Election Regulations of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, and the Due Process protections guaranteed by Article II. § 8 of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Constitution.
- (c) Within twenty (20) days of a Challenge of Election Results being filed, the Court must:
 - (i) hold a show cause hearing, in which the plaintiff must establish that the Challenge of Election Results is a claim upon which relief may be granted. In order to demonstrate this to the Court, the plaintiff must allege facts with sufficient specificity to demonstrate that the Challenge of Election Results is plausible on its face, not merely conceivable; and
 - (ii) determine the outcome of the show cause hearing.
- (d) If the Court holds that the plaintiff has established that the Challenge of Election Results is a claim upon which relief may be granted, the Challenge of Election Results must proceed to a final hearing within fourteen (14) days according to the following scheduling requirements:
 - (i) The plaintiff must file and serve any amended pleadings and requests for discovery within three (3) days of the show cause hearing;
 - (ii) The defendant must file and serve any amended pleadings and requests for discovery within three (3) days of being served with the plaintiff’s amended pleadings or, if the plaintiff does not file any amended pleadings or requests for discovery, within six (6) days of the show cause hearing;
 - (iii) All parties must file and serve witness and exhibit lists with the court at least five (5) days before the final hearing; and
 - (iv) All discovery must be completed by the final hearing.
- (e) Except in the most extreme circumstances, the Court must issue its final judgment within three (3) days of the final hearing.

- (f) For the avoidance of any doubt, if the Court holds that the plaintiff has not established that the Challenge of Election Results is a claim upon which relief may be granted, the Challenge of Election Results has failed and the determination of the outcome of the show cause hearing required by § 3(a)(ii) above is the final determination of the Challenge of Election Results. No motions for reconsideration may be filed.
- (g) The Court may not grant extensions of time in relation to any of the deadlines set out above for Challenges of Election Results under this Rule except under the most extreme circumstances, even if parties are in agreement on an extension.
- (h) The Court may not consider any interlocutory motions by any party in relation to Challenges of Election Results except at the show cause hearing required by § 3(c) above except under the most extreme circumstances, even if the parties are in agreement a motion should be heard or made by the Court.

- (a) An order is rendered when it is signed by the judge.
- (b) An order is entered when it is filed in the office of the clerk of court.

RULE IX PARTIES

Section 1. Real Party in Interest.

Every action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except a personal representative or other person in a fiduciary position can sue in his or her own name without joining the party for whose benefit the action is maintained.

Section 2. Suing by Fictitious Name or as Unknown; Partners' Names Unknown.

- (a) When the name or a part of the name of any defendant or respondent, or when any proper party defendant or respondent to an action to establish or enforce, redeem from or discharge a lien or claim to property is unknown to the plaintiff, such defendant or respondent may be designated a defendant or respondent by so much of the name as is known, or by a fictitious name, or as an unknown heir, representative, owner or person as the case may require, adding such description as may reasonably indicate the person intended. No person whose title to or interest in land appears of record or who is in actual occupancy of land shall be proceeded against as an unknown owner.
- (b) When the name of such defendant or respondent is ascertained, the process, pleadings, and all proceedings may be amended by an order directing the insertion of the true names instead of the designation previously employed.
- (c) In an action against a partnership, if the names of the partners are unknown to the plaintiff, all proceedings may be in the partnership name until the names of the partners are ascertained, whereupon the service of process, pleadings and all proceedings shall be amended by order directing the insertion of such names.

Section 3. Guardian Ad Litem.

When an infant, insane, or incompetent person is a party and has not had a guardian appointed, the Court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent such person in the suit or action.

Section 4. Joinder of Parties.

- (a) To the extent possible, all persons or parties interested in a particular action shall be joined in the action.

- (b) The failure to join a party over whom the Court has no jurisdiction will not require dismissal of the action unless it would be impossible to reach a just result without such party.
- (c) Where joinder of an interested person is not possible, the Court shall attempt to fashion a resolution so as to do the greatest justice possible under the circumstances.

Section 5. Substitution of Parties.

If a party dies or becomes incompetent or transfers his or her interest or separates from some official capacity, a substitute party may be joined or substituted as justice requires.

RULE X INTERVENTION

- (a) Upon motion the Court may permit anyone to intervene in an action when the movant claims an interest relating to the property or transaction which is the subject of the action and the movant is so situated that the disposition of the action may as a practical matter impair or impede the movant's ability to protect that interest, unless the movant's interest is adequately represented by existing parties.
- (b) Upon motion the Court may permit anyone to intervene in an action when a movant's claim or defense and the main action have a question of law or fact in common. When a party to an action relies for claim or defense upon any statute, ordinance or executive order or rule administered by a federal or tribal government officer or agency or upon any regulation, order, rule, requirement or agreement issued or made pursuant to the statute or executive order, the officer or agency upon timely motion may be permitted to intervene in the action.
- (c) A person desiring to intervene shall serve and file a motion to intervene upon the parties as provided in (a) and (b) above. The motion shall state the grounds for intervention and shall be accompanied by a pleading setting forth the claim or defense for which intervention is sought. The same procedure shall be followed when a statute gives a right to intervene.
- (d) Motions to intervene may be made at any time before the scheduled trial date. In exercising its discretion regarding motions to intervene, the Court shall consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the original parties. If a motion to intervene is granted, the Court may upon motion of a party or its own motion, delay the trial as fairness and justice may require.

RULE XI
INJUNCTIONS

- (a) No preliminary injunction shall be issued without notice to the adverse party.
- (b) No temporary personal protection order shall be granted without notice to the adverse party unless it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit or by the verified complaint that immediate and irreparable injury, loss, or damage will result to the applicant before notice can be served and a hearing thereon. Every temporary personal protection granted without notice shall:
 - (1) be endorsed with the date and hour of issuance;
 - (2) be filed forthwith in the clerk's office and entered of record;
 - (3) define the injury and state why it is irreparable and why the order was granted without notice;
 - (4) expire by its terms within such time after entry, not to exceed fourteen (14) days, as the Court fixes, unless within the time fixed the order, for good cause shown, is extended for a period or unless the party against whom the order is directed consents that it may be extended for a longer period. The reasons for the extension shall be entered of record.

In case a temporary personal protection order is granted without notice, the motion for a preliminary injunction shall be set down for hearing at the earliest possible time and takes precedence of all matters except older matters of the same character; and when the motion comes on for hearing the party who obtained the temporary order shall proceed with the application for preliminary injunction and, if she/he does not do so, the Court shall dissolve the temporary order. On fourteen (14) day's notice to the party who obtained the temporary order without notice or on such shorter notice to that party as the Court may prescribe, the adverse party may appear and move its dissolution or modification and in that event the Court shall proceed to hear and determine such motion as expeditiously as the ends of justice require.

- (c) Except as otherwise provided by law, no personal protection order or preliminary injunction shall issue except upon the giving of security by the applicant, in such sum as the Court deems proper, for the payment of such costs and damages as may be incurred or suffered by any party who is found to have been wrongfully enjoined or restrained. No such security shall be required of the United States, the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, or of an officer or agency of either; nor shall it be required of a married person in a suit against the other party to the marriage contract. Nothing in this section shall be construed to give the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians Tribal Court jurisdiction over the United States or its employees operating within the scope of their employment.

- (d) A surety upon a bond or undertaking under this Rule submits himself or herself to the jurisdiction of the Court and irrevocably appoints the Clerk or the Court as his or her agent upon whom any paper affecting his or her liability on the bond or undertaking may be served. His or her liability may be enforced on motion without the necessity of an independent action. The motion and such notice of the motion as the Court prescribes may be served on the Clerk of the Court who shall forthwith mail copies to the persons giving the security if their addresses are known.
- (e) Every order granting an injunction and every personal protection order shall be specific in terms; shall describe in reasonable detail, and not reference to the complaint or other document, the act or acts sought to be restrained; and is binding only upon the parties to the action, their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and upon those persons in active concert or participation with them who receive actual notice of the order by personal service or otherwise.
- (f) An injunction may be granted:
 - (1) when it appears by the pleadings on file that a party is entitled to the relief demanded, and such relief, or any part thereof, consists of restraining the commission or continuance of some act complained of, either for a limited period or perpetually;
 - (2) when it appears from the pleadings or by affidavit that the commission or continuance of some act during the litigation would produce irreparable injury to the party seeking injunctive relief;
 - (3) when it appears during the litigation that either party is doing or threatens, or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering to be done, some act in violation of the rights of another party respecting the subject matter of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual;
 - (4) in all other cases where an injunction would be proper in equity.

RULE XII EXTRAORDINARY WRITS

- (a) Where no other plain, speedy and adequate remedy exists, relief may be obtained by obtaining an extraordinary writ which may be granted for any one of the following grounds:

- (1) where any person usurps, intrudes into, or unlawfully holds or exercises a public office or does or permits to be done any act which by law works a forfeiture of his or her office; or
 - (2) where an inferior tribunal, board, or officer exercising judicial or ministerial functions has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion; or
 - (3) where the relief sought is to compel any inferior tribunal, board or person to perform an act which the law specially enjoins as a duty resulting from an office, trust or station; or to compel the admission of a party to the use and enjoyment of a right or office to which he or she is entitled and from which he or she is unlawfully excluded by such inferior tribunal, board or person; or
 - (4) Where the relief sought is to arrest the proceedings of any tribunal, board or person, whether exercising functions judicial or ministerial, when such proceedings are without or in excess of the jurisdiction of such tribunal, board or person.
- (b) No extraordinary writ may issue against the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, or tribal officer or official or any entity owned by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians in its governmental capacity absent an unequivocally expressed waiver of the Tribe's sovereign immunity from suit.

The trial judge may participate in settlement discussions to the extent that his or her impartiality at any eventual trial will not be affected.
- (c) At his or her discretion, the trial judge may, at the request of a party or on his or her own motion, provide for the use of formal discovery. - (a) Prior to the responsive pleading of a party against whom a claim has been made or motion to dismiss or for summary judgment of such claim, the party making the claim may file a notice of dismissal and his or her claim shall be deemed dismissed without prejudice. In all other circumstances a party may move the Court to dismiss his or her own claim and the Court shall do so either with or without prejudice as is just and proper given the stage of the proceedings, provided, however, if a cross claim or counterclaim has been filed against the moving party, the judge shall dismiss the claim only with the consent of the adverse party or only if it appears that the other party can prosecute his or her claim independently without undue additional hardship.
- (b) A party against whom a claim has been made may move the Court to dismiss the claim of the adverse party upon any of the following grounds:
- (1) lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter; or
 - (2) lack of jurisdiction over the person; or
 - (3) insufficiency of process; or
 - (4) insufficiency of service of process; or
 - (5) failure to join a party pursuant to Rule IX; or
 - (6) failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

Such dismissal shall be deemed an adjudication of the merits of the issue dismissed unless the Court shall, for good cause shown, order otherwise. The Court may postpone ruling on a motion to dismiss for failure to establish a right to any relief until the close of all the evidence.

If, on a motion asserting the defense numbered (6) to dismiss for failure of the pleading to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, matters outside the pleading are presented to and not excluded by the Court, the motion shall be treated as one for summary disposition and disposed of as provided in Rule, and all parties shall be given reasonable opportunity to present all material made pertinent to such a motion by Rule .

The Court may order a moving party to dismiss his or her own claim to pay the costs of the adverse party if the proceeding has progressed beyond the pleading state, and may order payment of costs in other circumstances where such is deemed appropriate.

RULE XVII SUMMARY
DISPOSITION

Any time twenty-one (21) days after commencement of an action, any party may move the Court for summary disposition as to any or all of the issues presented in the case and such shall be granted by the Court if it appears that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Scheduling and briefing of such motions shall be governed by Rule XIII.

Section 7. Harmless Error Rule Applicable to All Court Rulings.

No error in either the admission or the exclusion of evidence, and on error or defect in any ruling or order in anything done or omitted by the Court or by any of the parties, is ground for granting a new trial or otherwise disturbing a judgment or order, unless refusal to take such action appears to the Court inconsistent with substantial justice. The Court at every stage of the proceeding shall disregard any error or defect in the proceeding which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Section 8. Open Court Proceedings.

All trials and all hearings at which oral testimony is to be presented shall be held in open court unless the matter is deemed by statute, ordinance, or court order to be confidential.

Section 10. Use of Copies of Pleadings and Other Papers.

- (f) Official documents or an official law, record, or copy thereof may be admitted into evidence upon the testimony of an official having custody of official knowledge thereof or without such testimony if the document or record or copy thereof is accompanied by a certificate identifying such thing and stating that it is a true and correct representation of what it purports to be.
- (g) In an action tried to a jury, excluded evidence may, upon request, be included in the record for purposes of appeal and excluded oral testimony shall be put into evidence by means of an offer of proof made out of the hearing of the jury. In an action tried only to the Court, the judge may receive such excluded testimony into the record.

A continuance may be requested by any party or it may be granted upon the Court's own motion. Procedures for any continuance of trial shall be the same as those used during the trial where practicable. The trial judge may limit the nature of the factual matters to which testimony is to be addressed during a continuance of trial.

RULE XXII

Section 4. Attorney's or Advocate's Fees.

The Court shall award attorney's or advocate's fees in a case where such has been specifically provided by contract or agreement of the parties under dispute, unless it has been clearly and convincingly shown that the case has been prosecuted in bad faith for purposes of harassment only, and that there was no reasonable expectation of success on the part of the affirmatively claiming party. Failure of the judgment debtor to appear may be deemed a contempt of court and the Court may proceed without such appearance. Only property of the judgment debtor may be subject to execution and not property of his or her family.

Section 4. Redemption from Sale.

At any time within one hundred and eighty-two (182) days after a sale under this Rule, the judgment debtor may redeem his or her property from the purchaser thereof by paying the amount such purchaser paid for the property plus eight percent (8%) interest, and plus any expenses actually incurred by the purchaser, such as taxes and insurance, to maintain the property.
